$165,000 in Bonds Voted By Supervisors to Repair Flooded Bridges, Roads

New Fund Is Created to Aid Disabled Persons; State, Federal Help Is Included in Plan

$168,000 for Roads

Light Asked for Blind Curve on Bridge at Esopus Creek

Bond issues totaling $165,000 were voted Friday evening by the board of supervisors in special session to meet the cost of construction of bridges and highways damaged by the November flood. Pending sale of the bonds issue the county will borrow the money on bond anticipation notes.

One issue will be for $40,000 in serial bonds to meet the cost of construction and reconstruction of bridges in the towns of Olive, Shandaken, Hardenbergh and Woodstock.

The other bonds issue will be for $125,000 to repair and reconstruct highways damaged by the flood.

On application of the Commissioner of Public Welfare the board created a new fund to be known as the Aid to Disabled Fund and which will be administered by the County Welfare Department. This fund will be used to care for disabled persons and is reimbursable up to 80 per cent by state and federal assistance. Relief is now reimbursable up to 80 per cent of the cost but the new fund will receive a portion of the reimbursement from a federal fund which will go to the state to reduce the state's share of the cost. This fund, among other purposes, will be used to pay for hospitalization for those on home relief and also for aid to dependent children hospital cases. There will be no additional reimbursement to the county by reason of the new fund but it will permit the state to participate in federal funds under a new federal category.

The fund was set up at $80,000 of which $8,000 was transferred from the Home Relief Fund; $8,000 additional was appropriated and the balance of the fund, $64,000 will be from state reimbursement, with federal aid.

$1,600 More for Rabies

An additional $1,600 was appropriated for rabies control at the request of the Health Department. This is in addition to the original $6,000 appropriated. Additional funds were needed in order that a new type serum may be used to innoculate dogs as immunization against rabies. A new serum known as live chick embrios has been found to be of great value. Experiments made indicate the serum is of longer lasting quality than that used in the past. Tests made indicate that the serum will immunize dogs against rabies for two years and perhaps for life. Tests made up to the present time at control stations show immunization lasting two years, the period which the serum has been in use. Use of the serum is slightly more expensive and it is more difficult to administer. The old serum was placed under the skin of the animal and the new serum must be injected in the muscle of the animal.

The board renewed for another year the Tumor Clinic contract by which the state will pay 50 per cent of the deficit up to a certain amount.

A petty cash fund of $100 was set up for the County Clerk's Office at the request of County Clerk Sutton. This is established in order that small bills may be paid for in cash when contracted.

Raise to Trainmen Ends Long Dispute

33, 18½ Cent Boosts Are Granted; Three Other Unions at Odds

Washington, May 26 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the nation's major railroads have settled their bitter two-year-old wage dispute. Three other rail unions remain at outs with the carriers.

The trainment, headed by W. P. Kennedy, settled last night for a 33-cent hourly increase for yardmen and 18½ cents for those in road service, effective at various dates back to last Oct. 1.

Spokesmen for both sides said they were sure that Wage Stabilization Board approval was unnecessary because the terms had been agreed in general last Dec. 21, some 30 days before the government froze wages.

The increases, announced in a joint union-railway statement, amount to $2.64 a day for yardmen and $1.48 a day for roadmen. They include the 12½-cent raise for yardmen and five cents for roadmen previously announced, and retroactive to Oct. 1. These were authorized by the army.

Carriers estimated the cost of the over-all wage increases at $97,000,000 a year.

In addition to the wage provisions, the settlement calls for a 40-hour week to be established in principle for yardmen. However, both the union and the railroads have agreed under present emergency conditions to defer that until Jan. 1, 1952.

When the 40-hour week becomes effective, the yardmen are to receive an additional four cents an hour increase.

The agreement also calls for wage adjustments geared to the government's cost of living index. From a base of 178, wages will go up or down one cent an hour for each one point change in the index.

As a result of the agreement, the announcement said, there will be a three-year moratorium on proposals for changes in wages and rules governing working conditions from Oct., 1950.

Ex-City Hall Custodian Struck on Way Home From TV Show

Lewis M. Sharp, 78, retired city hall custodian, died when he was struck by an automobile late Friday night as he was crossing Albany avenue extension on his way to his Guyton street home.

Sharp, who retired October 15, 1948, after nearly 15 years as janitor at the Kingston City Hall, was dead when a W. N. Conner ambulance arrived on the scene within minutes after the accident occurred, state police reported.

J. H. Bugden Not Held

Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, who investigated with Trooper M. Lisman of the Lake Katrine state police station, said Sharp was struck by an automobile driven by James H. Bugden, 35, manager of the Kingston branch of Aird-Don Company at 74 TenBroeck avenue. Bugden's home address was listed on a police report as 20 Stone Hedge Land, Albany.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn and Coroner Kelly joined state police in the investigation of the accident.

According to a Kingston police department report, Bugden reported the accident in person to Kingston Hospital, and a nurse there relayed the report to local police at 12:01 a. m. today. Police notified troopers, who questioned Bugden, but did not hold him.

Bugden told troopers he reported the accident to persons at the Lincoln Park Inn, directly opposite the scene of the accident, and then proceded to the hospital, according to Sgt. Reilly.

New Chevrolet Building Is To Be Opened Next Week

The grand opening of the Bev. Anderson Chevrolet, Inc., new salesroom and garage at 731 Broadway will be celebrated June 1 and 2.

Ceremonies Friday morning at 11 a. m. will be held with Chevrolet, General Motors and other executives attending. City and county officials have also been invited, according to B. C. Anderson, president. The proceeds will be broadcast over Radio Station WKNY at 8 p. m.

The new garage and showroom features many of the latest advances in garage design and equipment, including a ventilating device said to be capable of keeping the large show windows free of steam throughout the winter. A special six-hose lubrication station in which the hoses roll out of the way overhead when not in use is another feature of the building.

Special carbon monoxide vents are built into the floor, with hoses which are pulled from trap doors and affixed to the automobile's exhaust pipe whenever it is necessary to run a motor inside the garage. This, according to Anderson, will do away with what is perhaps the leading cause of sickness and headaches for mechanics and other maintenance personnel.

Designed by Experts

The entire building was built according to a floor plan worked out by General Motors experts in Detroit, incorporating several features thought desirable by Anderson based upon his experience in the business. Using these floor plans as a guide, the building was designed by Albert E. Milliken, local architect.

Democrats Get Stronger in West

Denver, May 26 (AP)—Democrats gave the west a stronger voice in the choice at Chicago of their 1952 presidential candidate as they challenged the Republicans today on foreign policy.

A reapportionment of delegates, approved by the party's National Committee in a one-day session here yesterday, gave California 14 additional votes out of the 1,230 to be represented in the nominating convention the week of July 21, 1952.

Other states with gains included Colorado, Florida, Iowa, Ohio, Wisconsin and Wyoming, four each, and Texas, Virginia and Washington two each.

Based on population changes, and 1948 election results, these added votes will be offset by losses in states which failed to return majorities to President Truman in 1948 and thus lost their "bonus" of four delegates each. States which lost in the 1950 population census were not penalized by the committee's decision.

Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania and South Carolina each lost four delegates. Maryland and Michigan lost two votes each.

Collegians Taking Tests to Determine Status in Draft

Mass Examination Given to Tell Whether It's School or Armed Forces

New York, May 26 (AP)—Thousands of college students shuffled into classrooms today for examinations which can determine whether they stay in school or get drafted into the armed forces.

"This is worse than semester finals," remarked one worriedly frowning sophomore.

Proctors—usually teachers assigned to the job—stood watch at strategic posts in the hundreds of classrooms on the east coast as the students began jotting their answers to the 150 test questions.

More than 1,000 centers across the nation are being used for the mass examination.

To be admitted to the examination rooms, students had to turn in special cards issued by their draft boards on the basis of their applications for college deferment.

Each student was assigned a seat, at least one seat removed from his neighbor. His left thumb print was placed on his answer sheet. He was given a special pencil to be used on the sheet which will be graded by an electric scoring machine.

Newsreel and television cameras hummed at some examination places. At DeWitt Clinton High School, where 1,520 college students began taking the tests in 60 classrooms, a practicing band blared in an upstairs room.

The exam lasts three hours.

Reds Continue to Fall Back; UN Troops Forge Ahead on All Fronts, Doughboys Cross 38th

Progress Reported OnH-Bomb

Washington, May 26 (AP)—The United States may have gained a wide new lead in the race for supremacy in nuclear weapons. But the question is: How long can it be held?

The lead—indicated yesterday in a terse announcement of secret experiments completed recently at Eniwetok—depends in great measure on whether the atomic secrecy system is better than it was five years ago.

The announcement indicated U. S. scientists may have found the atomic "trigger" that will fire superpowerful hydrogen bombs.

In the summer of 1946 Soviet espionage agents gained key information on the making of atomic bombs. By official American estimates, Russia then gained a year and a half of time in her hitherto slow search for the atomic secret. She produced an atomic explosion in the summer of 1949.

The American government apparently thinks its security of nuclear secrets has improved. The joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Commission, in a recent report, commented that the atomic counter-espionage system has not been pierced since the 1946 break.

Wants World to Know

But for some reason (perhaps international psychology) the U.S. now appears to want the world to know it is making progress toward production of a hydrogen bomb which could be a thousand times more powerful than atomic bombs.

The joint announcement yesterday by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department didn't spell out the words "hydrogen bomb." But it mentioned "experiments contributing to the thermonuclear weapons research," in saying the latest tests on Eniwetok Island had been "successfully carried out." The H-bomb is such a weapon.

That could be a hint that by actual field test—using a relatively small quantity of hydrogen material, like tritium, together with a conventional atomic bomb of plutonium or uranium—the weaponeers have learned how to touch off an H-bomb.

The announcement said that "information obtained from research on nuclear detonations, the major purpose of tests, is secret."

Says They're Ready

This left unanswered the question of whether the Eniwetok series included tests of projectiles with atomic warheads which could be fired from big, long range mortars or launching racks against an enemy in the battlefield. Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) said earlier this week that atomic weapons for tactical use are ready.

But the announcement did refer to blast and heat tests against structures, airplanes and other items. And, though it said this program had been completed, it suggested further experiments in the Marshall Island Proving Ground are in the offing. It said the proving ground and the area around it will remain closed.

Teen-Agers Held In Store Robbery

Father of One Co-Owner of Business; $1,000 Bail Is Set

White Plains, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—Six Mount Vernon, N. Y., teenagers, including a girl, have been arrested in the $2,400 robbery of a Bronxville drugstore, co-owned by the father of one of the boys, police said.

Each of the six were held in $1,000 bail yesterday in Weschester County Court. A seventh member of the gang was turned over to Children's Court.

Police said the youngsters took $400 worth of movie film in addition to the cash in the Wednesday night robbery.

Detective Walter Deeley said that Clive L. Wise, 17, (of 154 Parkway South), admitted masterminding the plot. Wise's father, Frederick, is co-owner of the drug-store at 52 Pondfield road.

The youngsters, police said, occupied clerks in the drug store with soda, tobacco and prescription orders while Wise made the haul in the backroom. The girl, Hazel Franklin, 17, (of 111 South 9th avenue), maintained a lookout from a rest-room, police said.

Others were identified by police as Stephen M. Press, 16, (290 East Sidney avenue), David M. Waxman, 16, (317 So. 2nd avenue), Theodore I. Strauss, 16, (180 E. 3rd street), and Robert Michaels, 166, (40 W. 5th street).

Folding Helicopter

Washington, May 26 (AP) — The army has on order a little jet-powered helicopter that folds up in a jeep like a day bed in a wall. According to plans, two men, using ordinary tools, will be able to stow the little hover scout in a jeep. Two tiny jet engines, one attached to each rotor of the plane, wil power it. It will carry only its pilot and a radio.

Whitney Contradicts General Was Asked Not to Send His Troops to Yalu

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the army chief of staff, returned to the witness stand in the Senate's MacArthur inquiry today.

The silver-haired general was beginning his second day of testimony at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committee on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Collins arrived a few minutes early for the hearing and sat chatting with Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) until the doors of the hearing room were closed.

Knowland and Collins had had a lengthy and warm exchange yesterday over Collins' criticism of MacArthur's dispatch of non-Korean troops to the Yalu river last November.

Collins said MacArthur acted contrary to established policy in sending U. S. forces close to Russia and Red China. He also said MacArthur rejected a suggestion from the joint chiefs that he halt United Nations forces some five miles south of the Manchurian border.

Whitney Contradicts

This was contradicted last night in New York by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief aide. Whitney said MacArthur was never restrained directly or indirectly from sending troops to the Yalu river.

Collins did not accuse MacArthur of "blatant disregard of orders."

Senator Knowland (R.-Calif.) said today he felt General Douglas MacArthur had no other choice when he used any troops available to him in his drive to the Manchurian border.

But Senator Sparkman (D.-Ala.) said there was a strong feeling in the United Nations, with which he concurred, that use of non-Asiatic troops in Far North Korea was likely to stir up trouble.

50 Million Paid for World's Tallest Structure in New York

New York, May 26 (AP)—The Empire State Building—tallest in the world and 20 years old this month—will change ownership at a reported price of $50,000,000.

A multi-million dollar syndicate announced yesterday that a contract has been signed for purchase of the 102-story structure. A spokesman for the group said the deal will be closed near the end of the year.

The syndicate is headed by Roger L. Stevens, and Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., Detroit real estate men, and Ben Tobin, Hollywood Beach, Fla., hotel owner.

The Empire State Building was opened May 1, 1931, when President Herbert Hoover pressed a button in the White House to switch on the lights in the skyscraper. The structure occupies the old site of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 34th street and Fifth avenue.

Most of the stock in the huge building is held by the estate of the late financier, John J. Raskob, who died last fall. The late Gov. Alfred E. Smith was president of the firm which erected the Empire State. Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum now is president of Empire State, Inc.

The building—1,472 feet high with 2,000,000 square feet of rentable office space—has been called the most profitable single office building in the world. It has been fully rented for the past several years, with a sizeable waiting list for occupancy.

A spokesman for the Raskob estate said a portion of the sale proceeds will be used for inheritance taxes on the estate and to endow a foundation dedicated to Catholic charity.

The assessed valuation of the building, for taxation purposes, is $34,500,000. It was built at a cost of about $50,000,000.

Yank, French Infantry Open Supply Route in East-Central Sector to Help Allies

Commies Are Quitting or Fleeing in Large Numbers, Is Report

Tokyo, May 26 (AP)—United Nations troops today forged a second foothold in Red Korea and bolstered their original bridgehead in Communist territory.

The Reds continued to fall back all along the front.

U. S. doughboys rammed up the main central Korean highway northwest of captured Chunchon in a pouring rain and rolled about two miles beyond the 38th Parallel.

Red opposition was light as the infantry column stabbed within six miles of Hwachon, a former key Chinese bastion eight miles north of the pre-war palitical boundary.

To the east, American and French troops smashed through Chinese screening forces and swept up the Hongchon-Inje road. The thrust opened a direct supply route to the allied bridgehead across the Choyang river on the east-central front.

Suicidal Trap

The link-up with the bridgehead tightened the trap on suicidal Chinese fighting rearguard actions to keep open a six-mile escape route in the mountains near the road.

The American French linkup column knocked out Red resistance along the important Hongchon-Inje road. The infantrymen captured six important hills commanding the route.

A U. S. task force reached Inje and South Korean forces to the east were reported to have occupied Yangyang, six miles north of the 38th Parallel on the east coast.

Fast-moving allied units knifed across the Parallel at several points on the east-central and eastern fronts Saturday. They advanced against almost no opposition from Chinese who, an officer said, surrendered "in numbers."

U. S. marines took "many" prisoners who refused to fight.

No estimate has been made of the number of captured Chinese.

More Prisoners

Collegians Taking Tests to Determine Status in Draft

Mass Examination Given to Tell Whether It's School or Armed Forces

New York, May 26 (AP)—Thousands of college students shuffled into classrooms today for examinations which can determine whether they stay in school or get drafted into the armed forces.

"This is worse than semester finals," remarked one worriedly frowning sophomore.

Proctors—usually teachers assigned to the job—stood watch at strategic posts in the hundreds of classrooms on the east coast as the students began jotting their answers to the 150 test questions.

More than 1,000 centers across the nation are being used for the mass examination.

To be admitted to the examination rooms, students had to turn in special cards issued by their draft boards on the basis of their applications for college deferment.

Each student was assigned a seat, at least one seat removed from his neighbor. His left thumb print was placed on his answer sheet. He was given a special pencil to be used on the sheet which will be graded by an electric scoring machine.

Newsreel and television cameras hummed at some examination places. At DeWitt Clinton High School, where 1,520 college students began taking the tests in 60 classrooms, a practicing band blared in an upstairs room.

The exam lasts three hours.

Tokyo, May 26 (AP)—United Nations troops today forged a second foothold in Red Korea and bolstered their original bridgehead in Communist territory.

The Reds continued to fall back all along the front.

U. S. doughboys rammed up the main central Korean highway northwest of captured Chunchon in a pouring rain and rolled about two miles beyond the 38th Parallel.

Red opposition was light as the infantry column stabbed within six miles of Hwachon, a former key Chinese bastion eight miles north of the pre-war palitical boundary.

To the east, American and French troops smashed through Chinese screening forces and swept up the Hongchon-Inje road. The thrust opened a direct supply route to the allied bridgehead across the Choyang river on the east-central front.

Suicidal Trap

The link-up with the bridgehead tightened the trap on suicidal Chinese fighting rearguard actions to keep open a six-mile escape route in the mountains near the road.

The American French linkup column knocked out Red resistance along the important Hongchon-Inje road. The infantrymen captured six important hills commanding the route.

A U. S. task force reached Inje and South Korean forces to the east were reported to have occupied Yangyang, six miles north of the 38th Parallel on the east coast.

Fast-moving allied units knifed across the Parallel at several points on the east-central and eastern fronts Saturday. They advanced against almost no opposition from Chinese who, an officer said, surrendered "in numbers."

U. S. marines took "many" prisoners who refused to fight.

Barn Is to Reopen Tuesday; Repairs Made After Flood

The Barn, nightclub and restau rant on the Onteora Trail ju outside Kingston, will re-ope Tuesday, May 29, it was an nounced today by Robert E. Tee sel, proprietor. The nightspot ha been closed since March 31, whe it suffered severe damage fro the floodwaters of the Esopu creek.

The dining room and danc floor of the establishment is th only section that will not b opened on Tuesday. Teetsel plan however, to erect a safety rop inside the dining room door, s that patrons may see that water-damaged room.

The entrance hall, taproom checkroom, kitchen and ladies' and men's rooms have been completely renovated. Everything that could be salvaged from the building was used in the renovation project, but much additional material had to be purchased.

New flooring throughout the sections to be opened by Tuesday has been installed, as well as a new ceiling in the taproom and a new lighting system. All the rooms to be opened have been completely re-painted.

Will Be Marine Room

The taproom will henceforth be known as the Marine Room. The ceiling is done in a sky blue, and walls in bright navy blue. Benches and trim in a maroon color.

Progress Reported On H-Bomb

Washington, May 26 (AP)—The United States may have gained a wide new lead in the race for supremacy in nuclear weapons. But the question is: How long can it be held?

The lead—indicated yesterday in a terse announcement of secret experiments completed recently at Eniwetok—depends in great measure on whether the atomic secrecy system is better than it was five years ago.

The announcement indicated U. S. scientists may have found the atomic "trigger" that will fire superpowerful hydrogen bombs.

In the summer of 1946 Soviet espionage agents gained key information on the making of atomic bombs. By official American estimates, Russia then gained a year and a half of time in her hitherto slow search for the atomic secret. She produced an atomic explosion in the summer of 1949.

The American government apparently thinks its security of nuclear secrets has improved. The joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Commission, in a recent report, commented that the atomic counter-espionage system has not been pierced since the 1946 break.

Wants World to Know

But for some reason (perhaps international psychology) the U.S. now appears to want the world to know it is making progress toward production of a hydrogen bomb which could be a thousand times more powerful than atomic bombs.

The joint announcement yesterday by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department didn't spell out the words "hydrogen bomb." But it mentioned "experiments contributing to the thermonuclear weapons research," in saying the latest tests on Eniwetok Island had been "successfully carried out." The H-bomb is such a weapon.

That could be a hint that by actual field test—using a relatively small quantity of hydrogen material, like tritium, together with a conventional atomic bomb of plutonium or uranium—the weaponeers have learned how to touch off an H-bomb.

The announcement said that "information obtained from research on nuclear detonations, the major purpose of tests, is secret."

Says They're Ready

This left unanswered the question of whether the Eniwetok series included tests of projectiles with atomic warheads which could be fired from big, long range mortars or launching racks against an enemy in the battlefield. Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) said earlier this week that atomic weapons for tactical use are ready.

But the announcement did refer to blast and heat tests against structures, airplanes and other items. And, though it said this program had been completed, it suggested further experiments in the Marshall Island Proving Ground are in the offing. It said the proving ground and the area around it will remain closed.

Collins Says MacArthur Rejected Chiefs' Suggestion

Whitney Contradicts General Was Asked Not to Send His Troops to Yalu

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the army chief of staff, returned to the witness stand in the Senate's MacArthur inquiry today.

The silver-haired general was beginning his second day of testimony at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committee on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Collins arrived a few minutes early for the hearing and sat chatting with Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) until the doors of the hearing room were closed.

Knowland and Collins had had a lengthy and warm exchange yesterday over Collins' criticism of MacArthur's dispatch of non-Korean troops to the Yalu river last November.

Collins said MacArthur acted contrary to established policy in sending U. S. forces close to Russia and Red China. He also said MacArthur rejected a suggestion from the joint chiefs that he halt United Nations forces some five miles south of the Manchurian border.

Whitney Contradicts

This was contradicted last night in New York by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief aide. Whitney said MacArthur was never restrained directly or indirectly from sending troops to the Yalu river.

Collins did not accuse MacArthur of "blatant disregard of orders."

Senator Knowland (R.-Calif.) said today he felt General Douglas MacArthur had no other choice when he used any troops available to him in his drive to the Manchurian border.

But Senator Sparkman (D.-Ala.) said there was a strong feeling in the United Nations, with which he concurred, that use of non-Asiatic troops in Far North Korea was likely to stir up trouble.

Father of One Co-Owner of Business; $1,000 Bail Is Set

White Plains, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—Six Mount Vernon, N. Y., teen-agers, including a girl, have been arrested in the $2,400 robbery of a Bronxville drugstore, co-owned by the father of one of the boys, police said.

Each of the six were held in $1,000 bail yesterday in Weschester County Court. A seventh member of the gang was turned over to Children's Court.

Police said the youngsters took $400 worth of movie film in addition to the cash in the Wednesday night robbery.

Detective Walter Deeley said that Clive L. Wise, 17, (of 154 Parkway South), admitted masterminding the plot. Wise's father, Frederick, is co-owner of the drug-store at 52 Pondfield road.

The youngsters, police said, occupied clerks in the drug store with soda, tobacco and prescription orders while Wise made the haul in the backroom. The girl, Hazel Franklin, 17, (of 111 South 9th avenue), maintained a lookout from a rest-room, police said.

Others were identified by police as Stephen M. Press, 16, (290 East Sidney avenue), David M. Waxman, 16, (317 So. 2nd avenue), Theodore I. Strauss, 16, (180 E. 3rd street), and Robert Michaels, 166, (40 W. 5th street).

50 Million Paid for World's Tallest Structure in New York

New York, May 26 (AP)—The Empire State Building—tallest in the world and 20 years old this month—will change ownership at a reported price of $50,000,000.

A multi-million dollar syndicate announced yesterday that a contract has been signed for purchase of the 102-story structure. A spokesman for the group said the deal will be closed near the end of the year.

The syndicate is headed by Roger L. Stevens, and Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., Detroit real estate men, and Ben Tobin, Hollywood Beach, Fla., hotel owner.

The Empire State Building was opened May 1, 1931, when President Herbert Hoover pressed a button in the White House to switch on the lights in the skyscraper. The structure occupies the old site of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 34th street and Fifth avenue.

Most of the stock in the huge building is held by the estate of the late financier, John J. Raskob, who died last fall. The late Gov. Alfred E. Smith was president of the firm which erected the Empire State. Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum now is president of Empire State, Inc.

The building—1,472 feet high with 2,000,000 square feet of rentable office space—has been called the most profitable single office building in the world. It has been fully rented for the past several years, with a sizeable waiting list for occupancy.

A spokesman for the Raskob estate said a portion of the sale proceeds will be used for inheritance taxes on the estate and to endow a foundation dedicated to Catholic charity.

The assessed valuation of the building, for taxation purposes, is $34,500,000. It was built at a cost of about $50,000,000.

$165,000 in Bonds Voted By Supervisors to Repair Flooded Bridges, Roads

New Fund Is Created to Aid Disabled Persons; State, Federal Help Is Included in Plan

$168,000 for Roads

Light Asked for Blind Curve on Bridge at Esopus Creek

Bond issues totaling $165,000 were voted Friday evening by the board of supervisors in special session to meet the cost of construction of bridges and highways damaged by the November flood. Pending sale of the bonds issue the county will borrow the money on bond anticipation notes.

One issue will be for $40,000 in serial bonds to meet the cost of construction and reconstruction of bridges in the towns of Olive, Shandaken, Hardenbergh and Woodstock.

The other bonds issue will be for $125,000 to repair and reconstruct highways damaged by the flood.

On application of the Commissioner of Public Welfare the board created a new fund to be known as the Aid to Disabled Fund and which will be administered by the County Welfare Department. This fund will be used to care for disabled persons and is reimbursable up to 80 per cent by state and federal assistance. Relief is now reimbursable up to 80 per cent of the cost but the new fund will receive a portion of the reimbursement from a federal fund which will go to the state to reduce the state's share of the cost. This fund, among other purposes, will be used to pay for hospitalization for those on home relief and also for aid to dependent children hospital cases. There will be no additional reimbursement to the county by reason of the new fund but it will permit the state to participate in federal funds under a new federal category.

The fund was set up at $80,000 of which $8,000 was transferred from the Home Relief Fund; $8,000 additional was appropriated and the balance of the fund, $64,000 will be from state reimbursement, with federal aid.

$1,600 More for Rabies

An additional $1,600 was appropriated for rabies control at the request of the Health Department. This is in addition to the original $6,000 appropriated. Additional funds were needed in order that a new type serum may be used to innoculate dogs as immunization against rabies. A new serum known as live chick embrios has been found to be of great value. Experiments made indicate the serum is of longer lasting quality than that used in the past. Tests made indicate that the serum will immunize dogs against rabies for two years and perhaps for life. Tests made up to the present time at control stations show immunization lasting two years, the period which the serum has been in use. Use of the serum is slightly more expensive and it is more difficult to administer. The old serum was placed under the skin of the animal and the new serum must be injected in the muscle of the animal.

The board renewed for another year the Tumor Clinic contract by which the state will pay 50 per cent of the deficit up to a certain amount.

A petty cash fund of $100 was set up for the County Clerk's Office at the request of County Clerk Sutton. This is established in order that small bills may be paid for in cash when contracted.

Lewis M. Sharp, 78, Dies In Car Mishap Friday Night

Ex-City Hall Custodian Struck on Way Home From TV Show

Lewis M. Sharp, 78, retired city hall custodian, died when he was struck by an automobile late Friday night as he was crossing Albany avenue extension on his way to his Guyton street home.

Sharp, who retired October 15, 1948, after nearly 15 years as janitor at the Kingston City Hall, was dead when a W. N. Conner ambulance arrived on the scene within minutes after the accident occurred, state police reported.

J. H. Bugden Not Held

Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, who investigated with Trooper M. Lisman of the Lake Katrine state police station, said Sharp was struck by an automobile driven by James H. Bugden, 35, manager of the Kingston branch of Aird-Don Company at 74 TenBroeck avenue. Bugden's home address was listed on a police report as 20 Stone Hedge Land, Albany.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn and Coroner Kelly joined state police in the investigation of the accident.

According to a Kingston police department report, Bugden reported the accident in person to Kingston Hospital, and a nurse there relayed the report to local police at 12:01 a. m. today. Police notified troopers, who questioned Bugden, but did not hold him.

Bugden told troopers he reported the accident to persons at the Lincoln Park Inn, directly opposite the scene of the accident, and then proceded to the hospital, according to Sgt. Reilly.

Raise to Trainmen Ends Long Dispute

33, 18½ Cent Boosts Are Granted; Three Other Unions at Odds

Washington, May 26 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the nation's major railroads have settled their bitter two-year-old wage dispute. Three other rail unions remain at outs with the carriers.

The trainment, headed by W. P. Kennedy, settled last night for a 33-cent hourly increase for yardmen and 18½ cents for those in road service, effective at various dates back to last Oct. 1.

Spokesmen for both sides said they were sure that Wage Stabilization Board approval was unnecessary because the terms had been agreed in general last Dec. 21, some 30 days before the government froze wages.

The increases, announced in a joint union-railway statement, amount to $2.64 a day for yardmen and $1.48 a day for roadmen. They include the 12½-cent raise for yardmen and five cents for roadmen previously announced, and retroactive to Oct. 1. These were authorized by the army.

Carriers estimated the cost of the over-all wage increases at $97,000,000 a year.

In addition to the wage provisions, the settlement calls for a 40-hour week to be established in principle for yardmen. However, both the union and the railroads have agreed under present emergency conditions to defer that until Jan. 1, 1952.

When the 40-hour week becomes effective, the yardmen are to receive an additional four cents an hour increase.

The agreement also calls for wage adjustments geared to the government's cost of living index. From a base of 178, wages will go up or down one cent an hour for each one point change in the index.

As a result of the agreement, the announcement said, there will be a three-year moratorium on proposals for changes in wages and rules governing working conditions from Oct., 1950.

New Chevrolet Building Is To Be Opened Next Week

The grand opening of the Bev. Anderson Chevrolet, Inc., new salesroom and garage at 731 Broadway will be celebrated June 1 and 2.

Ceremonies Friday morning at 11 a. m. will be held with Chevrolet, General Motors and other executives attending. City and county officials have also been invited, according to B. C. Anderson, president. The proceeds will be broadcast over Radio Station WKNY at 8 p. m.

The new garage and showroom features many of the latest advances in garage design and equipment, including a ventilating device said to be capable of keeping the large show windows free of steam throughout the winter. A special six-hose lubrication station in which the hoses roll out of the way overhead when not in use is another feature of the building.

Special carbon monoxide vents are built into the floor, with hoses which are pulled from trap doors and affixed to the automobile's exhaust pipe whenever it is necessary to run a motor inside the garage. This, according to Anderson, will do away with what is perhaps the leading cause of sickness and headaches for mechanics and other maintenance personnel.

Designed by Experts

The entire building was built according to a floor plan worked out by General Motors experts in Detroit, incorporating several features thought desirable by Anderson based upon his experience in the business. Using these floor plans as a guide, the building was designed by Albert E. Milliken, local architect.

Anderson, formerly of Detroit, Mich., where he was a representative of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, became Chevro-

Democrats Get Stronger in West

Denver, May 26 (AP)—Democrats gave the west a stronger voice in the choice at Chicago of their 1952 presidential candidate as they challenged the Republicans today on foreign policy.

A reapportionment of delegates, approved by the party's National Committee in a one-day session here yesterday, gave California 14 additional votes out of the 1,230 to be represented in the nominating convention the week of July 21, 1952.

Other states with gains included Colorado, Florida, Iowa, Ohio, Wisconsin and Wyoming, four each, and Texas, Virginia and Washington two each.

Based on population changes, and 1948 election results, these added votes will be offset by losses in states which failed to return majorities to President Truman in 1948 and thus lost their "bonus" of four delegates each. States which lost in the 1950 population census were not penalized by the committee's decision.

Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania and South Carolina each lost four delegates. Maryland and Michigan lost two votes each.

U. S. doughboys rammed up the main central Korean highway northwest of captured Chunchon in a pouring rain and rolled about two miles beyond the 38th Parallel.

Red opposition was light as the infantry column stabbed within six miles of Hwachon, a former key Chinese bastion eight miles north of the pre-war palitical boundary.

To the east, American and French troops smashed through Chinese screening forces and swept up the Hongchon-Inje road. The thrust opened a direct supply route to the allied bridgehead across the Choyang river on the east-central front.

Suicidal Trap

The link-up with the bridgehead tightened the trap on suicidal Chinese fighting rearguard actions to keep open a six-mile escape route in the mountains near the road.

The American French linkup column knocked out Red resistance along the important Hongchon-Inje road. The infantrymen captured six important hills commanding the route.

A U. S. task force reached Inje and South Korean forces to the east were reported to have occupied Yangyang, six miles north of the 38th Parallel on the east coast.

Fast-moving allied units knifed across the Parallel at several points on the east-central and eastern fronts Saturday. They advanced against almost no opposition from Chinese who, an officer said, surrendered "in numbers."

U. S. marines took "many" prisoners who refused to fight.

No estimate has been made o the number of captured Chines

More Prisoners

A tank-infantry unit cross 38 north of Changgo on t west-central front Saturday f the second straight day.

Barn Is to Reopen Tuesday; Repairs Made After Flood

The Barn, nightclub and resta rant on the Onteora Trail ju outside Kingston, will re-ope Tuesday, May 29, it was a nounced today by Robert E. Tee sel, proprietor. The nightspot ha been closed since March 31, whe it suffered severe damage fro the floodwaters of the Esopu creek.

The dining room and danc floor of the establishment is th only section that will not b opened on Tuesday. Teetsel plan however, to erect a safety rop inside the dining room door, s that patrons may see that water-damaged room.

The entrance hall, taproom checkroom, kitchen and ladies' and men's rooms have been completely renovated. Everything that could be salvaged from the building was used in the renovation project, but much additional material had to be purchased.

Will Be Marine Room

The taproom will henceforth be known as the Marine Room. The ceiling is done in a sky blue, and walls in bright navy blue. Benches and trim in a maroon color.

The rebuilt stage behind the bar is larger and lower than the previous one, and is capable of providing room for a four-piece entertainment group.

Gideons to Hold Two-Day Rally

The Gideon, International, which has as its object the distribution of Bibles and testaments in this country and throughout the world, will hold a combined rally of its Catskill and Newburgh Camps tonight and Sunday in Kingston.

Up to April 1, 1951, almost three million Bibles were placed in hotels, hospitals and other institutions in the United States and almost six million Youth Testaments were presented to the school children of this country. A total of 10,940,395 testaments have been given to the personnel of the armed forces. In all a grand total of 20,984,117 Bibles and testaments have been distributed by the Gideon, International since its inception.

Plan Supper Tonight

A banquet will be held in the Epworth Hall of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church tonight at which time Gideons from Albany, Schenectady, Oneonta and New York and elsewhere as well as those from the Newburgh and Catskill Camps, together with the ladies of the Auxiliary will be present for a time of fellowship. The ministers of the community have also been invited.

Sunday morning, the churches of Kingston and vicinity have invited the Gideon representatives to appear in their churches and tell of the work that is being done. They will tell how that at present each man inducted into the armed forces from Kingston and Ulster county, as well as other parts of the United States, is being presented with a copy of the New Testament including Psalms and Proverbs at no cost to them whatsoever.

In visiting the churches this Sunday, an opportunity will be given to all who wish to have some part in this most worthy work.

The Gideon, International is composed of Christian Business men whose only purpose is to distribute the Word of God, without comment and without charge to hotels, hospitals, nurses, service personnel as well as the school children.

Over 200 Testaments have been given to the inductees from Kingston and Ulster county since the first of the year.

Gideons to Hold Two-Day Rally

The Gideon, International, which has as its object the distribution of Bibles and testaments in this country and throughout the world, will hold a combined rally of its Catskill and Newburgh Camps tonight and Sunday in Kingston.

Up to April 1, 1951, almost three million Bibles were placed in hotels, hospitals and other institutions in the United States and almost six million Youth Testaments were presented to the school children of this country. A total of 10,940,395 testaments have been given to the personnel of the armed forces. In all a grand total of 20,984,117 Bibles and testaments have been distributed by the Gideon, International since its inception.

Plan Supper Tonight

A banquet will be held in the Epworth Hall of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church tonight at which time Gideons from Albany, Schenectady, Oneonta and New York and elsewhere as well as those from the Newburgh and Catskill Camps, together with the ladies of the Auxiliary will be present for a time of fellowship. The ministers of the community have also been invited.

Sunday morning, the churches of Kingston and vicinity have invited the Gideon representatives to appear in their churches and tell of the work that is being done. They will tell how that at present each man inducted into the armed forces from Kingston and Ulster county, as well as other parts of the United States, is being presented with a copy of the New Testament including Psalms and Proverbs at no cost to them whatsoever.

In visiting the churches this Sunday, an opportunity will be given to all who wish to have some part in this most worthy work.

The Gideon, International is composed of Christian Business men whose only purpose is to distribute the Word of God, without comment and without charge to hotels, hospitals, nurses, service personnel as well as the school children.

Over 200 Testaments have been given to the inductees from Kingston and Ulster county since the first of the year.

Gideons to Hold Two-Day Rally

The Gideon, International, which has as its object the distribution of Bibles and testaments in this country and throughout the world, will hold a combined rally of its Catskill and Newburgh Camps tonight and Sunday in Kingston.

Up to April 1, 1951, almost three million Bibles were placed in hotels, hospitals and other institutions in the United States and almost six million Youth Testaments were presented to the school children of this country. A total of 10,940,395 testaments have been given to the personnel of the armed forces. In all a grand total of 20,984,117 Bibles and testaments have been distributed by the Gideon, International since its inception.

Plan Supper Tonight

A banquet will be held in the Epworth Hall of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church tonight at which time Gideons from Albany, Schenectady, Oneonta and New York and elsewhere as well as those from the Newburgh and Catskill Camps, together with the ladies of the Auxiliary will be present for a time of fellowship. The ministers of the community have also been invited.

Sunday morning, the churches of Kingston and vicinity have invited the Gideon representatives to appear in their churches and tell of the work that is being done. They will tell how that at present each man inducted into the armed forces from Kingston and Ulster county, as well as other parts of the United States, is being presented with a copy of the New Testament including Psalms and Proverbs at no cost to them whatsoever.

In visiting the churches this Sunday, an opportunity will be given to all who wish to have some part in this most worthy work.

The Gideon, International is composed of Christian Business men whose only purpose is to distribute the Word of God, without comment and without charge to hotels, hospitals, nurses, service personnel as well as the school children.

Over 200 Testaments have been given to the inductees from Kingston and Ulster county since the first of the year.

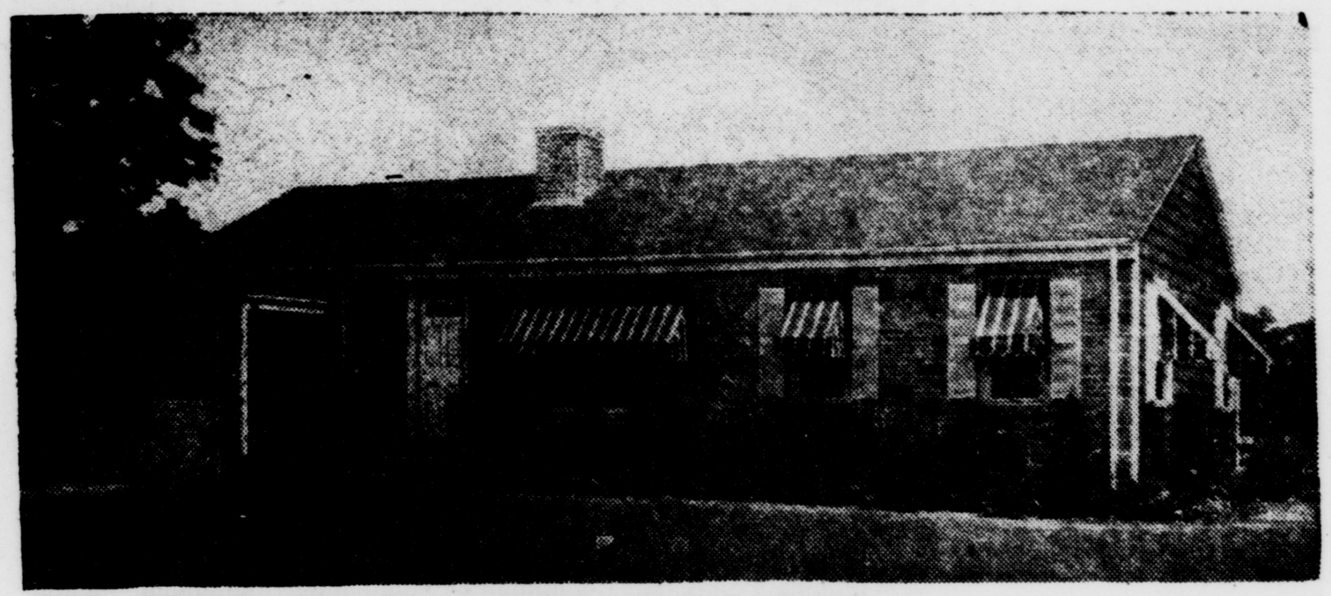
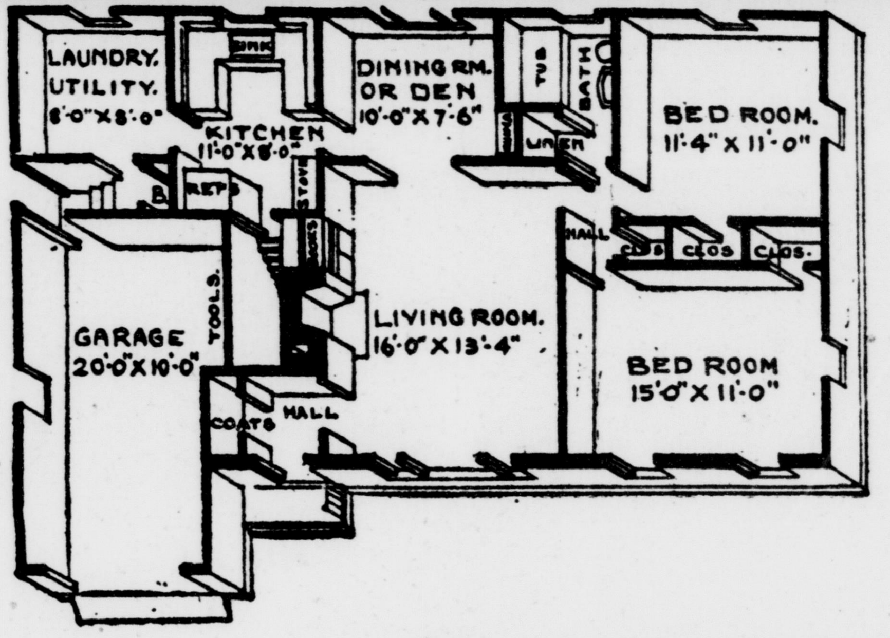
THE ST. PAUL





Pleasing Variation in Ranch-Type Design

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Two
Closets	Six
Cubage	20,800 ft.
Dimensions	47' x 26'

Measuring 47'x26' the "St. Paul" has a cubage of 20,800 feet. At least a 60 foot lot would be required, and, of course, an even larger one would set the house off to better advantage.

While a combination brick and clapboard exterior is used for the house in the illustration, you can use just about any type of exterior finish you might prefer. You'll find that brightly colored awnings, white trim and multi-colored roofing will add just the right decorative touch to the house.

The plain front entrance is reached by two steps; the small perch has iron grille work on either side. Four small, square glass panels decorate the top of the front door itself.

There is a small entry hall in the "St. Paul," but in a moderate-sized home such as this it would not be good home planning to utilize too much space for an entry way. However, the hall does contain a spacious coat closet that will come in handy both for hanging up visitors' wraps and also for storing your family's stormy weather apparel.

Living Room

To the right off the hall is the 16'3"x13'4" living room which is well lighted by a large casement window, flanked by two smaller windows, in the front wall. One of the highlights of the room is the large fireplace in the left wall. If you wish you could easily install a bookcase just to the right of the fireplace.

The dining room or den opens off the living room. Measuring 10'7"x7'6", this room also is well lighted by a large picture window in the back wall. This window likewise is flanked by narrow casement windows. The large china closet in the right front corner of the room will come in very handy as a storage spot for your best chinaware, etc. If you should decide to use the room as a den this space could easily be utilized for any other storage purpose desired.

To the left off the dining room is the all modern kitchen which measures 11'x8', with the cabinets and counters arranged in a U-shape the sink is conveniently placed unde the large window in the back wall. This is the most convenient and popular arrangement for not only does it insure plenty of light for the housewife while she is doing her dishes, but it also enables her to enjoy a view of her back yard; to keep an eye on the youngsters.

Laundry

Beside the kitchen and in back of the garage is the laundry. Measuring 8' square this room is more than large enough to hold a complete automatic laundry. The door in the front wall opens on the hallway leading to the side entrance guarantees ready admittance to the yard whenever you want to hang out the family laundry.

There also is a door leading directly from this hallway to the garage so that the occupants of this house will be protected when going to or coming from the garage in stormy weather. The garage itself measures 20 x 10 feet. There is a window in the left wall and plenty of room for storage in the convenient tool storage area in the right wall.

At the right end of the house is the sleeping section of the house where all the bedrooms will be completely free from noises in the rest of the house.

Separating the dining room and den is the all modern bathroom. The back bedroom measures 11'4"x11' and has cross ventilation. The large closet will provide plenty of storage space.

The largest of the two bedrooms, the front bedroom, is 15'x11' in dimension and would probably be first choice as master bedroom. It also boasts cross ventilation and a large closet.

The third closet in this central storage area opens on the central hallway.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, The Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Ventilators Will Remove Odors

Sure, you like the tantalizing odor of cooking food, but do you ever stop to think what the grease from cooking does to your home? This grease will definitely raise your cost of living, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

That tantalizing odor, composed of minute parts of frying fat, moisture and smoke, is carried on air currents to every nook and cranny in your house or apartment. This greasy moisture is deposited as a film on your floors, walls, ceilings, draperies, curtains and furniture. It hoists your decorating and cleaning costs; it penetrates your clothing to leave telltale stale odors. It gathers in closets and hallways to linger long after the food is consumed.

What to do about it?

Electric ventilators, installed in outer wall of the kitchen, will remove this unwanted moisture before it has a chance to permeate your house, says the bureau.

The streamlined, modern ventilators are weather proof, quiet and are available in telescopic cabinets capable of fitting into any thickness of wall. Made of rust-resisting steel, these units operate smoothly, freely and keep out insects and cold air when the fan is not operating.

Modern ventilators in living rooms and bedrooms keep the house comfortable on summer nights by driving out hot, sticky daytime air and bringing in cool, invigorating nighttime air. More comfortable sleeping is the result. Filter-type ventilators supply fresh, filtered air while preventing entrance of ragweed pollen that plague the hayfever victim. They also remove 98 per cent of the dust and soot from incoming air and minimize street noises.

Don't worry about the ventilators causing a static on your radio. There is no interference electrically when you start or stop the new veilators. Air volume and direction can easily be controlled by a wall switch.

Waterproofing Remedies

Large damp areas on interior walls of a masonry house may indicate that the masonry is excessively porous. Two coats of transparent waterproofing compound on the exterior, or a single coat of cement-base paint will remedy the trouble. Before applying either, all broken and loose mortar joints are repointed with new mortar.

For Shaky Floors

A shaky, main floor of the home can be stiffened and made solid by placing a light girder beneath it, in the basement. Support the girder with substantial posts or columns. Careful measurements should be taken to insure correct length of the posts and then they should be wedged tightly in place.

Handy Broom Closet

Tall, narrow closets, designed for the storage of brooms, mops and vacuum cleaners, are becoming increasingly more common in modern homes, but the valuable service they offer need not be denied to the housewife whose home was built a decade or more ago.

Painting Schedule

Sheathing Is Vital in Home

The old adage that "you can't judge a book by its cover" is particularly applicable to home construction, according to building experts. Many features that make for sound construction are not visible in the completed house, but they are nevertheless important. Among these is sheathing, the first layer of exterior wall covering.

Good sheathing is an essential part of a sturdy home, building authorities point out. Besides serving as a base for the wood, brick, stucco or other exterior facing, it should lend bracing strength to the building and afford protection from the weather. One of the materials widely used for this purpose in modern home construction is insulating board sheathing, which combines a high degree of necessary requirements and provides insulation as well.

Made of wood, cane or other tough vegetabe fibres, it comes in large rigid sheets that are easy to handle and apply. Its unusual bracing strength is derived both from its size and its toughness of composition. Laboratory tests proved that 4x8-foot insulating board sheathing in 25-32-inch thickness has more than two and one-half times the bracing strength of ordinary sheathing applied horizontally, without bracing. Like ordinary sheathing, it is nailed directly to the framework.

The growing popularity of insulating board sheathing probably is linked to the three distinct points of economy in its use. First, fuel costs are reduced because the insulation keeps the house warmer in winter, as well as cooler in summer. Second, the cost of the material itself usually is lower than that of ordinary sheathing. Third, savings are effected in insulation, since it can be applied quicker and with less waste.

Will Be Needed Soon

A flagstone of molded concrete-slab work leading from the sidewalk to the entrance door of a home not only adds to the general beauty of the landscaping but in winter provides a safe, comparatively dry method of access to the home. Such walks are easily kept clean.

Remove That Gloss!

When repainting, enameling or varnishing glossy surfaces, the surfaces should be lightly sandpapered to provide a "tooth" for the new coating to insure good adhesion.

Lawn Sprinklers

Several sill or lawn faucets installed at various points around the house will eliminate the bother of dragging a long hose in order to water the lawn and garden properly.

Coffee-Milk Color

Paint, in the popular cafe-au-lait can be mixed by using white as a base. To this, add yellow ochre and burnt umber to obtain the attractive light brown shade.

Lacquer Has Changed

Lacquer was first used in the Orient more than 2000 years ago. Today's lacquer, however, is in no way related to its ancient forebear.

Trend to Kitchen Dining

There is a definite trend toward kitchens in which meals can be served—particularly to those with built-in tables or nooks. The percentage of kitchens with detached breakfast tables is declining steadily. Built-ins are especially popular with the younger families.

Plant Potting Test

If you are wondering whether potted plant needs a larger container, test the plant in this manner. Remove the plant from the pot carefully so the soil stays in one lump. If a great many roots have grown out to the edge of the soil, the plant needs more room.

For Ranch House Floors

Plank oak flooring, usually laid in random widths, is particularly appropriate for ranch type homes, although it is well adapted to use in homes of any architectural style. It can be obtained with beveled edges and walnut pegs.

Oil for Door Lock

Steal a feather from your feather duster, dip it in machine oil and then clean the keyhole of the door where the lock is a bit stubborn. The oily feather will not ony distribute oil but also gather any dirt that may be causing the trouble.

When Window Sticks

When a window sash is stuck because of hardened paint along the edges, try freeing it by moving the bottom of the sash sideways. There is usually enough clearance at the base of the frame to allow the sash to be moved sufficiently to break the film of paint.

Wash Before Painting

Old woodwork should be thoroughly washed before repainting, using one of the new detergents or one of the prepared paint cleaning compounds available at a paint store.

Money Drips Away

Plaster Must Be Sized

Unfinished plaster needs a special coating of size or primer-sealer before a paint coating containing oil is applied. Paint of the water-thinned type can be put on without such a preliminary coating.

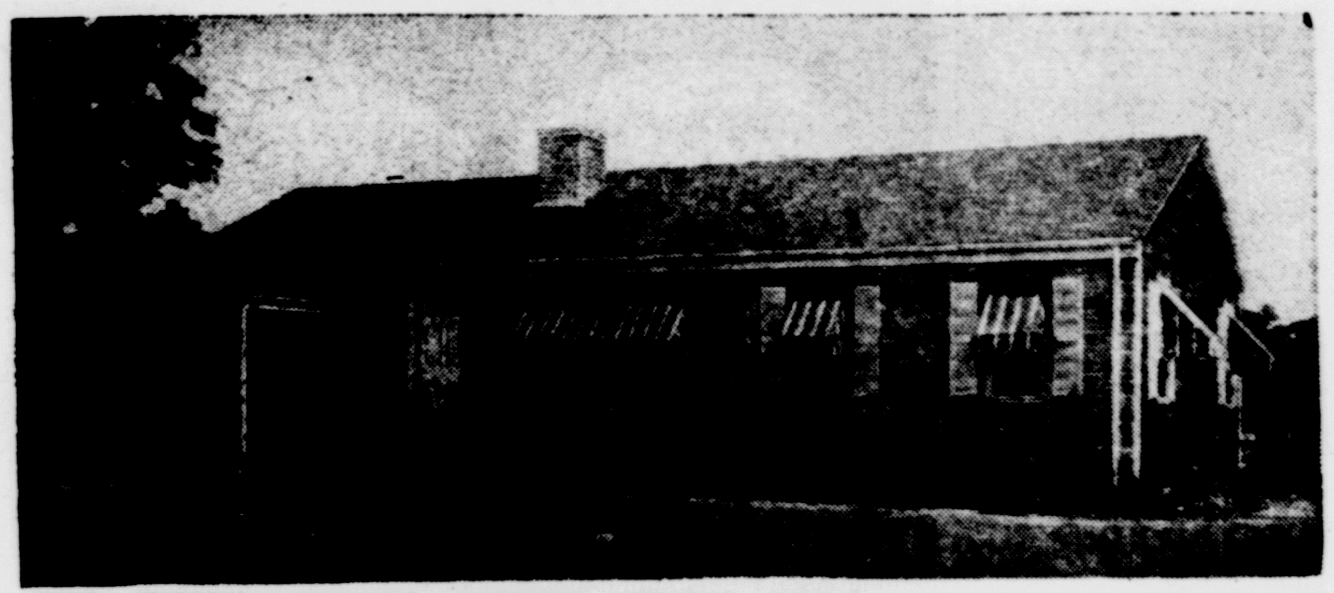
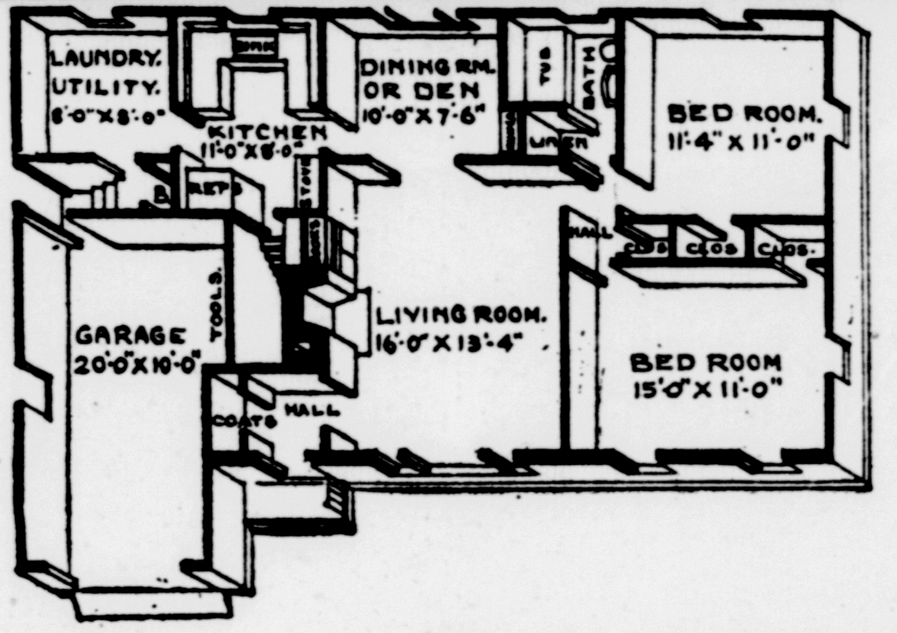
THE ST. PAUL





Pleasing Variation in Ranch-Type Design

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Two
Closets	Six
Cubage	20,800 ft.
Dimensions	47' x 26'

Measuring 47'x26' the "St. Paul" has a cubage of 20,800 feet. At least a 60 foot lot would be required, and, of course, an even larger one would set the house off to better advantage.

While a combination brick and clapboard exterior is used for the house in the illustration, you can use just about any type of exterior finish you might prefer. You'll find that brightly colored awnings, white trim and multi-colored roofing will add just the right decorative touch to the house.

The plain front entrance is reached by two steps; the small porch has iron grille work on either side. Four small, square glass panels decorate the top of the front door itself.

There is a small entry hall in the "St. Paul," but in a moderate-sized home such as this it would not be good home planning to utilize too much space for an entry way. However, the hall does contain a spacious coat closet that will come in handy both for hanging up visitors' wraps and also for storing your family's stormy weather apparel.

Living Room

To the right off the hall is the 16'3"x13'4" living room which is well lighted by a large casement window, flanked by two smaller windows, in the front wall. One of the highlights of the room is the large fireplace in the left wall. If you wish you could easily install a bookcase just to the right of the fireplace.

The dining room or den opens off the living room. Measuring 10'7"x7'6", this room also is well lighted by a large picture window in the back wall. This window likewise is flanked by narrow casement windows. The large china closet in the right front corner of the room will come in very handy as a storage spot for your best chinaware, etc. If you should decide to use the room as a den this space could easily be utilized for any other storage purpose desired.

To the left off the dining room is the all modern kitchen which measures 11'x8', with the cabinets and counters arranged in a U-shape the sink is conveniently placed unde the large window in the back wall. This is the most convenient and popular arrangement for not only does it insure plenty of light for the housewife while she is doing her dishes, but it also enables her to enjoy a view of her back yard; to keep an eye on the youngsters.

Laundry

Beside the kitchen and in back of the garage is the laundry. Measuring 8' square this room is more than large enough to hold a complete automatic laundry. The door in the front wall opens on the hallway leading to the side entrance guarantees ready admittance to the yard whenever you want to hang out the family laundry.

There also is a door leading directly from this hallway to the garage so that the occupants of this house will be protected when going to or coming from the garage in stormy weather. The garage itself measures 20 x 10 feet. There is a window in the left wall and plenty of room for storage in the convenient tool storage area in the right wall.

At the right end of the house is the sleeping section of the house where all the bedrooms will be be completely free from noises in the rest of the house.

Separating the dining room and den is the all modern bathroom. The back bedroom measures 11'4"x11' and has cross ventilation. The large closet will provide plenty of storage space.

The largest of the two bedrooms, the front bedroom, is 15'x11' in dimension and would probably be first choice as master bedroom. It also boasts cross ventilation and a large closet.

The third closet in this central storage area opens on the central hallway.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, The Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Ventilators Will Remove Odors

Sure, you like the tantalizing odor of cooking food, but do you ever stop to think what the grease from cooking does to your home? This grease will definitely raise your cost of living, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

That tantalizing odor, composed of minute parts of frying fat, moisture and smoke, is carried on air currents to every nook and cranny in your house or apartment. This greasy moisture is deposited as a film on your floors, walls, ceilings, draperies, curtains and furniture. It hoists your decorating and cleaning costs; it penetrates your clothing to leave telltale stale odors. It gathers in closets and hallways to linger long after the food is consumed.

What to do about it?

Electric ventilators, installed in outer wall of the kitchen, will remove this unwanted moisture before it has a chance to permeate your house, says the bureau.

The streamlined, modern ventilators are weather proof, quiet and are available in telescopic cabinets capable of fitting into any thickness of wall. Made of rust-resisting steel, these units operate smoothly, freely and keep out insects and cold air when the fan is not operating.

Modern ventilators in living rooms and bedrooms keep the house comfortable on summer nights by driving out hot, sticky daytime air and bringing in cool, invigorating nighttime air. More comfortable sleeping is the result. Filter-type ventilators supply fresh, filtered air while preventing entrance of ragweed pollen that plague the hayfever victim. They also remove 98 per cent of the dust and soot from incoming air and minimize street noises.

Don't worry about the ventilators causing a static on your radio. There is no interference electrically when you start or stop the new veilators. Air volume and direction can easily be controlled by a wall switch.

Waterproofing Remedies

Large damp areas on interior walls of a masonry house may indicate that the masonry is excessively porous. Two coats of transparent waterproofing compound on the exterior, or a single coat of cement-base paint will remedy the trouble. Before applying either, all broken and loose mortar joints are repointed with new mortar.

For Shaky Floors

A shaky, main floor of the home can be stiffened and made solid by placing a light girder beneath it, in the basement. Support the girder with substantial posts or columns. Careful measurements should be taken to insure correct length of the posts and then they should be wedged tightly in place.

Handy Broom Closet

Tall, narrow closets, designed for the storage of brooms, mops and vacuum cleaners, are becoming increasingly more common in modern homes, but the valuable service they offer need not be denied to the housewife whose home was built a decade or more ago.

Painting Schedule

Sheathing Is Vital in Home

The old adage that "you can't judge a book by its cover" is particularly applicable to home construction, according to building experts. Many features that make for sound construction are not visible in the completed house, but they are nevertheless important. Among these is sheathing, the first layer of exterior wall covering.

Good sheathing is an essential part of a sturdy home, building authorities point out. Besides serving as a base for the wood, brick, stucco or other exterior facing, it should lend bracing strength to the building and afford protection from the weather. One of the materials widely used for this purpose in modern home construction is insulating board sheathing, which combines a high degree of necessary requirements and provides insulation as well.

Made of wood, cane or other tough vegetabe fibres, it comes in large rigid sheets that are easy to handle and apply. Its unusual bracing strength is derived both from its size and its toughness of composition. Laboratory tests proved that 4x8-foot insulating board sheathing in 25-32-inch thickness has more than two and one-half times the bracing strength of ordinary sheathing applied horizontally, without bracing. Like ordinary sheathing, it is nailed directly to the framework.

The growing popularity of insulating board sheathing probably is linked to the three distinct points of economy in its use. First, fuel costs are reduced because the insulation keeps the house warmer in winter, as well as cooler in summer. Second, the cost of the material itself usually is lower than that of ordinary sheathing. Third, savings are effected in insulation, since it can be applied quicker and with less waste.

Will Be Needed Soon

A flagstone of molded concrete-slab work leading from the sidewalk to the entrance door of a home not only adds to the general beauty of the landscaping but in winter provides a safe, comparatively dry method of access to the home. Such walks are easily kept clean.

Remove That Gloss!

When repainting, enameling or varnishing glossy surfaces, the surfaces should be lightly sandpapered to provide a "tooth" for the new coating to insure good adhesion.

Lawn Sprinklers

Several sill or lawn faucets installed at various points around the house will eliminate the bother of dragging a long hose in order to water the lawn and garden properly.

Coffee-Milk Color

Paint, in the popular cafe-au-lait can be mixed by using white as a base. To this, add yellow ochre and burnt umber to obtain the attractive light brown shade.

Lacquer Has Changed

Lacquer was first used in the Orient more than 2000 years ago. Today's lacquer, however, is in no way related to its ancient forebear.

Trend to Kitchen Dining

There is a definite trend toward kitchens in which meals can be served—particularly to those with built-in tables or nooks. The percentage of kitchens with detached breakfast tables is declining steadily. Built-ins are especially popular with the younger families.

Plant Potting Test

If you are wondering whether potted plant needs a larger container, test the plant in this manner. Remove the plant from the pot carefully so the soil stays in one lump. If a great many roots have grown out to the edge of the soil, the plant needs more room.

For Ranch House Floors

Plank oak flooring, usually laid in random widths, is particularly appropriate for ranch type homes, although it is well adapted to use in homes of any architectural style. It can be obtained with beveled edges and walnut pegs.

Oil for Door Lock

Steal a feather from your feather duster, dip it in machine oil and then clean the keyhole of the door where the lock is a bit stubborn. The oily feather will not ony distribute oil but also gather any dirt that may be causing the trouble.

When Window Sticks

When a window sash is stuck because of hardened paint along the edges, try freeing it by moving the bottom of the sash sideways. There is usually enough clearance at the base of the frame to allow the sash to be moved sufficiently to break the film of paint.

Wash Before Painting

Old woodwork should be thoroughly washed before repainting, using one of the new detergents or one of the prepared paint cleaning compounds available at a paint store.

Money Drips Away

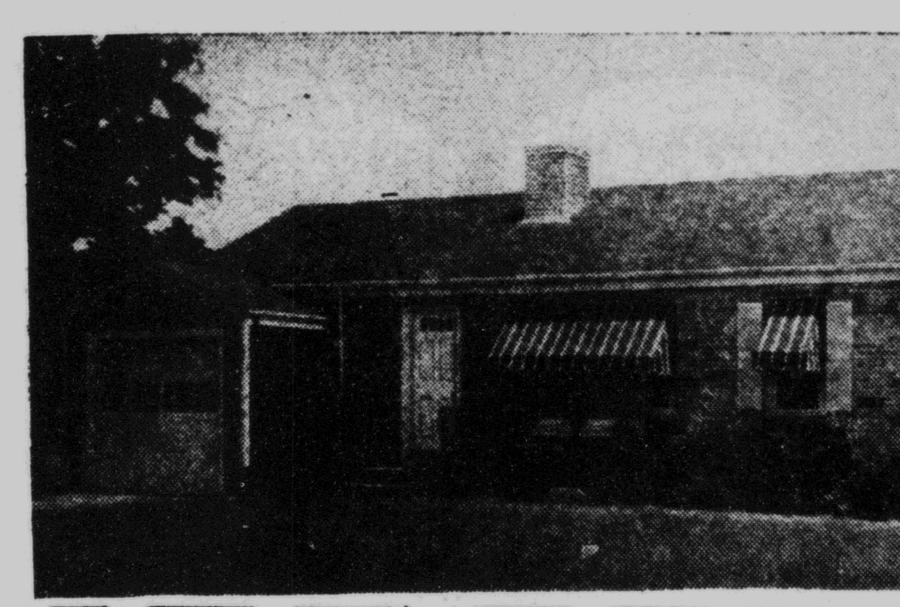
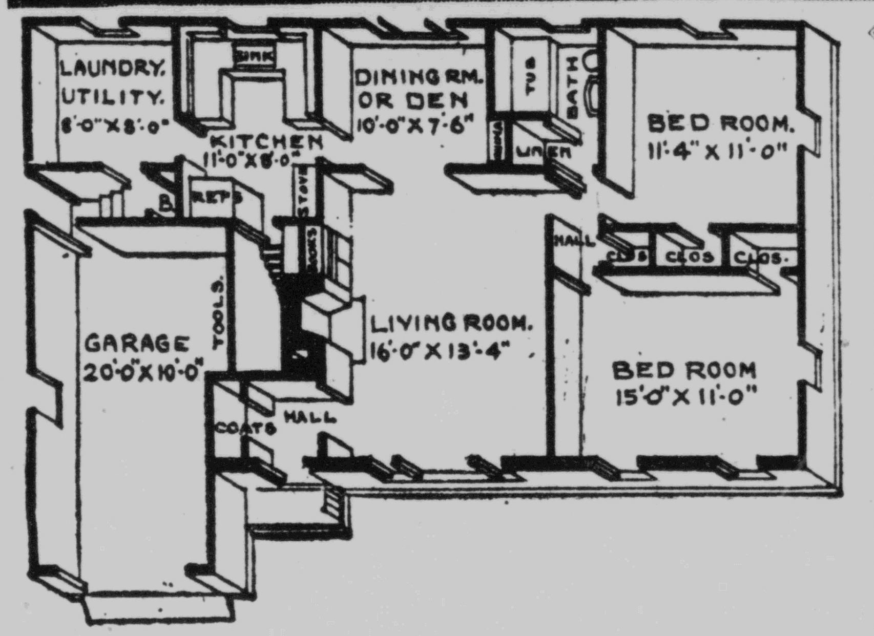
THE ST. PAUL





Pleasing Variation in Ranch-Type Design

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Two
Closets	Six
Cubage	20,800 ft.
Dimensions	47' x 26'

Measuring 47'x26' the "St. Paul" has a cubage of 20,800 feet. At least a 60 foot lot would be required, and, of course, an even larger one would set the house off to better advantage.

While a combination brick and clapboard exterior is used for the house in the illustration, you can use just about any type of exterior finish you might prefer. You'll find that brightly colored awnings, white trim and multi-colored roofing will add just the right decorative touch to the house.

The plain front entrance is reached by two steps; the small porch has iron grille work on either side. Four small, square glass panels decorate the top of the front door itself.

There is a small entry hall in the "St. Paul," but in a moderate-sized home such as this it would not be good home planning to utilize too much space for an entry way. However, the hall does contain a spacious coat closet that will come in handy both for hanging up visitors' wraps and also for storing your family's stormy weather apparel.

Living Room

To the right off the hall is the 16'3"x13'4" living room which is well lighted by a large casement window, flanked by two smaller windows, in the front wall. One of the highlights of the room is the large fireplace in the left wall. If you wish you could easily install a bookcase just to the right of the fireplace.

The dining room or den opens off the living room. Measuring 10'7"x7'6", this room also is well lighted by a large picture window in the back wall. This window likewise is flanked by narrow casement windows. The large china closet in the right front corner of the room will come in very handy as a storage spot for your best chinaware, etc. If you should decide to use the room as a den this space could easily be utilized for any other storage purpose desired.

To the left off the dining room is the all modern kitchen which measures 11'x8', with the cabinets and counters arranged in a U-shape the sink is conveniently placed unde the large window in the back wall. This is the most convenient and popular arrangement for not only does it insure plenty of light for the housewife while she is doing her dishes, but it also enables her to enjoy a view of her back yard; to keep an eye on the youngsters.

Laundry

Beside the kitchen and in back of the garage is the laundry. Measuring 8' square this room is more than large enough to hold a complete automatic laundry. The door in the front wall opens on the hallway leading to the side entrance guarantees ready admittance to the yard whenever you want to hang out the family laundry.

There also is a door leading directly from this hallway to the garage so that the occupants of this house will be protected when going to or coming from the garage in stormy weather. The garage itself measures 20 x 10 feet. There is a window in the left wall and plenty of room for storage in the convenient tool storage area in the right wall.

At the right end of the house is the sleeping section of the house where all the bedrooms will be completely free from noises in the rest of the house.

Separating the dining room and den is the all modern bathroom. The back bedroom measures 11'4"x11' and has cross ventilation. The large closet will provide plenty of storage space.

The largest of the two bedrooms, the front bedroom, is 15'x11' in dimension and would probably be first choice as master bedroom. It also boasts cross ventilation and a large closet.

The third closet in this central storage area opens on the central hallway.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, The Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Ventilators Will Remove Odors

Sure, you like the tantalizing odor of cooking food, but do you ever stop to think what the grease from cooking does to your home? This grease will definitely raise your cost of living, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

That tantalizing odor, composed of minute parts of frying fat, moisture and smoke, is carried on air currents to every nook and cranny in your house or apartment. This greasy moisture is deposited as a film on your floors, walls, ceilings, draperies, curtains and furniture. It hoists your decorating and cleaning costs; it penetrates your clothing to leave telltale stale odors. It gathers in closets and hallways to linger long after the food is consumed.

What to do about it?

Electric ventilators, installed in outer wall of the kitchen, will remove this unwanted moisture before it has a chance to permeate your house, says the bureau.

The streamlined, modern ventilators are weather proof, quiet and are available in telescopic cabinets capable of fitting into any thickness of wall. Made of rust-resisting steel, these units operate smoothly, freely and keep out insects and cold air when the fan is not operating.

Modern ventilators in living rooms and bedrooms keep the house comfortable on summer nights by driving out hot, sticky daytime air and bringing in cool, invigorating nighttime air. More comfortable sleeping is the result. Filter-type ventilators supply fresh, filtered air while preventing entrance of ragweed pollen that plague the hayfever victim. They also remove 98 per cent of the dust and soot from incoming air and minimize street noises.

Don't worry about the ventilators causing a static on your radio. There is no interference electrically when you start or stop the new veilators. Air volume and direction can easily be controlled by a wall switch.

Waterproofing Remedies

Large damp areas on interior walls of a masonry house may indicate that the masonry is excessively porous. Two coats of transparent waterproofing compound on the exterior, or a single coat of cement-base paint will remedy the trouble. Before applying either, all broken and loose mortar joints are repointed with new mortar.

For Shaky Floors

A shaky, main floor of the home can be stiffened and made solid by placing a light girder beneath it, in the basement. Support the girder with substantial posts or columns. Careful measurements should be taken to insure correct length of the posts and then they should be wedged tightly in place.

Handy Broom Closet

Tall, narrow closets, designed for the storage of brooms, mops and vacuum cleaners, are becoming increasingly more common in modern homes, but the valuable service they offer need not be denied to the housewife whose home was built a decade or more ago.

Painting Schedule

Sheathing Is Vital in Home

The old adage that "you can't judge a book by its cover" is particularly applicable to home construction, according to building experts. Many features that make for sound construction are not visible in the completed house, but they are nevertheless important. Among these is sheathing, the first layer of exterior wall covering.

Good sheathing is an essential part of a sturdy home, building authorities point out. Besides serving as a base for the wood, brick, stucco or other exterior facing, it should lend bracing strength to the building and afford protection from the weather. One of the materials widely used for this purpose in modern home construction is insulating board sheathing, which combines a high degree of necessary requirements and provides insulation as well.

Made of wood, cane or other tough vegetabe fibres, it comes in large rigid sheets that are easy to handle and apply. Its unusual bracing strength is derived both from its size and its toughness of composition. Laboratory tests proved that 4x8-foot insulating board sheathing in 25-32-inch thickness has more than two and one-half times the bracing strength of ordinary sheathing applied horizontally, without bracing. Like ordinary sheathing, it is nailed directly to the framework.

The growing popularity of insulating board sheathing probably is linked to the three distinct points of economy in its use. First, fuel costs are reduced because the insulation keeps the house warmer in winter, as well as cooler in summer. Second, the cost of the material itself usually is lower than that of ordinary sheathing. Third, savings are effected in insulation, since it can be applied quicker and with less waste.

Will Be Needed Soon

A flagstone of molded concrete-slab work leading from the sidewalk to the entrance door of a home not only adds to the general beauty of the landscaping but in winter provides a safe, comparatively dry method of access to the home. Such walks are easily kept clean.

Remove That Gloss!

When repainting, enameling or varnishing glossy surfaces, the surfaces should be lightly sandpapered to provide a "tooth" for the new coating to insure good adhesion.

Lawn Sprinklers

Several sill or lawn faucets installed at various points around the house will eliminate the bother of dragging a long hose in order to water the lawn and garden properly.

Coffee-Milk Color

Paint, in the popular cafe-au-lait can be mixed by using white as a base. To this, add yellow ochre and burnt umber to obtain the attractive light brown shade.

Lacquer Has Changed

Lacquer was first used in the Orient more than 2000 years ago. Today's lacquer, however, is in no way related to its ancient forebear.

Trend to Kitchen Dining

There is a definite trend toward kitchens in which meals can be served—particularly to those with built-in tables or nooks. The percentage of kitchens with detached breakfast tables is declining steadily. Built-ins are especially popular with the younger families.

Plant Potting Test

If you are wondering whether potted plant needs a larger container, test the plant in this manner. Remove the plant from the pot carefully so the soil stays in one lump. If a great many roots have grown out to the edge of the soil, the plant needs more room.

For Ranch House Floors

Plank oak flooring, usually laid in random widths, is particularly appropriate for ranch type homes, although it is well adapted to use in homes of any architectural style. It can be obtained with beveled edges and walnut pegs.

Oil for Door Lock

Steal a feather from your feather duster, dip it in machine oil and then clean the keyhole of the door where the lock is a bit stubborn. The oily feather will not only distribute oil but also gather any dirt that may be causing the trouble.

When Window Sticks

When a window sash is stuck because of hardened paint along the edges, try freeing it by moving the bottom of the sash sideways. There is usually enough clearance at the base of the frame to allow the sash to be moved sufficiently to break the film of paint.

Wash Before Painting

Old woodwork should be thoroughly washed before repainting, using one of the new detergents or one of the prepared paint cleaning compounds available at a paint store.

Money Drips Away

Plaster Must Be Sized

Unfinished plaster needs a special coating of size or primer-sealer before a paint coating containing oil is applied. Paint of the water-thinned type can be put on without such a preliminary coating.

RELATIVELY LOW FIRE LOSSES HERE

A better record of fire prevention and control was recorded in this city last year than in most of the nation's cities. This is revealed in the annual compilation of the fire statistics, gathered by the National Fire Protection Association from 634 cities with populations over 20,000.

Kingston ended the year with a loss of $54,237. Related to the local population, this fire damage amounted to $1.88 per person and was much less than the average of $3.79 per capita for other cities.

The efficiency of the local fire department is demonstrated by its success in rapidly bringing under control the fires with which it had to cope and keeping damage to a minimum. The loss per fire amounted to $282 as compared with an average of $580 in other cities.

In a recent communication to The Freeman, Edward F. Curren of the Underwriters Rating Board states in part: The reason for my writing this letter in these days of investigations, particularly with reference to public servants, it is certainly refreshing to encounter such a conscientious public servant as Joe Murphy has been to the City of Kingston for more than twenty-five years. In the opinion of the fire people, insurance and otherwise, in the State of New York, Joe is one of the most capable and conscientious public officials in the Empire State.

In the instance of the Public School No. 5 fire, not only did Chief Murphy make the determination that this was an incendiary fire, but if any citizen of Kingston would like to view a masterpiece in fire extinguishment they should see the "stop" made by the Kingston Fire Department in that school building. In my twenty-five years experience in the fire game I have never seen a better job done, regardless of the community.

The job done by the Fire Department certainly merits praise, and I certainly trust that the police phase of the work in apprehending the perpetrator of the crime will be of similar character.

MEMORIAL DAY TRIPS

The need for safety consciousness during Memorial Day trips has been emphasized by Thomas W. Ryan, State Director of Safety.

Weather conditions permitting, the highways will be crowded and beaches and resorts will be thronged. The hazard potential will be increased greatly but the usual toll of accidents for this the first of the summer holidays will be decreased greatly if everyone is a bit more careful in their activities.

Whether it be driving an automobile, walking along the highway, crossing the street, swimming, boating or indulgence in other forms of seasonable recreation, do it with care, caution and moderation. Start your outdoor season by being safety conscious on Memorial Day and have an enjoyable summer to look forward to.

The National Safety Council points out that one of the major check-points, often overlooked but vital to safety, is the condition of windshield blades.

Motorists are urged to check not only the operation of the wipers, but also the effectiveness of the blades themselves. This depends on clean glass and on replacement of blades if necessary.

The importance of windshield smear as an accident cause cannot be measured accurately, but the glare of a streaked or smeared windshield when the sun or approaching headlights strike it undoubtedly contributes to many mishaps.

No one can deny now that the war and subsequent occupation have brought Japan closer to the American way of life. In the old days baseball umpires were treated with the greatest respect. Now the spectators shower them with pop bottles.

With the country still excited over the Senate Crime Investigating Committee findings, it may be that the only rackets operating publicly this summer will be on the tennis courts.

THE AVOIDANCE OF TEMPTATION

With all the crookedness going on in Washington and its approaches, many solutions are offered as to how to make men as honest as they should be. For instance, the Fulbright investigation will stand as a monumental index to the possibilities of corruption through the President's office, but the fact is that nobody has been or will be punished because the misdemeanors and felonies are of a moral and not a juridical nature. To state it simply, the punishment is more likely to be in the hereafter than here.

Arthur Hays Sulzberger was delivering a speech on the greatness of his wife's father, Adolph Ochs, who bought the "New York Times" when it was doing poorly and built it into one of the foremost newspapers of all time. This speech was made before the Silurians, who are newspapermen of long standing and know whence the fact was borne. Of Ochs, Sulzberger said:

". . . He had the intelligence to avoid business temptations. He was a very human man and possessed his share of human frailties, but he knew it and so he refused to place himself in a position to be tempted. Very shortly after he arrived in New York, his friend Samuel Untermyer was the intermediary who offered him a contract for $150,000 worth of municipal advertising. No strings were attached. Mr. Untermyer would not have been a party to any deal involving his friend. But Mr. Ochs turned it down and did so on the theory that he needed the revenue so desperately that he would instantly adjust his operations to the windfall and he was unwilling to trust himself as to what he might do if, after that had happened, he was threatened with a cancellation of the contract."

The sequence of thought there represents a thoroughly theological approach to morality, which is not that man will not sin, given the opportunity, but that righteousness manifests itself by avoiding the opportunity.

I do not know why Mr. Ochs could not have taken this advertising. For it was the people's money that was being spent on advertising and the officials should or should not have put it in his newspaper strictly on the basis of its value to the people. It is like many who are today worried about sticking their necks out in political discussion lest their income tax returns be investigated, or their anti-trust relations, or their radio station licenses or some other activity which gives the government an opportunity to use its power to destroy.

The avoidance of temptation is a very hard road to follow, because for men in public life temptations are not limited to dollars or mink coats, but there is the fate worse than death of being unpopular and even obscure.

Mr. Ochs, for instance, never was on the celery circuit. That is a spreading disease which few dare avoid. I shall diagnose it for you in detail:

A public man needs to be seen. The more he is seen, the more celebrated he is. Therefore, in many places, he is invited to attend public dinners where he sits on the dais. Usually this takes four to five hours out of his life. The chairs are the most uncomfortable that a hotel can find and the food is stereotyped, having, on the whole, degenerated dreadfully during the past decade.

Well, the celebrity sits there until his name is called. Then he rises for a bow amid perfunctory applause. Then he sits down. That makes him a celebrity. When he goes home, his wife asks him, "What happened?" He answers, "I took a bow."

Adolph Ochs never went to such places. His business manager, Louis Wiley, did it nearly every night of his life and he enjoyed it. But Ochs stayed away and when it came to putting plugs in his paper, few knew him well enough to ask for them.

There are differences of opinion on how to live, but the yearning for popularity is a greater temptation than the yearning for dollars. It becomes a debasement of personality, a craven currying of vulgar favor in the desire to be seen, heard and patted on the back. The price for fulsome praise is often too high and shaving has this drawback, that it forces one to look at his own face at least once a day.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

REHABILITATION OF HEART PATIENTS

One of the good things learned from World Wars 1 and 2 was that an attack of heart disease (coronary thrombosis) does not mean that the patient is doomed nor that another attack will prove fatal. This "death sentence" of prewar days is not commonly heard any more; today physicians, particularly heart specialists, have outlined a program of rehabilitation which, if followed faithfully by the patient, does in many cases rehabilitate him, making it possible for him to return to his occupation with practically no fear for the future.

In Modern Concepts of Cardiovascular Disease, published monthly by the American Heart Association, rehabilitation is defined as "the return of a person disabled by accident or disease to his greatest physical, mental, emotional, social, vocational and economic usefulness, and, if employable, an opportunity for gainful employment."

In addition, it is emphasized that, while economic security is essential, rehabilitation aims also at maintaining the "personal dignity" of the individual and enlarging his capacity for living by enabling him to make the best of his physical and mental faculties. Rehabilitation of the patient with heart and blood vessel disease, then, would meet practically the complete need of the individual, enabling him to become a normal member of the community.

It is estimated that of those who have come safely through their first attack of coronary thrombosis, from 40 to 70 per cent suffer some decrease in mental and physical ability.

While at present there is no complete knowledge of how to prevent further attacks it is known that living on a lower level of mental and physical activity is saving many lives. However, endocarditis (inflammation of the lining of the heart), formerly nearly always fatal, is now being cured by penicillin and the sulfa drugs. Also, we are reading almost daily of the wonderful results of surgery of the heart which is preventing death in children and young adults who have been afflicted with heart disease from birth. And, finally, the discovery of drugs which prevent the formation of blood clots, so often the cause of coronary thrombosis or heart stroke, is enabling these individuals to live nearly the normal life-span.

The American Heart Association points out that the rehabilitation of men and women with heart disease so that they can, within certain limits, do necessary work and thus release many who are greatly needed, greatly increases the manpower of the nation and raises the morale of these individuals.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A group within the cabinet and the State Department Policy Committee are working backstage with the Democratic National Committee to find a successor for Dean Acheson. They regard their job as twofold: 1. To convince the President he ought to let Acheson go for the good of the country and party; 2. To find a man so acceptable that HST will buy.

One leader of this group is Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, and this was a main topic for discussion behind closed doors at the Denver Democratic powwow. The formula this group has in mind as Acheson's successor is: A progressive, internationally minded Republican, vigorous, healthy, and with congressional experience.

Secretary Chapman, who will deny this vigorously if questioned, even sounded out one possible candidate before going to Denver.

GOP's Best Target

It is no accident that Republican senators launch a barrage against Dean Acheson at least once a week, interspersed with predictions that he is about to be fired.

For the Republicans have found: 1. That Acheson is one of their best political assets; and 2. They are shrewd enough to know that the more they jump on him, the longer Truman will freeze him into office.

It sounds incredible, but it is almost axiomatic in the Truman administration that when you criticize a public official too vigorously, you arouse Harry Truman's fighting instincts and insure that he will stay on indefinitely. That's what happened when I went after General Harry Vaughan.

Inside fact is that Acheson had told the President last year that he wanted to retire. There was even talk that he would step out around Jan. 1. But MacArthur's tragic reversal in North Korea occured in November-December, followed by British Prime Minister Attlee's hurried trip to Washington.

After this crisis had cooled, it again looked as if Acheson were ready to retire. But suddenly the MacArthur debate burst loose.

And by now the Republicans realize that he is their best political target and they are determined to keep hammering at him: First, because it pays political dividends; second, because it's the best way to make sure that Harry Truman keeps their political target on target.

Once the President removes that target from the political horizon, there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth inside the GOP.

Hollywood Senator

A ghost writer with Hollywood ambitions is one reason why Sen. Alex Wiley of Wisconsin has suddenly changed character from a jovial jokster to a baiter of Gen. Omar Bradley.

The ghost writer is Julius Cahn, supplied to the Wisconsin senator by the Republican National Committee as his secretary. Cahn writes Wiley's speeches, asked questions for him at the Kefauver committee, and even produced a movie skit of the senator.

Before the MacArthur hearings, Senator Wiley was chiefly famous as an expert on Wisconsin cheese and a mild foreign-relations follower of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg. But, since being coached in the Hollywood technique, he has bristled forth as a baiter of generals.

Taft vs. Ike

The bitter feud between the pro-Taft and pro-Eisenhower factions inside the Republican party so far has been carefully concealed. However, the current struggle for convention delegates will soon force both factions out into the open.

The fight for Texas's 37 delegates to the Republican convention is typical of the undercover contest between the friends of Taft and Ike, which is taking place in practically every state of the union.

Eisenhower spokesman in Texas is Houston's wealthy oilman, H. J. "Jack" Porter, a long-time personal friend of Ike's and a big contributor to the GOP. Porter has been quietly lining up delegates and is in frequent touch with Pennsylvania's astute Sen. Jim Duff, unofficial captain of the pro-Eisenhower forces.

In recent weeks, however, Porter's well-laid plans have been thrown out of gear by Republican National Committeeman Henry Zwiefel of Fort Worth, who is passing out word that he's supporting Ike, and that he, not Porter, has been selected to round up Eisenhower support.

The conflict between Porter and Zwiefel has thrown confusion into Republican ranks and plays into the pro-Taft Republicans. Furthermore, what only a handful of top Republicans know is that Zwiefel is secretly committed to support Taft. He made this definite commitment on January 25 when he was in Washington for a meeting of the Republican National Committee.

Margaret's European Trip

The thing that tickles the President most about his daughter's trip to Europe is that she is paying her own way.

"She worked hard for this vacation and earned it," proud Papa Truman told Rep. Overton Brooks of Louisiana. "I'm delighted for her sake that she is going, but I'm proudest of the fact that she made it possible all by herself."

"She's a great girl and will make an excellent ambassadress of good will wherever she goes," said Brooks.

"She'll be a typical American, you can bank on that," agreed Margaret's father.

When the Louisiana congressman suggested that it would be "a good idea to let Margaret blaze the way for a trip to Europe yourself," the President replied that his plans for the rest of the year were still indefinite. It is known, however, that he has been considering such a trip.

North Korean Prisoners

It's a regrettable but inescapable fact that friction is increasing between Korean President Syngman Rhee and Gen. Matt Ridway.

Latest friction has been Rhee's nagging at Ridway to free 35,000 North Korean prisoners of war to join the South Korean Army and to help with the spring farming in South Korea. These prisoners have been screened by a South Korean inspection team, appointed by Minister of Defense Lee Kee Bung, who reported that of the 144,000 North Koreans in U.N. prison camps, 35,000 have either reformed or were not Communists in the first place.

However, the American ground forces commander in Korea, Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, rejected the report and refused to release a single North Korean. Van Fleet warned that he did not trust the North Koreans, that if 35,000 were released, the allies may have to capture them all over again. He was backed up in his decision by General Ridgway.

President Rhee replied that the 35,000 had been carefully screened, that most of them had been forced into the North Korean Army by Communist officials. He also argued that they were sorely needed on South Korean farms, and offered to spy on them secretly while they worked to make sure they were loyal.

Nevertheless, Ridgway refused to take any chances on freeing North Koreans who might return to fight against our troops again.

The Rev. James A. Dunnigan announces services will be held Sunday at St. Wendelinius Church in Ruby at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Ann's Church in Sawkill at 10 a. m. The text for Sunday's sermon is "None of These Men That Were Invited Shall Taste of My Supper."

Questions — Answers

Q—Of what kind of wood was "Old Ironsides" constructed?

A—According to Joshua Humphreys, the designer of the ship, the U. S. S. Constitution was made of red cedar, live oak, white oak and pitch pine. The timber came from the Carolinas and Georgia.

* * *

Q—Where did the first coconut palms grow?

A—It is not definitely known but there is a theory that they may have been spread around the world by ocean currents. Great numbers of coconut trees grew along the seashore, and when nuts drop to the beach, high tides may carry some of them out into the ocean and when washed ashore the nuts take root. Coconut trees are found on thousands of islands, also in Asia, North America, South America and Africa.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 26, 1951

RELATIVELY LOW FIRE LOSSES HERE

A better record of fire prevention and control was recorded in this city last year than in most of the nation's cities. This is revealed in the annual compilation of the fire statistics, gathered by the National Fire Protection Association from 634 cities with populations over 20,000.

Kingston ended the year with a loss of $54,237. Related to the local population, this fire damage amounted to $1.88 per person and was much less than the average of $3.79 per capita for other cities.

The efficiency of the local fire department is demonstrated by its success in rapidly bringing under control the fires with which it had to cope and keeping damage to a minimum. The loss per fire amounted to $282 as compared with an average of $580 in other cities.

In a recent communication to The Freeman, Edward F. Curren of the Underwriters Rating Board states in part: The reason for my writing this letter in these days of investigations, particularly with reference to public servants, it is certainly refreshing to encounter such a conscientious public servant as Joe Murphy has been to the City of Kingston for more than twenty-five years. In the opinion of the fire people, insurance and otherwise, in the State of New York, Joe is one of the most capable and conscientious public officials in the Empire State.

In the instance of the Public School No. 5 fire, not only did Chief Murphy make the determination that this was an incendiary fire, but if any citizen of Kingston would like to view a masterpiece in fire extinguishment they should see the "stop" made by the Kingston Fire Department in that school building. In my twenty-five years experience in the fire game I have never seen a better job done, regardless of the community.

The job done by the Fire Department certainly merits praise, and I certainly trust that the police phase of the work in apprehending the perpetrator of the crime will be of similar character.

MEMORIAL DAY TRIPS

The need for safety consciousness during Memorial Day trips has been emphasized by Thomas W. Ryan, State Director of Safety.

Weather conditions permitting, the highways will be crowded and beaches and resorts will be thronged. The hazard potential will be increased greatly but the usual toll of accidents for this the first of the summer holidays will be decreased greatly if everyone is a bit more careful in their activities.

Whether it be driving an automobile, walking along the highway, crossing the street, swimming, boating or indulgence in other forms of seasonable recreation, do it with care, caution and moderation. Start your outdoor season by being safety conscious on Memorial Day and have an enjoyable summer to look forward to.

The National Safety Council points out that one of the major check-points, often overlooked but vital to safety, is the condition of windshield blades.

Motorists are urged to check not only the operation of the wipers, but also the effectiveness of the blades themselves. This depends on clean glass and on replacement of blades if necessary.

The importance of windshield smear as an accident cause cannot be measured accurately, but the glare of a streaked or smeared windshield when the sun or approaching headlights strike it undoubtedly contributes to many mishaps.

No one can deny now that the war and subsequent occupation have brought Japan closer to the American way of life. In the old days baseball umpires were treated with the greatest respect. Now the spectators shower them with pop bottles.

With the country still excited over the Senate Crime Investigating Committee findings, it may be that the only rackets operating publicly this summer will be on the tennis courts.

THE AVOIDANCE OF TEMPTATION

With all the crookedness going on in Washington and its approaches, many solutions are offered as to how to make men as honest as they should be. For instance, the Fulbright investigation will stand as a monumental index to the possibilities of corruption through the President's office, but the fact is that nobody has been or will be punished because the misdemeanors and felonies are of a moral and not a juridical nature. To state it simply, the punishment is more likely to be in the hereafter than here.

Arthur Hays Sulzberger was delivering a speech on the greatness of his wife's father, Adolph Ochs, who bought the "New York Times" when it was doing poorly and built it into one of the foremost newspapers of all time. This speech was made before the Silurians, who are newspapermen of long standing and know whence the fact was borne. Of Ochs, Sulzberger said:

". . . He had the intelligence to avoid business temptations. He was a very human man and possessed his share of human frailties, but he knew it and so he refused to place himself in a position to be tempted. Very shortly after he arrived in New York, his friend Samuel Untermyer was the intermediary who offered him a contract for $150,000 worth of municipal advertising. No strings were attached. Mr. Untermyer would not have been a party to any deal involving his friend. But Mr. Ochs turned it down and did so on the theory that he needed the revenue so desperately that he would instantly adjust his operations to the windfall and he was unwilling to trust himself as to what he might do if, after that had happened, he was threatened with a cancellation of the contract."

The sequence of thought there represents a thoroughly theological approach to morality, which is not that man will not sin, given the opportunity, but that righteousness manifests itself by avoiding the opportunity.

I do not know why Mr. Ochs could not have taken this advertising. For it was the people's money that was being spent on advertising and the officials should or should not have put it in his newspaper strictly on the basis of its value to the people. It is like many who are today worried about sticking their necks out in political discussion lest their income tax returns be investigated, or their anti-trust relations, or their radio station licenses or some other activity which gives the government an opportunity to use its power to destroy.

The avoidance of temptation is a very hard road to follow, because for men in public life temptations are not limited to dollars or mink coats, but there is the fate worse than death of being unpopular and even obscure.

Mr. Ochs, for instance, never was on the celery circuit. That is a spreading disease which few dare avoid. I shall diagnose it for you in detail:

A public man needs to be seen. The more he is seen, the more celebrated he is. Therefore, in many places, he is invited to attend public dinners where he sits on the dais. Usually this takes four to five hours out of his life. The chairs are the most uncomfortable that a hotel can find and the food is stereotyped, having, on the whole, degenerated dreadfully during the past decade.

Well, the celebrity sits there until his name is called. Then he rises for a bow amid perfunctory applause. Then he sits down. That makes him a celebrity. When he goes home, his wife asks him, "What happened?" He answers, "I took a bow."

Adolph Ochs never went to such places. His business manager, Louis Wiley, did it nearly every night of his life and he enjoyed it. But Ochs stayed away and when it came to putting plugs in his paper, few knew him well enough to ask for them.

There are differences of opinion on how to live, but the yearning for popularity is a greater temptation than the yearning for dollars. It becomes a debasement of personality, a craven currying of vulgar favor in the desire to be seen, heard and patted on the back. The price for fulsome praise is often too high and shaving has this drawback, that it forces one to look at his own face at least once a day.

That Body of Yours

REHABILITATION OF HEART PATIENTS

One of the good things learned from World Wars 1 and 2 was that an attack of heart disease (coronary thrombosis) does not mean that the patient is doomed nor that another attack will prove fatal. This "death sentence" of prewar days is not commonly heard any more; today physicians, particularly heart specialists, have outlined a program of rehabilitation which, if followed faithfully by the patient, does in many cases rehabiltate him, making it possible for him to return to his occupation with practically no fear for the future.

In Modern Concepts of Cardiovascular Disease, published monthly by the American Heart Association, rehabilitation is defined as "the return of a person disabled by accident or disease to his greatest physical, mental, emotional, social, vocational and economic usefulness, and, if employable, an opportunity for gainful employment."

In addition, it is emphasized that, while economic security is essential, rehabilitation aims also at maintaining the "personal dignity" of the individual and enlarging his capacity for living by enabling him to make the best of his physical and mental faculties. Rehabilitation of the patient with heart and blood vessel disease, then, would meet practically the complete need of the individual, enabling him to become a normal member of the community.

It is estimated that of those who have come safely through their first attack of coronary thrombosis, from 40 to 70 per cent suffer some decrease in mental and physical ability.

While at present there is no complete knowledge of how to prevent further attacks it is known that living on a lower level of mental and physical activity is saving many lives. However, endocarditis (inflammation of the lining of the heart), formerly nearly always fatal, is now being cured by penicillin and the sulfa drugs. Also, we are reading almost daily of the wonderful results of surgery of the heart which is preventing death in children and young adults who have been afflicted with heart disease from birth. And, finally, the discovery of drugs which prevent the formation of blood clots, so often the cause of coronary thrombosis or heart stroke, is enabling these individuals to live nearly the normal life-span.

The American Heart Association points out that the rehabilitation of men and women with heart disease so that they can, within certain limits, do necessary work and thus release many who are greatly needed, greatly increases the manpower of the nation and raises the morale of these individuals.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A group within the cabinet and the State Department Policy Committee are working backstage with the Democratic National Committee to find a successor for Dean Acheson. They regard their job as twofold: 1. To convince the President he ought to let Acheson go for the good of the country and party; 2. To find a man so acceptable that HST will buy.

One leader of this group is Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, and this was a main topic for discussion behind closed doors at the Denver Democratic powwow. The formula this group has in mind as Acheson's successor is: A progressive, internationally minded Republican, vigorous, healthy, and with congressional experience.

Secretary Chapman, who will deny this vigorously if questioned, even sounded out one possible candidate before going to Denver.

GOP's Best Target

It is no accident that Republican senators launch a barrage against Dean Acheson at least once a week, interspersed with predictions that he is about to be fired.

For the Republicans have found: 1. That Acheson is one of their best political assets; and 2. They are shrewd enough to know that the more they jump on him, the longer Truman will freeze him into office.

It sounds incredible, but it is almost axiomatic in the Truman administration that when you criticize a public official too vigorously, you arouse Harry Truman's fighting instincts and insure that he will stay on indefinitely. That's what happened when I went after General Harry Vaughan.

Inside fact is that Acheson had told the President last year that he wanted to retire. There was even talk that he would step out around Jan. 1. But MacArthur's tragic reversal in North Korea occured in November-December, followed by British Prime Minister Attlee's hurried trip to Washington.

After this crisis had cooled, it again looked as if Acheson were ready to retire. But suddenly the MacArthur debate burst loose.

And by now the Republicans realize that he is their best political target and they are determined to keep hammering at him: First, because it pays political dividends; second, because it's the best way to make sure that Harry Truman keeps their political target on target.

Once the President removes that target from the political horizon, there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth inside the GOP.

Hollywood Senator

A ghost writer with Hollywood ambitions is one reason why Sen. Alex Wiley of Wisconsin has suddenly changed character from a jovial jokster to a baiter of Gen. Omar Bradley.

The ghost writer is Julius Cahn, supplied to the Wisconsin senator by the Republican National Committee as his secretary. Cahn writes Wiley's speeches, asked questions for him at the Kefauver committee, and even produced a movie skit of the senator.

Before the MacArthur hearings, Senator Wiley was chiefly famous as an expert on Wisconsin cheese and a mild foreign-relations follower of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg. But, since being coached in the Hollywood technique, he has bristled forth as a baiter of generals.

Taft vs. Ike

The bitter feud between the pro-Taft and pro-Eisenhower factions inside the Republican party so far has been carefully concealed. However, the current struggle for convention delegates will soon force both factions out into the open.

The fight for Texas's 37 delegates to the Republican convention is typical of the undercover contest between the friends of Taft and Ike, which is taking place in practically every state of the union.

Eisenhower spokesman in Texas is Houston's wealthy oilman, H. J. "Jack" Porter, a long-time personal friend of Ike's and a big contributor to the GOP. Porter has been quietly lining up delegates and is in frequent touch with Pennsylvania's astute Sen. Jim Duff, unofficial captain of the pro-Eisenhower forces.

In recent weeks, however, Porter's well-laid plans have been thrown out of gear by Republican National Committeeman Henry Zwiefel of Fort Worth, who is passing out word that he's supporting Ike, and that he, not Porter, has been selected to round up Eisenhower support.

The conflict between Porter and Zwiefel has thrown confusion into Republican ranks and plays into the pro-Taft Republicans. Furthermore, what only a handful of top Republicans know is that Zwiefel is secretly committed to support Taft. He made this definite commitment on January 25 when he was in Washington for a meeting of the Republican National Committee.

Margaret's European Trip

The thing that tickles the President most about his daughter's trip to Europe is that she is paying her own way.

"She worked hard for this vacation and earned it," proud Papa Truman told Rep. Overton Brooks of Louisiana. "I'm delighted for her sake that she is going, but I'm proudest of the fact that she made it possible all by herself."

"She's a great girl and will make an excellent ambassadress of good will wherever she goes," said Brooks.

"She'll be a typical American, you can bank on that," agreed Margaret's father.

When the Louisiana congressman suggested that it would be "a good idea to let Margaret blaze the way for a trip to Europe yourself," the President replied that his plans for the rest of the year were still indefinite. It is known, however, that he has been considering such a trip.

North Korean Prisoners

It's a regrettable but inescapable fact that friction is increasing between Korean President Syngman Rhee and Gen. Matt Ridway.

Latest friction has been Rhee's nagging at Ridway to free 35,000 North Korean prisoners of war to join the South Korean Army and to help with the spring farming in South Korea. These prisoners have been screened by a South Korean inspection team, appointed by Minister of Defense Lee Kee Bung, who reported that of the 144,000 North Koreans in U.N. prison camps, 35,000 have either reformed or were not Communists in the first place.

However, the American ground forces commander in Korea, Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, rejected the report and refused to release a single North Korean. Van Fleet warned that he did not trust the North Koreans, that if 35,000 were released, the allies may have to capture them all over again. He was backed up in his decision by General Ridgway.

President Rhee replied that the 35,000 had been carefully screened, that most of them had been forced into the North Korean Army by Communist officials. He also argued that they were sorely needed on South Korean farms, and offered to spy on them secretly while they worked to make sure they were loyal.

Nevertheless, Ridgway refused to take any chances on freeing North Koreans who might return to fight against our troops again.

Questions — Answers

Q—Of what kind of wood was "Old Ironsides" constructed?

A—According to Joshua Humphreys, the designer of the ship, the U. S. S. Constitution was made of red cedar, live oak, white oak and pitch pine. The timber came from the Carolinas and Georgia.

* * *

Q—Where did the first coconut palms grow?

A—It is not definitely known but there is a theory that they may have been spread around the world by ocean currents. Great numbers of coconut trees grew along the seashore, and when nuts drop to the beach, high tides may carry some of them out into the ocean and when washed ashore the nuts take root. Coconut trees are found on thousands of islands, also in Asia, North America, South America and Africa.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 26, 1951

RELATIVELY LOW FIRE LOSSES HERE

A better record of fire prevention and control was recorded in this city last year than in most of the nation's cities. This is revealed in the annual compilation of the fire statistics, gathered by the National Fire Protection Association from 634 cities with populations over 20,000.

Kingston ended the year with a loss of $54,237. Related to the local population, this fire damage amounted to $1.88 per person and was much less than the average of $3.79 per capita for other cities.

The efficiency of the local fire department is demonstrated by its success in rapidly bringing under control the fires with which it had to cope and keeping damage to a minimum. The loss per fire amounted to $282 as compared with an average of $580 in other cities.

In a recent communication to The Freeman, Edward F. Curren of the Underwriters Rating Board states in part: The reason for my writing this letter in these days of investigations, particularly with reference to public servants, it is certainly refreshing to encounter such a conscientious public servant as Joe Murphy has been to the City of Kingston for more than twenty-five years. In the opinion of the fire people, insurance and otherwise, in the State of New York, Joe is one of the most capable and conscientious public officials in the Empire State.

In the instance of the Public School No. 5 fire, not only did Chief Murphy make the determination that this was an incendiary fire, but if any citizen of Kingston would like to view a masterpiece in fire extinguishment they should see the "stop" made by the Kingston Fire Department in that school building. In my twenty-five years experience in the fire game I have never seen a better job done, regardless of the community.

The job done by the Fire Department certainly merits praise, and I certainly trust that the police phase of the work in apprehending the perpetrator of the crime will be of similar character.

MEMORIAL DAY TRIPS

The need for safety consciousness during Memorial Day trips has been emphasized by Thomas W. Ryan, State Director of Safety.

Weather conditions permitting, the highways will be crowded and beaches and resorts will be thronged. The hazard potential will be increased greatly but the usual toll of accidents for this the first of the summer holidays will be decreased greatly if everyone is a bit more careful in their activities.

Whether it be driving an automobile, walking along the highway, crossing the street, swimming, boating or indulgence in other forms of seasonable recreation, do it with care, caution and moderation. Start your outdoor season by being safety conscious on Memorial Day and have an enjoyable summer to look forward to.

The National Safety Council points out that one of the major check-points, often overlooked but vital to safety, is the condition of windshield blades.

Motorists are urged to check not only the operation of the wipers, but also the effectiveness of the blades themselves. This depends on clean glass and on replacement of blades if necessary.

The importance of windshield smear as an accident cause cannot be measured accurately, but the glare of a streaked or smeared windshield when the sun or approaching headlights strike it undoubtedly contributes to many mishaps.

No one can deny now that the war and subsequent occupation have brought Japan closer to the American way of life. In the old days baseball umpires were treated with the greatest respect. Now the spectators shower them with pop bottles.

With the country still excited over the Senate Crime Investigating Committee findings, it may be that the only rackets operating publicly this summer will be on the tennis courts.

THE AVOIDANCE OF TEMPTATION

With all the crookedness going on in Washington and its approaches, many solutions are offered as to how to make men as honest as they should be. For instance, the Fulbright investigation will stand as a monumental index to the possibilities of corruption through the President's office, but the fact is that nobody has been or will be punished because the misdemeanors and felonies are of a moral and not a juridical nature. To state it simply, the punishment is more likely to be in the hereafter than here.

Arthur Hays Sulzberger was delivering a speech on the greatness of his wife's father, Adolph Ochs, who bought the "New York Times" when it was doing poorly and built it into one of the foremost newspapers of all time. This speech was made before the Silurians, who are newspapermen of long standing and know whence the fact was borne. Of Ochs, Sulzberger said:

". . . He had the intelligence to avoid business temptations. He was a very human man and possessed his share of human frailties, but he knew it and so he refused to place himself in a position to be tempted. Very shortly after he arrived in New York, his friend Samuel Untermyer was the intermediary who offered him a contract for $150,000 worth of municipal advertising. No strings were attached. Mr. Untermyer would not have been a party to any deal involving his friend. But Mr. Ochs turned it down and did so on the theory that he needed the revenue so desperately that he would instantly adjust his operations to the windfall and he was unwilling to trust himself as to what he might do if, after that had happened, he was threatened with a cancellation of the contract."

The sequence of thought there represents a thoroughly theological approach to morality, which is not that man will not sin, given the opportunity, but that righteousness manifests itself by avoiding the opportunity.

I do not know why Mr. Ochs could not have taken this advertising. For it was the people's money that was being spent on advertising and the officials should or should not have put it in his newspaper strictly on the basis of its value to the people. It is like many who are today worried about sticking their necks out in political discussion lest their income tax returns be investigated, or their anti-trust relations, or their radio station licenses or some other activity which gives the government an opportunity to use its power to destroy.

The avoidance of temptation is a very hard road to follow, because for men in public life temptations are not limited to dollars or mink coats, but there is the fate worse than death of being unpopular and even obscure.

Mr. Ochs, for instance, never was on the celery circuit. That is a spreading disease which few dare avoid. I shall diagnose it for you in detail:

A public man needs to be seen. The more he is seen, the more celebrated he is. Therefore, in many places, he is invited to attend public dinners where he sits on the dais. Usually this takes four to five hours out of his life. The chairs are the most uncomfortable that a hotel can find and the food is stereotyped, having, on the whole, degenerated dreadfully during the past decade.

Well, the celebrity sits there until his name is called. Then he rises for a bow amid perfunctory applause. Then he sits down. That makes him a celebrity. When he goes home, his wife asks him, "What happened?" He answers, "I took a bow."

Adolph Ochs never went to such places. His business manager, Louis Wiley, did it nearly every night of his life and he enjoyed it. But Ochs stayed away and when it came to putting plugs in his paper, few knew him well enough to ask for them.

There are differences of opinion on how to live, but the yearning for popularity is a greater temptation than the yearning for dollars. It becomes a debasement of personality, a craven currying of vulgar favor in the desire to be seen, heard and patted on the back. The price for fulsome praise is often too high and shaving has this drawback, that it forces one to look at his own face at least once a day.

That Body of Yours

REHABILITATION OF HEART PATIENTS

One of the good things learned from World Wars 1 and 2 was that an attack of heart disease (coronary thrombosis) does not mean that the patient is doomed nor that another attack will prove fatal. This "death sentence" of prewar days is not commonly heard any more; today physicians, particularly heart specialists, have outlined a program of rehabilitation which, if followed faithfully by the patient, does in many cases rehabiltate him, making it possible for him to return to his occupation with practically no fear for the future.

In Modern Concepts of Cardiovascular Disease, published monthly by the American Heart Association, rehabilitation is defined as "the return of a person disabled by accident or disease to his greatest physical, mental, emotional, social, vocational and economic usefulness, and, if employable, an opportunity for gainful employment."

In addition, it is emphasized that, while economic security is essential, rehabilitation aims also at maintaining the "personal dignity" of the individual and enlarging his capacity for living by enabling him to make the best of his physical and mental faculties. Rehabilitation of the patient with heart and blood vessel disease, then, would meet practically the complete need of the individual, enabling him to become a normal member of the community.

It is estimated that of those who have come safely through their first attack of coronary thrombosis, from 40 to 70 per cent suffer some decrease in mental and physical ability.

While at present there is no complete knowledge of how to prevent further attacks it is known that living on a lower level of mental and physical activity is saving many lives. However, endocarditis (inflammation of the lining of the heart), formerly nearly always fatal, is now being cured by penicillin and the sulfa drugs. Also, we are reading almost daily of the wonderful results of surgery of the heart which is preventing death in children and young adults who have been afflicted with heart disease from birth. And, finally, the discovery of drugs which prevent the formation of blood clots, so often the cause of coronary thrombosis or heart stroke, is enabling these individuals to live nearly the normal life-span.

The American Heart Association points out that the rehabilitation of men and women with heart disease so that they can, within certain limits, do necessary work and thus release many who are greatly needed, greatly increases the manpower of the nation and raises the morale of these individuals.

Why Worry About Your Heart?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A group within the cabinet and the State Department Policy Committee are working backstage with the Democratic National Committee to find a successor for Dean Acheson. They regard their job as twofold: 1. To convince the President he ought to let Acheson go for the good of the country and party; 2. To find a man so acceptable that HST will buy.

One leader of this group is Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, and this was a main topic for discussion behind closed doors at the Denver Democratic powwow. The formula this group has in mind as Acheson's successor is: A progressive, internationally minded Republican, vigorous, healthy, and with congressional experience.

Secretary Chapman, who will deny this vigorously if questioned, even sounded out one possible candidate before going to Denver.

GOP's Best Target

It is no accident that Republican senators launch a barrage against Dean Acheson at least once a week, interspersed with predictions that he is about to be fired.

For the Republicans have found: 1. That Acheson is one of their best political assets; and 2. They are shrewd enough to know that the more they jump on him, the longer Truman will freeze him into office.

It sounds incredible, but it is almost axiomatic in the Truman administration that when you criticize a public official too vigorously, you arouse Harry Truman's fighting instincts and insure that he will stay on indefinitely. That's what happened when I went after General Harry Vaughan.

Inside fact is that Acheson had told the President last year that he wanted to retire. There was even talk that he would step out around Jan. 1. But MacArthur's tragic reversal in North Korea occured in November-December, followed by British Prime Minister Attlee's hurried trip to Washington.

After this crisis had cooled, it again looked as if Acheson were ready to retire. But suddenly the MacArthur debate burst loose.

And by now the Republicans realize that he is their best political target and they are determined to keep hammering at him: First, because it pays political dividends; second, because it's the best way to make sure that Harry Truman keeps their political target on target.

Once the President removes that target from the political horizon, there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth inside the GOP.

Hollywood Senator

A ghost writer with Hollywood ambitions is one reason why Sen. Alex Wiley of Wisconsin has suddenly changed character from a jovial jokster to a baiter of Gen. Omar Bradley.

The ghost writer is Julius Cahn, supplied to the Wisconsin senator by the Republican National Committee as his secretary. Cahn writes Wiley's speeches, asked questions for him at the Kefauver committee, and even produced a movie skit of the senator.

Before the MacArthur hearings, Senator Wiley was chiefly famous as an expert on Wisconsin cheese and a mild foreign-relations follower of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg. But, since being coached in the Hollywood technique, he has bristled forth as a baiter of generals.

Taft vs. Ike

The bitter feud between the pro-Taft and pro-Eisenhower factions inside the Republican party so far has been carefully concealed. However, the current struggle for convention delegates will soon force both factions out into the open.

The fight for Texas's 37 delegates to the Republican convention is typical of the undercover contest between the friends of Taft and Ike, which is taking place in practically every state of the union.

Eisenhower spokesman in Texas is Houston's wealthy oilman, H. J. "Jack" Porter, a long-time personal friend of Ike's and a big contributor to the GOP. Porter has been quietly lining up delegates and is in frequent touch with Pennsylvania's astute Sen. Jim Duff, unofficial captain of the pro-Eisenhower forces.

In recent weeks, however, Porter's well-laid plans have been thrown out of gear by Republican National Committeeman Henry Zwiefel of Fort Worth, who is passing out word that he's supporting Ike, and that he, not Porter, has been selected to round up Eisenhower support.

The conflict between Porter and Zwiefel has thrown confusion into Republican ranks and plays into the pro-Taft Republicans. Furthermore, what only a handful of top Republicans know is that Zwiefel is secretly committed to support Taft. He made this definite commitment on January 25 when he was in Washington for a meeting of the Republican National Committee.

Margaret's European Trip

The thing that tickles the President most about his daughter's trip to Europe is that she is paying her own way.

"She worked hard for this vacation and earned it," proud Papa Truman told Rep. Overton Brooks of Louisiana. "I'm delighted for her sake that she is going, but I'm proudest of the fact that she made it possible all by herself."

"She's a great girl and will make an excellent ambassadress of good will wherever she goes," said Brooks.

"She'll be a typical American, you can bank on that," agreed Margaret's father.

When the Louisiana congressman suggested that it would be "a good idea to let Margaret blaze the way for a trip to Europe yourself," the President replied that his plans for the rest of the year were still indefinite. It is known, however, that he has been considering such a trip.

North Korean Prisoners

Latest friction has been Rhee's nagging at Ridway to free 35,000 North Korean prisoners of war to join the South Korean Army and to help with the spring farming in South Korea. These prisoners have been screened by a South Korean inspection team, appointed by Minister of Defense Lee Kee Bung, who reported that of the 144,000 North Koreans in U.N. prison camps, 35,000 have either reformed or were not Communists in the first place.

However, the American ground forces commander in Korea, Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, rejected the report and refused to release a single North Korean. Van Fleet warned that he did not trust the North Koreans, that if 35,000 were released, the allies may have to capture them all over again. He was backed up in his decision by General Ridgway.

President Rhee replied that the 35,000 had been carefully screened, that most of them had been forced into the North Korean Army by Communist officials. He also argued that they were sorely needed on South Korean farms, and offered to spy on them secretly while they worked to make sure they were loyal.

Nevertheless, Ridgway refused to take any chances on freeing North Koreans who might return to fight against our troops again.

Questions — Answers

Q—Of what kind of wood was "Old Ironsides" constructed?

A—According to Joshua Humphreys, the designer of the ship, the U. S. S. Constitution was made of red cedar, live oak, white oak and pitch pine. The timber came from the Carolinas and Georgia.

* * *

Q—Where did the first coconut palms grow?

A—It is not definitely known but there is a theory that they may have been spread around the world by ocean currents. Great numbers of coconut trees grew along the seashore, and when nuts drop to the beach, high tides may carry some of them out into the ocean and when washed ashore the nuts take root. Coconut trees are found on thousands of islands, also in Asia, North America, South America and Africa.

NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of the powers vested in me by law, I shall, on Wednesday, the 13th day of June, 1951, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, commence, selling at public auction, so much of each of the said several and respective lots, tracts, pieces or parcels of land, as shall be sufficient to pay all State, County, Highway, School or other taxes assessed thereon in the year 1949, that may then remain due on each thereof, respectively, together with the interest, costs and charges which have arisen or accrued or that may arise or accrue thereon, and shall sell, and continue from day to day to sell, until the said sale shall be completed. The purchasers at such sale shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the County Treasurer within forty-eight hours after the last day of the sale, and receive certificates describing the lands purchased, the sums paid, and the time when the purchasers will be entitled to deeds; and after the expiration of one year from the last day of such sale, they shall be entitled to receive conveyances of the lands so purchased by them, respectively, (or at their option may foreclose the lien as provided by law), unless said lands shall have been previously redeemed, pursuant to law. All liens on property involved in this sale are sold subject to the provisions of the Federal and State Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Acts.

Seventh Stops in Time

Washington, May 25 (AP) — Six army trucks loaded with anti-aircraft shells rammed into each other on the Washington-Baltimore Boulevard last night. The seventh truck in the convoy stopped in time. It carried detonators for the shells.

The name of the country Ecuador is Spanish for "equator."

The origin of the cabbage is not known.

Seventh Stops in Time

Washington, May 25 (AP) — Six army trucks loaded with anti-aircraft shells rammed into each other on the Washington-Baltimore Boulevard last night. The seventh truck in the convoy stopped in time. It carried detonators for the shells.

The name of the country Ecuador is Spanish for "equator."

The origin of the cabbage is not known.

NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of the powers vested in me by law, I shall, on Wednesday, the 13th day of June, 1951, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, commence selling at public auction, so much of each of the said several and respective lots, tracts, pieces or parcels of land, as shall be sufficient to pay all State, County, Highway, School or other taxes assessed thereon in the year 1949, that may then remain due on each thereof, respectively, together with the interest, costs and charges which have arisen or accrued or that may arise or accrue thereon, and shall sell, and continue from day to day to sell, until the said sale shall be completed. The purchasers at such sale shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the County Treasurer within forty-eight hours after the last day of the sale, and receive certificates describing the lands purchased, the sums paid, and the time when the purchasers will be entitled to deeds; and after the expiration of one year from the last day of such sale, they shall be entitled to receive conveyances of the lands so purchased by them, respectively, (or at their option may foreclose the lien as provided by law), unless said lands shall have been previously redeemed, pursuant to law. All liens on property involved in this sale are sold subject to the provisions of the Federal and State Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Acts.

JOHN T. GROVES
County Treasurer

NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of the powers vested in me by law, I shall, on Wednesday, the 13th day of June, 1951, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, commence, selling at public auction, so much of each of the said several and respective lots, tracts, pieces or parcels of land, as shall be sufficient to pay all State, County, Highway, School or other taxes assessed thereon in the year 1949, that may then remain due on each thereof, respectively, together with the interest, costs and charges which have arisen or accrued or that may arise or accrue thereon, and shall sell, and continue from day to day to sell, until the said sale shall be completed. The purchasers at such sale shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the County Treasurer within forty-eight hours after the last day of the sale, and receive certificates describing the lands purchased, the sums paid, and the time when the purchasers will be entitled to deeds; and after the expiration of one year from the last day of such sale, they shall be entitled to receive conveyances of the lands so purchased by them, respectively, (or at their option may foreclose the lien as provided by law), unless said lands shall have been previously redeemed, pursuant to law. All liens on property involved in this sale are sold subject to the provisions of the Federal and State Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Acts.

JOHN T. GROVES
County Treasurer

Seventh Stops in Time

Washington, May 25 (AP) — Six army trucks loaded with anti-aircraft shells rammed into each other on the Washington-Baltimore Boulevard last night. The seventh truck in the convoy stopped in time. It carried detonators for the shells.

The name of the country Ecuador is Spanish for "equator."

The origin of the cabbage is not known.

Life Story—He owed his success to his first wife—and his second wife to his success—Times of Brazil (Sao Paulo).

Foreman—How is it that, although you and Jim started diggin' at the same time, he has a bigger pile of dirt than you.

Sambo—Well, you see, boss, he's diggin' a bigger hole.

Mrs. Hi Hum most henpecked man's wife, was scanning herself in the mirror.

She—I have just noted again that I have a very small mouth. Looking at it in the mirror, it hardly seems big enough to hold my tongue.

He—It certainly isn't. (But he said it to himself.)

One of the things we have to be thankful for is that we don't get as much government as we pay for.

The Bible mentions a "peace which surpasseth all understanding." It would seem that is the kind we are going to get.

Seen over the cashier's window in a hotel: "We do not cash checks—even if they are good ones."

Two boys were discussing the bravery of their parents.

First Boy—In the World War my father single handed captured three German machine gun nests.

Other Boy—My dad fought in that war, too. But he doesn't brag much about his heroism there. What he really brags about is his courage in buying a new coupe when mother insisted on a sedan.

A help wanted ad in the Oklahoma City Times read: "Men to work with dynamite, must be willing to travel."—Mrs. C. E. Rose, Shawnee, Okla.

Catty Friend—Yes, she'll never tell anyone how long ago it was.

Man—Your wife used to be terribly nervous. Now she's cool and composed. What cured her?

Friend—The doctor did. He told her that her kind of nervousness was the natural result of advancing age.

Fill It In

Dad says that back-seat drivers
Would save much strain and stress
If they'd employ "contest technique,"
Use 25 words—or less.
—Mrs. Ruth Dabés

Life Story—He owed his success to his first wife—and his second wife to his success—Times of Brazil (Sao Paulo).

Foreman—How is it that, although you and Jim started diggin' at the same time, he has a bigger pile of dirt than you.

Sambo—Well, you see, boss, he's diggin' a bigger hole.

Mrs. Hi Hum most henpecked man's wife, was scanning herself in the mirror.

She—I have just noted again that I have a very small mouth. Looking at it in the mirror, it hardly seems big enough to hold my tongue.

He—It certainly isn't. (But he said it to himself.)

One of the things we have to be thankful for is that we don't get as much government as we pay for.

The Bible mentions a "peace which surpasseth all understanding." It would seem that is the kind we are going to get.

Seen over the cashier's window in a hotel: "We do not cash checks—even if they are good ones."

Two boys were discussing the bravery of their parents.

First Boy—In the World War my father single handed captured three German machine gun nests.

Other Boy—My dad fought in that war, too. But he doesn't brag much about his heroism there. What he really brags about is his courage in buying a new coupe when mother insisted on a sedan.

A help wanted ad in the Oklahoma City Times read: "Men to work with dynamite, must be willing to travel."—Mrs. C. E. Rose, Shawnee, Okla.

Catty Friend—Yes, she'll never tell anyone how long ago it was.

Man—Your wife used to be terribly nervous. Now she's cool and composed. What cured her?

Friend—The doctor did. He told her that her kind of nervousness was the natural result of advancing age.

St. James WSCS Urged to Evaluate Spiritual Growth During Past Season

A searching series of questions, designed to evaluate members' spiritual growth, were presented by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, president, Wednesday, during a luncheon meeting of the WSCS of St. James Methodist Church.

The afternoon session was opened by Mrs. George Shultis, who, speaking on World Federation, reminded members that there are already 4,000,000 women serving in the Methodist Federation of Women. Now that women in 50 countries have been given the franchise, she said, Christian women need more than ever to present a united front.

Also among the speakers was the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, who, in a short message quoted Dr. Temple as saying "one great new fact is the increasing togetherness of Christian peoples." Following his address the Rev. Dr. Houston installed the club's new officers: Mrs. Reynolds, president; Mrs. Odell Black, vice-president; Mrs. James Lock, secretary; Mrs. Theron Culver, treasurer; Mrs. Lucy Baker, president, Wesleyan Service Guild; Mrs. C. Franklin Pierce, promotional secretary; Mrs. Charles Willt, local church activities secretary; Mrs. James Guttridge, missionary education and service secretary; Mrs. John MacKinnon, Christian social relatins and status of women secretary; Mrs. Clifford Smith, student work secretary; Mrs. C. J. Gross, youth work secretary; Mrs. Joseph McNierney, children's work secretary; Mrs. Caspar Gunther, spiritual life secretary; Mrs. Elwood Ackerly, supply work secretary; Mrs. Robert Pixley, literature and publications secretary; Miss Katherine Riseley, printing and publicity committee chairman; Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, fellowship committee chairman; Mrs. Harry Reppert, membership committee chairman; Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton, community service chairman; Mrs. George Lewis, evening circle chairman; the Mmes. Robert Lent, C. T. Nygaard, Minnie B. Dunnagan, afternoon circle chairmen.

"To everyone goes credit for whatever success we have had," Mrs. Reynolds told the group in her opening remarks. "If we were to open the ledger of the yearbook of the Women's Society of Christian Service, on the one side would be the finances, all in perfect order, but on the other side, all a part of the same picture, would be written in bold letters across the top our spiritual growth. How much have we grown spiritually?"

Mrs. Reynolds also asked members if they had remembered Christ's words, "Be ye therefore, even as your Father in Heaven, is perfect." She questioned "Toward that end have we worked? Have we remembered the golden rule? Have we been kindly toward one another? Have we accepted people according to their plane of living? Have we remembered the further we progress, the more is expected? Have we remembered to give a word of praise where it was well deserved . . ? Has our criticism been of a helpful nature. That," she added, "is the score each one of us has to tally up. If the grand total shows for growth, then we have grown . . . strengthened the WSCS in our church . . . and throughout the world."

In conclusion, Mr. Reynolds urged members to concentrate on spiritual values, quoting Christ when He said, "For what profiteth a man if he gains the whole world, yet in so doing the loseth his soul."

Hostesses at the luncheon were the Mmes. Ralph Houston, Cornelius Treadwell, Robert Lent, and Odell Black.

Future dates announced included the new council of the Federated Church Group which will meet June 1 at 8 p. m. at the YWCA; an outing June 13 at the summer home of Mrs. Allan Hanstein, Westkill; a Training Institute at Drew Seminary July 24 to 27. Those wishing transportation for the outing or information on the Institute are asked to call Mrs. Pierce at 3998-M.

Scout Camp Wendy Prepares for Full Six Week Season

The staff of the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp Wendy is preparing for a capacity six-week season beginning July 1, with a total of 254 campers already registered.

Several openings remain in the third and final period, July 30 to August 11, but immediate registration by county Girl Scouts wishing to attend is necessary to insure acceptance. There is already a waiting list of out-of-county girls.

The camp, located at Wallkill, will be open for public inspection on the week-end of May 26 and 27, at which time camp committee and staff members will be present to talk with interested parents and girls.

With much work to be done in putting the camp in shape for the season, committee members hope that many friends of scouting will be present during the week-end to help. Adults willing to spend the time doing a service to girls and to scouting have been invited to come "ready to work" and to bring their own tools, as rakes and saws. A staff member will be at the camp to delegate the work, Everyone is invited.

The camp staff will again be headed by Mrs. Ethel F. Martin of Kingston, who was last year's camp director. Elizabeth F. Leehive of 30 Emerson street will return for her fifth year as camp cook. Her dishes, especially her Brown Betty, have gained much popularity among the children.

Among the other Kingston persons on the staff will be Miss Jean Comstock of Lucas avenue, who graduates this year from Sargent, Cambridge, Mass. She will be unit leader in the older intermediate group and will lead a well-rounded physical program which will include folk dancing. Vivian Richards of West Chester street will be unit assistant counselor for the Brownies, and Carol Talleur of Elmendorf street will be song and dance consultant. Miss Richards and Miss Talleur are Kingston High School students, the latter a member of the graduating class of 1951. Kathleen Davis of Plymouth avenue, Patricia McCaffrey of Hasbrouck avenue and Anne Oakley of Napanoch are kitchen aides.

Mrs. William Cole Is Contest Winner

KATHRYN F. COLE

Mrs. William Cole, 5 Clinton avenue, this city, earned fifth place in a contest conducted by the Dictaphone Corporation at the exposition of office machinery and equipment held recently in New York. The contest, which 300 competitors from northeastern United States entered, was conducted under the supervision of the National Office Management Association in connection with the 32nd international conference. Among the observers and judges were representatitves from the 48 states, England, France, Czechoslovakia, Hawaii, and many other countries.

A. J. McCrickard, contest manager for the Dictaphone Corporation has been quoted as commenting: "In such a large contest as we had, with some of the best operators from the metropolitan area and neighboring states, it is remarkable that Mrs. Cole should take such a high place against such high class competition. Obviously, being a dictaphone operator for a small company outside of the metropolitan area, her opportunity to gain speed and efficiency would not be as great as that of competitors from larger companies who spend a full eight-hour day at that type of work.

Mrs. Cole is employed as a sales correspondent at the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street.

Paltz Riding Club Plans Horse Show For Memorial Day

Featured this year at the New Paltz Riding Club horse show, scheduled for Memorial Day at the State Teachers College stables, will be exhibitions of trick riding, fancy riding, and quadrille work. Grounds will open at 9 a. m. In case of rain, the show will be held June 2.

Local riders will participate in 23 classes, including those for hunters, jumpers, fine saddle horses, and the Tennessee walking horse. Awards, beginning May 25, will be on display at Osterhoudt's, Main street, New Paltz.

Judges at the sporting event will include M. T. Tully of Wachtung Stables, Summit, N. J.; Helen Tiger of Echo Acres, Washington, N. J., and Harvey Slater of Highland.

The various classes are still open for additional entries, it has been announced, and blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Norman Whitmore, New Paltz.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

WEDDING POSTPONED

This is a question which comes up rather often in my letters: "If a wedding has to be put off, must the same people be invited again?"

Usually, yes. But if something serious has befallen, such as a death in the family or financial reverses, and the wedding preparations greatly simplified, then the list of invitations would have to be reduced.

"Pinning' a Girl

Dear Mrs. Post: Should my son's family make the usual overtures to the family of the girl he "pins"? Both are at the same college and this is customary when a man thinks in terms of one girl. As a rule it is the same as being engaged until he can afford to get her a ring.

Answer: If I understand that you consider the custom an accepted announcement of intended marriage, then the conventional betrothal formalities must apply. But the person you should ask about this is your son.

Veil in Evening

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told it is incorrect to wear a hat which has a veil hanging down over the face at an evening hour.

Answer: I am sorry to have to reply that a veil over the face in the evening in incorrect. In fact it reminds me of the old-fashioned southern expression of my childhood — nothing could be more tacky!

Unusual Wedding Question

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissible to accept the honor of attending a bride and not be present at her reception? I could take part in the wedding but a very important engagement would prevent my remaining at the reception.

Answer: This depends entirely upon whether the bride would be willing to have you do this. (You must, however, ask her to be sincerely frank).

Passing Salt and Pepper

Dear Mrs. Post: When someone asked to be passed the salt or the pepper shakers, how should this be done? Two together so they won't be separated, or only the one asked for?

Answer: Only the one asked for.

* * *

Do you zigzag back and forth when you cut meat with your knife and fork? How to properly cut and eat meat is included in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-19. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Ministers Honor Rev. R. J. Pontier At Dinner Friday

A farewell dinner was held Friday in honor of the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, before his departure from Kingston to take over the pastorate of the Reformed Church of Port Jervis.

The luncheon, sponsored by the Kingston Ministerial Association, was held in the Fair Street Reformed Church, and was served by the ladies of the church. A large number of ministers and their wives, representing the churches of Kingston and vicinity were present. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, host pastor, presided, and introduced speakers representing the various denominations, and Dr. Burton F. Tarr, president of the Association spoke for the group. Each speaker complimented the Rev. Mr. Pontier highly for his splendid spirit of cooperation during his pastorate in Kingston, and for his clear-cut and courageous stand on many issues concerning the life of the community. While in Kingston, the Rev. Mr. Pontier has served the Ministerial Association as president.

A floral piece was given to Mrs. Pontier, and a copy of Young's "Concordance of the Bible" was presented to the Rev. Mr. Pontier by the following members of the Ministerial Association:

The Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor emeritus of the Fair Street Reformed Church; the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, Fair Street Reformed; the Rev. Milton H. Ryan, Ashokan Methodist; the Rev. David C. Weidner, former pastor of the Bloomington Reformed; the Rev. Marshall Smith, Franklin Street AME Zion; the Rev. Joseph E. Carlin, Bloomington Reformed; the Rev. Jack Savage, Olive Bridge Methodist; the Rev. Harry E. Christiana, Port Ewen Reformed; the Rev. C. W. Christman, Jr., Saugerties Methodist; the Rev. John B. Steketee, retired Reformed Church pastor; the Rev. Dr. Burton F. Tarr, district superintendent of the Methodist Church; the Rev. Harold E. Schaible, Ponckhockie Congregational.

Also, Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Temple Emanuel; the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, Trinity Lutheran; the Rev. David C. Gaise, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer; the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, St. James Methodist; the Rev. Robert D. Dickson, Saugerties Reformed; the Rev. Herbert I. Killinder, Flatbush Reformed; the Rev. Walter R. Washington, River View Baptist Church; the Rev. Fred F. Fike, Nazarene Church; the Rev. John Dykstra, Hurley Reformed; the Rev. Donald E. Brown, First Baptist; the Rev. William J. McVey, First Presbyterian and the Rev. Ivan Gossoo, Trinity Methodist.

Burt Tandy, of the YMCA, and also a member of the Ministerial Association, and Clarence Corell, Boy's Secretary of the Y, also assisted in obtaining the gift for the guest.

The Rev. Mr. McVey, a close personal friend of the Rev. Mr. Pontier, made the speech of presentation, after which the latter spoke briefly expressing his gratitude.

The Rev. Mr. Pontier and his family will leave Tuesday to assume his new duties at the Port Jervis charge.

B'nai B'rith

Zephaniah Chapter of B'nai B'rith has extended an invitation to all members and prospective members to attend its annual paid-up membership tea Monday at 8 p. m. in the B'nai B'rith building, when old and new members will be welcomed by Mrs. Samuel Gally, president. Following a short business meeting Mrs. Gustav Talleur of the Singers' Club of Poughkeepsie, and soloist of the Fair Street Reformed Church, will sing several solos. Mrs. Laura Willis, designer, formerly of Bergdorf Goodman, New York, will display fashions for the individual. Tea will be served.

Hospital Auxiliary

An all-day sewing meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary will be held Tuesday from 11 a. m. at the Nurses Home. Members are asked to bring their own lunch, and hostesses will serve hot coffee at noon. The auxiliary's final meeting of the season will be held that day at 2:30 p. m. It has been stressed that the work done at these meetings is necessary, and all those with portable sewing machines are urged to have them at the Nurses Home by 11 a. m. All members are urged to attend.

Quartet to Sing

The Silver Leaf Quartet of New York will be the special guests Sunday afternoon of the Church of God in Christ, 9 Mill street. The public is invited.

Move to Save Crops

San Francisco, May 26 (AP)—Federal Judge Edward P. Murphy has promised a ruling no later than Monday on the U. S. Justice Department's petition for a permanent injunction against plowing under of lettuce crops by Salinas valley growers. Murphy last week issued a temporary order of restraint to prevent further crop destruction until he is ready to rule. The petition charges the grower with an attempt to raise prices by voluntarily destroying lettuce plantings. This, the anti-trust division of the Justice Department says, is in restraint of the trade and illegal under anti-trust laws.

St. James WSCS Urged to Evaluate Spiritual Growth During Past Season

A searching series of questions, designed to evaluate members' spiritual growth, were presented by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, president, Wednesday, during a luncheon meeting of the WSCS of St. James Methodist Church.

The afternoon session was opened by Mrs. George Shultis, who, speaking on World Federation, reminded members that there are already 4,000,000 women serving in the Methodist Federation of Women. Now that women in 50 countries have been given the franchise, she said, Christian women need more than ever to present a united front.

Also among the speakers was the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, who, in a short message quoted Dr. Temple as saying "one great new fact is the increasing togetherness of Christian peoples." Following his address the Rev. Dr. Houston installed the club's new officers: Mrs. Reynolds, president; Mrs. Odell Black, vice-president; Mrs. James Lock, secretary; Mrs. Theron Culver, treasurer; Mrs. Lucy Baker, president, Wesleyan Service Guild; Mrs. C. Franklin Pierce, promotional secretary; Mrs. Charles Willt, local church activities secretary; Mrs. James Guttridge, missionary education and service secretary; Mrs. John MacKinnon, Christian social relatins and status of women secretary; Mrs. Clifford Smith, student work secretary; Mrs. C. J. Gross, youth work secretary; Mrs. Joseph McNierney, children's work secretary; Mrs. Caspar Gunther, spiritual life secretary; Mrs. Elwood Ackerly, supply work secretary; Mrs. Robert Pixley, literature and publications secretary; Miss Katherine Riseley, printing and publicity committee chairman; Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, fellowship committee chairman; Mrs. Harry Reppert, membership committee chairman; Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton, community service chairman; Mrs. George Lewis, evening circle chairman; the Mmes. Robert Lent, C. T. Nygaard, Minnie B. Dunnagan, afternoon circle chairmen.

"To everyone goes credit for whatever success we have had," Mrs. Reynolds told the group in her opening remarks. "If we were to open the ledger of the yearbook of the Women's Society of Christian Service, on the one side would be the finances, all in perfect order, but on the other side, all a part of the same picture, would be written in bold letters across the top our spiritual growth. How much have we grown spiritually?"

Mrs. Reynolds also asked members if they had remembered Christ's words, "Be ye therefore, even as your Father in Heaven, is perfect." She questioned "Toward that end have we worked? Have we remembered the golden rule? Have we been kindly toward one another? Have we accepted people according to their plane of living? Have we remembered the further we progress, the more is expected? Have we remembered to give a word of praise where it was well deserved . . ? Has our criticism been of a helpful nature. That," she added, "is the score each one of us has to tally up. If the grand total shows for growth, then we have grown . . . strengthened the WSCS in our church . . . and throughout the world."

In conclusion, Mr. Reynolds urged members to concentrate on spiritual values, quoting Christ when He said, "For what profiteth a man if he gains the whole world, yet in so doing the loseth his soul."

Hostesses at the luncheon were the Mmes. Ralph Houston, Cornelius Treadwell, Robert Lent, and Odell Black.

Future dates announced included the new council of the Federated Church Group which will meet June 1 at 8 p. m. at the YWCA; an outing June 13 at the summer home of Mrs. Allan Hanstein, Westkill; a Training Institute at Drew Seminary July 24 to 27. Those wishing transportation for the outing or information on the Institute are asked to call Mrs. Pierce at 3998-M.

Scout Camp Wendy Prepares for Full Six Week Season

The staff of the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp Wendy is preparing for a capacity six-week season beginning July 1, with a total of 254 campers already registered.

Several openings remain in the third and final period, July 30 to August 11, but immediate registration by county Girl Scouts wishing to attend is necessary to insure acceptance. There is already a waiting list of out-of-county girls.

The camp, located at Wallkill, will be open for public inspection on the week-end of May 26 and 27, at which time camp committee and staff members will be present to talk with interested parents and girls.

With much work to be done in putting the camp in shape for the season, committee members hope that many friends of scouting will be present during the week-end to help. Adults willing to spend the time doing a service to girls and to scouting have been invited to come "ready to work" and to bring their own tools, as rakes and saws. A staff member will be at the camp to delegate the work, Everyone is invited.

The camp staff will again be headed by Mrs. Ethel F. Martin of Kingston, who was last year's camp director. Elizabeth F. Leehive of 30 Emerson street will return for her fifth year as camp cook. Her dishes, especially her Brown Betty, have gained much popularity among the children.

Among the other Kingston persons on the staff will be Miss Jean Comstock of Lucas avenue, who graduates this year from Sargent, Cambridge, Mass. She will be unit leader in the older intermediate group and will lead a well-rounded physical program which will include folk dancing. Vivian Richards of West Chester street will be unit assistant counselor for the Brownies, and Carol Talleur of Elmendorf street will be song and dance consultant. Miss Richards and Miss Talleur are Kingston High School students, the latter a member of the graduating class of 1951. Kathleen Davis of Plymouth avenue, Patricia McCaffrey of Hasbrouck avenue and Anne Oakley of Napanoch are kitchen aides.

Mrs. William Cole Is Contest Winner

KATHRYN F. COLE

Mrs. William Cole, 5 Clinton avenue, this city, earned fifth place in a contest conducted by the Dictaphone Corporation at the exposition of office machinery and equipment held recently in New York. The contest, which 300 competitors from northeastern United States entered, was conducted under the supervision of the National Office Management Association in connection with the 32nd international conference. Among the observers and judges were representatitves from the 48 states, England, France, Czechoslovakia, Hawaii, and many other countries.

A. J. McCrickard, contest manager for the Dictaphone Corporation has been quoted as commenting: "In such a large contest as we had, with some of the best operators from the metropolitan area and neighboring states, it is remarkable that Mrs. Cole should take such a high place against such high class competition. Obviously, being a dictaphone operator for a small company outside of the metropolitan area, her opportunity to gain speed and efficiency would not be as great as that of competitors from larger companies who spend a full eight-hour day at that type of work.

Mrs. Cole is employed as a sales correspondent at the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street.

Paltz Riding Club Plans Horse Show For Memorial Day

Featured this year at the New Paltz Riding Club horse show, scheduled for Memorial Day at the State Teachers College stables, will be exhibitions of trick riding, fancy riding, and quadrille work. Grounds will open at 9 a. m. In case of rain, the show will be held June 2.

Local riders will participate in 23 classes, including those for hunters, jumpers, fine saddle horses, and the Tennessee walking horse. Awards, beginning May 25, will be on display at Osterhoudt's, Main street, New Paltz.

Judges at the sporting event will include M. T. Tully of Wachtung Stables, Summit, N. J.; Helen Tiger of Echo Acres, Washington, N. J., and Harvey Slater of Highland.

The various classes are still open for additional entries, it has been announced, and blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Norman Whitmore, New Paltz.

Good Taste Today

WEDDING POSTPONED

This is a question which comes up rather often in my letters: "If a wedding has to be put off, must the same people be invited again?"

Usually, yes. But if something serious has befallen, such as a death in the family or financial reverses, and the wedding preparations greatly simplified, then the list of invitations would have to be reduced.

"Pinning' a Girl

Dear Mrs. Post: Should my son's family make the usual overtures to the family of the girl he "pins"? Both are at the same college and this is customary when a man thinks in terms of one girl. As a rule it is the same as being engaged until he can afford to get her a ring.

Answer: If I understand that you consider the custom an accepted announcement of intended marriage, then the conventional betrothal formalities must apply. But the person you should ask about this is your son.

Veil in Evening

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told it is incorrect to wear a hat which has a veil hanging down over the face at an evening hour.

Answer: I am sorry to have to reply that a veil over the face in the evening in incorrect. In fact it reminds me of the old-fashioned southern expression of my childhood — nothing could be more tacky!

Unusual Wedding Question

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissible to accept the honor of attending a bride and not be present at her reception? I could take part in the wedding but a very important engagement would prevent my remaining at the reception.

Answer: This depends entirely upon whether the bride would be willing to have you do this. (You must, however, ask her to be sincerely frank).

Passing Salt and Pepper

Dear Mrs. Post: When someone asked to be passed the salt or the pepper shakers, how should this be done? Two together so they won't be separated, or only the one asked for?

Answer: Only the one asked for.

* * *

Do you zigzag back and forth when you cut meat with your knife and fork? How to properly cut and eat meat is included in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-19. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Ministers Honor Rev. R. J. Pontier At Dinner Friday

A farewell dinner was held Friday in honor of the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, before his departure from Kingston to take over the pastorate of the Reformed Church of Port Jervis.

The luncheon, sponsored by the Kingston Ministerial Association, was held in the Fair Street Reformed Church, and was served by the ladies of the church. A large number of ministers and their wives, representing the churches of Kingston and vicinity were present. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, host pastor, presided, and introduced speakers representing the various denominations, and Dr. Burton F. Tarr, president of the Association spoke for the group. Each speaker complimented the Rev. Mr. Pontier highly for his splendid spirit of cooperation during his pastorate in Kingston, and for his clear-cut and courageous stand on many issues concerning the life of the community. While in Kingston, the Rev. Mr. Pontier has served the Ministerial Association as president.

A floral piece was given to Mrs. Pontier, and a copy of Young's "Concordance of the Bible" was presented to the Rev. Mr. Pontier by the following members of the Ministerial Association:

The Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor emeritus of the Fair Street Reformed Church; the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, Fair Street Reformed; the Rev. Milton H. Ryan, Ashokan Methodist; the Rev. David C. Move to Save Crops

San Francisco, May 26 (AP)—Federal Judge Edward P. Murphy has promised a ruling no later than Monday on the U. S. Justice Department's petition for a permanent injunction against plowing under of lettuce crops by Salinas valley growers. Murphy last week issued a temporary order of restraint to prevent further crop destruction until he is ready to rule. The petition charges the grower with an attempt to raise prices by voluntarily destroying lettuce plantings. This, the anti-trust division of the Justice Department says, is in restraint of the trade and illegal under anti-trust laws.

St. James WSCS Urged to Evaluate Spiritual Growth During Past Season

A searching series of questions, designed to evaluate members' spiritual growth, were presented by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, president, Wednesday, during a luncheon meeting of the WSCS of St. James Methodist Church.

The afternoon session was opened by Mrs. George Shultis, who, speaking on World Federation, reminded members that there are already 4,000,000 women serving in the Methodist Federation of Women. Now that women in 50 countries have been given the franchise, she said, Christian women need more than ever to present a united front.

Also among the speakers was the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, who, in a short message quoted Dr. Temple as saying "one great new fact is the increasing togetherness of Christian peoples." Following his address the Rev. Dr. Houston installed the club's new officers: Mrs. Reynolds, president; Mrs. Odell Black, vice-president; Mrs. James Lock, secretary; Mrs. Theron Culver, treasurer; Mrs. Lucy Baker, president, Wesleyan Service Guild; Mrs. C. Franklin Pierce, promotional secretary; Mrs. Charles Willt, local church activities secretary; Mrs. James Guttridge, missionary education and service secretary; Mrs. John MacKinnon, Christian social relatins and status of women secretary; Mrs. Clifford Smith, student work secretary; Mrs. C. J. Gross, youth work secretary; Mrs. Joseph McNierney, children's work secretary; Mrs. Caspar Gunther, spiritual life secretary; Mrs. Elwood Ackerly, supply work secretary; Mrs. Robert Pixley, literature and publications secretary; Miss Katherine Riseley, printing and publicity committee chairman; Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, fellowship committee chairman; Mrs. Harry Reppert, membership committee chairman; Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton, community service chairman; Mrs. George Lewis, evening circle chairman; the Mmes. Robert Lent, C. T. Nygaard, Minnie B. Dunnagan, afternoon circle chairmen.

"To everyone goes credit for whatever success we have had," Mrs. Reynolds told the group in her opening remarks. "If we were to open the ledger of the yearbook of the Women's Society of Christian Service, on the one side would be the finances, all in perfect order, but on the other side, all a part of the same picture, would be written in bold letters across the top our spiritual growth. How much have we grown spiritually?"

Mrs. Reynolds also asked members if they had remembered Christ's words, "Be ye therefore, even as your Father in Heaven, is perfect." She questioned "Toward that end have we worked? Have we remembered the golden rule? Have we been kindly toward one another? Have we accepted people according to their plane of living? Have we remembered the further we progress, the more is expected? Have we remembered to give a word of praise where it was well deserved . . ? Has our criticism been of a helpful nature. That," she added, "is the score each one of us has to tally up. If the grand total shows for growth, then we have grown . . . strengthened the WSCS in our church . . . and throughout the world."

In conclusion, Mr. Reynolds urged members to concentrate on spiritual values, quoting Christ when He said, "For what profiteth a man if he gains the whole world, yet in so doing the loseth his soul."

Hostesses at the luncheon were the Mmes. Ralph Houston, Cornelius Treadwell, Robert Lent, and Odell Black.

Future dates announced included the new council of the Federated Church Group which will meet June 1 at 8 p. m. at the YWCA; an outing June 13 at the summer home of Mrs. Allan Hanstein, Westkill; a Training Institute at Drew Seminary July 24 to 27. Those wishing transportation for the outing or information on the Institute are asked to call Mrs. Pierce at 3998-M.

Scout Camp Wendy Prepares for Full Six Week Season

The staff of the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp Wendy is preparing for a capacity six-week season beginning July 1, with a total of 254 campers already registered.

Several openings remain in the third and final period, July 30 to August 11, but immediate registration by county Girl Scouts wishing to attend is necessary to insure acceptance. There is already a waiting list of out-of-county girls.

The camp, located at Wallkill, will be open for public inspection on the week-end of May 26 and 27, at which time camp committee and staff members will be present to talk with interested parents and girls.

With much work to be done in putting the camp in shape for the season, committee members hope that many friends of scouting will be present during the week-end to help. Adults willing to spend the time doing a service to girls and to scouting have been invited to come "ready to work" and to bring their own tools, as rakes and saws. A staff member will be at the camp to delegate the work. Everyone is invited.

The camp staff will again be headed by Mrs. Ethel F. Martin of Kingston, who was last year's camp director. Elizabeth F. Leehive of 30 Emerson street will return for her fifth year as camp cook. Her dishes, especially her Brown Betty, have gained much popularity among the children.

Among the other Kingston persons on the staff will be Miss Jean Comstock of Lucas avenue, who graduates this year from Sargent, Cambridge, Mass. She will be unit leader in the older intermediate group and will lead a well-rounded physical program which will include folk dancing. Vivian Richards of West Chester street will be unit assistant counselor for the Brownies, and Carol Talleur of Elmendorf street will be song and dance consultant. Miss Richards and Miss Talleur are Kingston High School students, the latter a member of the graduating class of 1951. Kathleen Davis of Plymouth avenue, Patricia McCaffrey of Hasbrouck avenue and Anne Oakley of Napanoch are kitchen aides.

Mrs. William Cole Is Contest Winner

KATHRYN F. COLE

Mrs. William Cole, 5 Clinton avenue, this city, earned fifth place in a contest conducted by the Dictaphone Corporation at the exposition of office machinery and equipment held recently in New York. The contest, which 300 competitors from northeastern United States entered, was conducted under the supervision of the National Office Management Association in connection with the 32nd international conference. Among the observers and judges were representatitves from the 48 states, England, France, Czechoslovakia, Hawaii, and many other countries.

A. J. McCrickard, contest manager for the Dictaphone Corporation has been quoted as commenting: "In such a large contest as we had, with some of the best operators from the metropolitan area and neighboring states, it is remarkable that Mrs. Cole should take such a high place against such high class competition. Obviously, being a dictaphone operator for a small company outside of the metropolitan area, her opportunity to gain speed and efficiency would not be as great as that of competitors from larger companies who spend a full eight-hour day at that type of work.

Mrs. Cole is employed as a sales correspondent at the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street.

Paltz Riding Club Plans Horse Show For Memorial Day

Featured this year at the New Paltz Riding Club horse show, scheduled for Memorial Day at the State Teachers College stables, will be exhibitions of trick riding, fancy riding, and quadrille work. Grounds will open at 9 a. m. In case of rain, the show will be held June 2.

Local riders will participate in 23 classes, including those for hunters, jumpers, fine saddle horses, and the Tennessee walking horse. Awards, beginning May 25, will be on display at Osterhoudt's, Main street, New Paltz.

Judges at the sporting event will include M. T. Tully of Wachtung Stables, Summit, N. J.; Helen Tiger of Echo Acres, Washington, N. J., and Harvey Slater of Highland.

The various classes are still open for additional entries, it has been announced, and blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Norman Whitmore, New Paltz.

WEDDING POSTPONED

This is a question which comes up rather often in my letters: "If a wedding has to be put off, must the same people be invited again?"

Usually, yes. But if something serious has befallen, such as a death in the family or financial reverses, and the wedding preparations greatly simplified, then the list of invitations would have to be reduced.

"Pinning' a Girl

Dear Mrs. Post: Should my son's family make the usual overtures to the family of the girl he "pins"? Both are at the same college and this is customary when a man thinks in terms of one girl. As a rule it is the same as being engaged until he can afford to get her a ring.

Answer: If I understand that you consider the custom an accepted announcement of intended marriage, then the conventional betrothal formalities must apply. But the person you should ask about this is your son.

Veil in Evening

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told it is incorrect to wear a hat which has a veil hanging down over the face at an evening hour.

Answer: I am sorry to have to reply that a veil over the face in the evening in incorrect. In fact it reminds me of the old-fashioned southern expression of my childhood — nothing could be more tacky!

Unusual Wedding Question

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissible to accept the honor of attending a bride and not be present at her reception? I could take part in the wedding but a very important engagement would prevent my remaining at the reception.

Answer: This depends entirely upon whether the bride would be willing to have you do this. (You must, however, ask her to be sincerely frank).

Passing Salt and Pepper

Dear Mrs. Post: When someone asked to be passed the salt or the pepper shakers, how should this be done? Two together so they won't be separated, or only the one asked for?

Answer: Only the one asked for.

Do you zigzag back and forth when you cut meat with your knife and fork? How to properly cut and eat meat is included in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-19. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Ministers Honor Rev. R. J. Pontier At Dinner Friday

A farewell dinner was held Friday in honor of the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, before his departure from Kingston to take over the pastorate of the Reformed Church of Port Jervis.

The luncheon, sponsored by the Kingston Ministerial Association, was held in the Fair Street Reformed Church, and was served by the ladies of the church. A large number of ministers and their wives, representing the churches of Kingston and vicinity were present. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, host pastor, presided, and introduced speakers representing the various denominations, and Dr. Burton F. Tarr, president of the Association spoke for the group. Each speaker complimented the Rev. Mr. Pontier highly for his splendid spirit of cooperation during his pastorate in Kingston, and for his clear-cut and courageous stand on many issues concerning the life of the community. While in Kingston, the Rev. Mr. Pontier has served the Ministerial Association as president.

A floral piece was given to Mrs. Pontier, and a copy of Young's "Concordance of the Bible" was presented to the Rev. Mr. Pontier by the following members of the Ministerial Association:

The Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor emeritus of the Fair Street Reformed Church; the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, Fair Street Reformed; the Rev. Milton H. Ryan, Ashokan Methodist; the Rev. David C. Weidner, former pastor of the Bloomington Reformed; the Rev. Marshall Smith, Franklin Street AME Zion; the Rev. Joseph E. Carlin, Bloomington Reformed; the Rev. Jack Savage, Olive Bridge Methodist; the Rev. Harry E. Christiana, Port Ewen Reformed; the Rev. C. W. Christman, Jr., Saugerties Methodist; the Rev. John B. Steketee, retired Reformed Church pastor; the Rev. Dr. Burton F. Tarr, district superintendent of the Methodist Church; the Rev. Harold E. Schaible, Ponckhockie Congregational.

Also, Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Temple Emanuel; the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, Trinity Lutheran; the Rev. David C. Gaise, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer; the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Houston, St. James Methodist; the Rev. Robert D. Dickson, Saugerties Reformed; the Rev. Herbert I. Killinder, Flatbush Reformed; the Rev. Walter R. Washington, River View Baptist Church; the Rev. Fred F. Fike, Nazarene Church; the Rev. John Dykstra, Hurley Reformed; the Rev. Donald E. Brown, First Baptist; the Rev. William J. McVey, First Presbyterian and the Rev. Ivan Gossoo, Trinity Methodist.

Burt Tandy, of the YMCA, and also a member of the Ministerial Association, and Clarence Corell, Boy's Secretary of the Y, also assisted in obtaining the gift for the guest.

The Rev. Mr. McVey, a close personal friend of the Rev. Mr. Pontier, made the speech of presentation, after which the latter spoke briefly expressing his gratitude.

Legion Announces Memorial Program

Woodstock, May 25—The program for the special services and parade to be held on Memorial Day, has been announced by the Woodstock American Legion Post 1026, under whose auspices exercises are held each year.

Memorial services commemorating America's war dead will be held at the Town Hall starting at 10 a. m., and the parade is scheduled to start at 11 o'clock from the hall.

The procession will march from the Town Hall up Tinker street, to the Rock City Road leading to the cemetery, where services will also be held.

In the line will be a state police car, leading; the Red Cross car and the veterans' car; Benjamin F. Buley, grand marshal and officer of the day; aides, post chaplain, post adjutant; Woodstock School No. 2 band; color guard and firing squad under Sgt. Irwin Holumzer; American Legion; American Legion Auxiliary; Woodstock unit American Red Cross; Glasco Community Band; Odd Fellows; Woodstock Fire Company, No. 1; Boy Scout Troop No. 34 led by John Lowe and W. S. Van Wagenen, scoutmasters; Boy Scout Pack No. 34, led by Charles E. Rapp, scoutmaster; Girl Scout Fly-up Troop No. 74, led by Mrs. Theodore Lee; Brownie Troop No. 27, led by Edna Lapo and Dorothy Shultis; state police car, rear guard.

For the service in the Town Hall, prior to the parade, the Rev. Olney E. Cook and Joseph E. Wagner, post commander of Woodstock, will be speakers. The Rev. James L. Riordan is to give the invocation. The Woodstock school children will offer vocal selections under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Quick. Members of Woodstock Unit 1026 will also sing accompanied by Mrs. Harry A. Kutzschbach. The Rev. Dennis W. Osgood will read the Scripture. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd will pronounce the benediction.

The program scheduled for services at the cemetery is as follows: Addresses by Chaplain Clifford Carnright of the Odd Fellows and by Chaplain Harvey I. Todd, of the Woodstock Fire Company; also "Flanders Field" by Mrs. William Klippel; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Louis Boulter, Woodstock School; Memorial Day prayer, Post Chaplain Richard E. Thibaut, Jr.; vocal selection, Legionnaire Reinald W. Matheson; Boy Scout wreath ceremony; benediction, the Most Rev. William H. Francis; taps by post buglers, William H. MacReady and George Aplustill.

Winners Are Named In Cub Competition

Woodstock, May 25—During the Cub Pack 34 meeting on Thursday night at the Woodstock School gym, the second annual bird house competition took place, with an attendance of 20 boys. Judges for the event were the Rev. Harvey I. Todd and Walter S. Van Wagenen.

Cub Master Charles Rapp in describing the competition, said that it was divided into two parts, first the group of bird houses which were made by the boys themselves, and the second group of bird houses which were made by the boys with the aid of their parents. This cooperation between the boys and their parents contained the true meaning of boy scouting.

Robert Foster was awarded the prize for the first group, which consisted of a camping kit. In the second group, the first prize, a wrist compass, was won by Atlee Rapp. The winner of the second prize was Lewis Berryan, who was presented with an airplane kit.

Prior to the meeting a basketball practice was held followed by a singing session.

The final Cub Pack meeting of the year will be held about the middle of June, the date to be announced later. It will consist of a campfire meeting, and by popular request of the cubs, David Carlson will give a story hour.

Woodstock Post Had Busy Session

Woodstock, May 25 — At a meeting of Woodstock Post 1026, Wednesday night it was announced that the American Legion will not have a baseball team this season owing to a lack of personnel. The amount of $65 left over from last season's baseball games was returned to the treasury.

Discussion also took place concerning the fireworks display to be held early in July. It was reported that the field on the Bearsville road owned by George Neher which was used last year and may only be used for parking facilities. The fireworks will be set up on the field directly across the road.

The Legion card party which was held last Monday night for the purpose of raising funds to send one boy from Woodstock to the Empire Boys State at Colgate College in June, was a financial success. Gunther Polak was the boy chosen to represent Woodstock.

The post has donated $5 to the Cancer fund.

The Poppy drive which opened on May 22 will continue through the 29. Poppies are on sale in front of the postoffice.

It was agreed during the meeting that the Legion Hall will be available to St. Gregory's Mission, Episcopal Church, for services for an indefinite period.

The next county meeting of the American Legion will be held on May 31, at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

Club night will be held on the second Thursday of every month, instead of the second Friday.

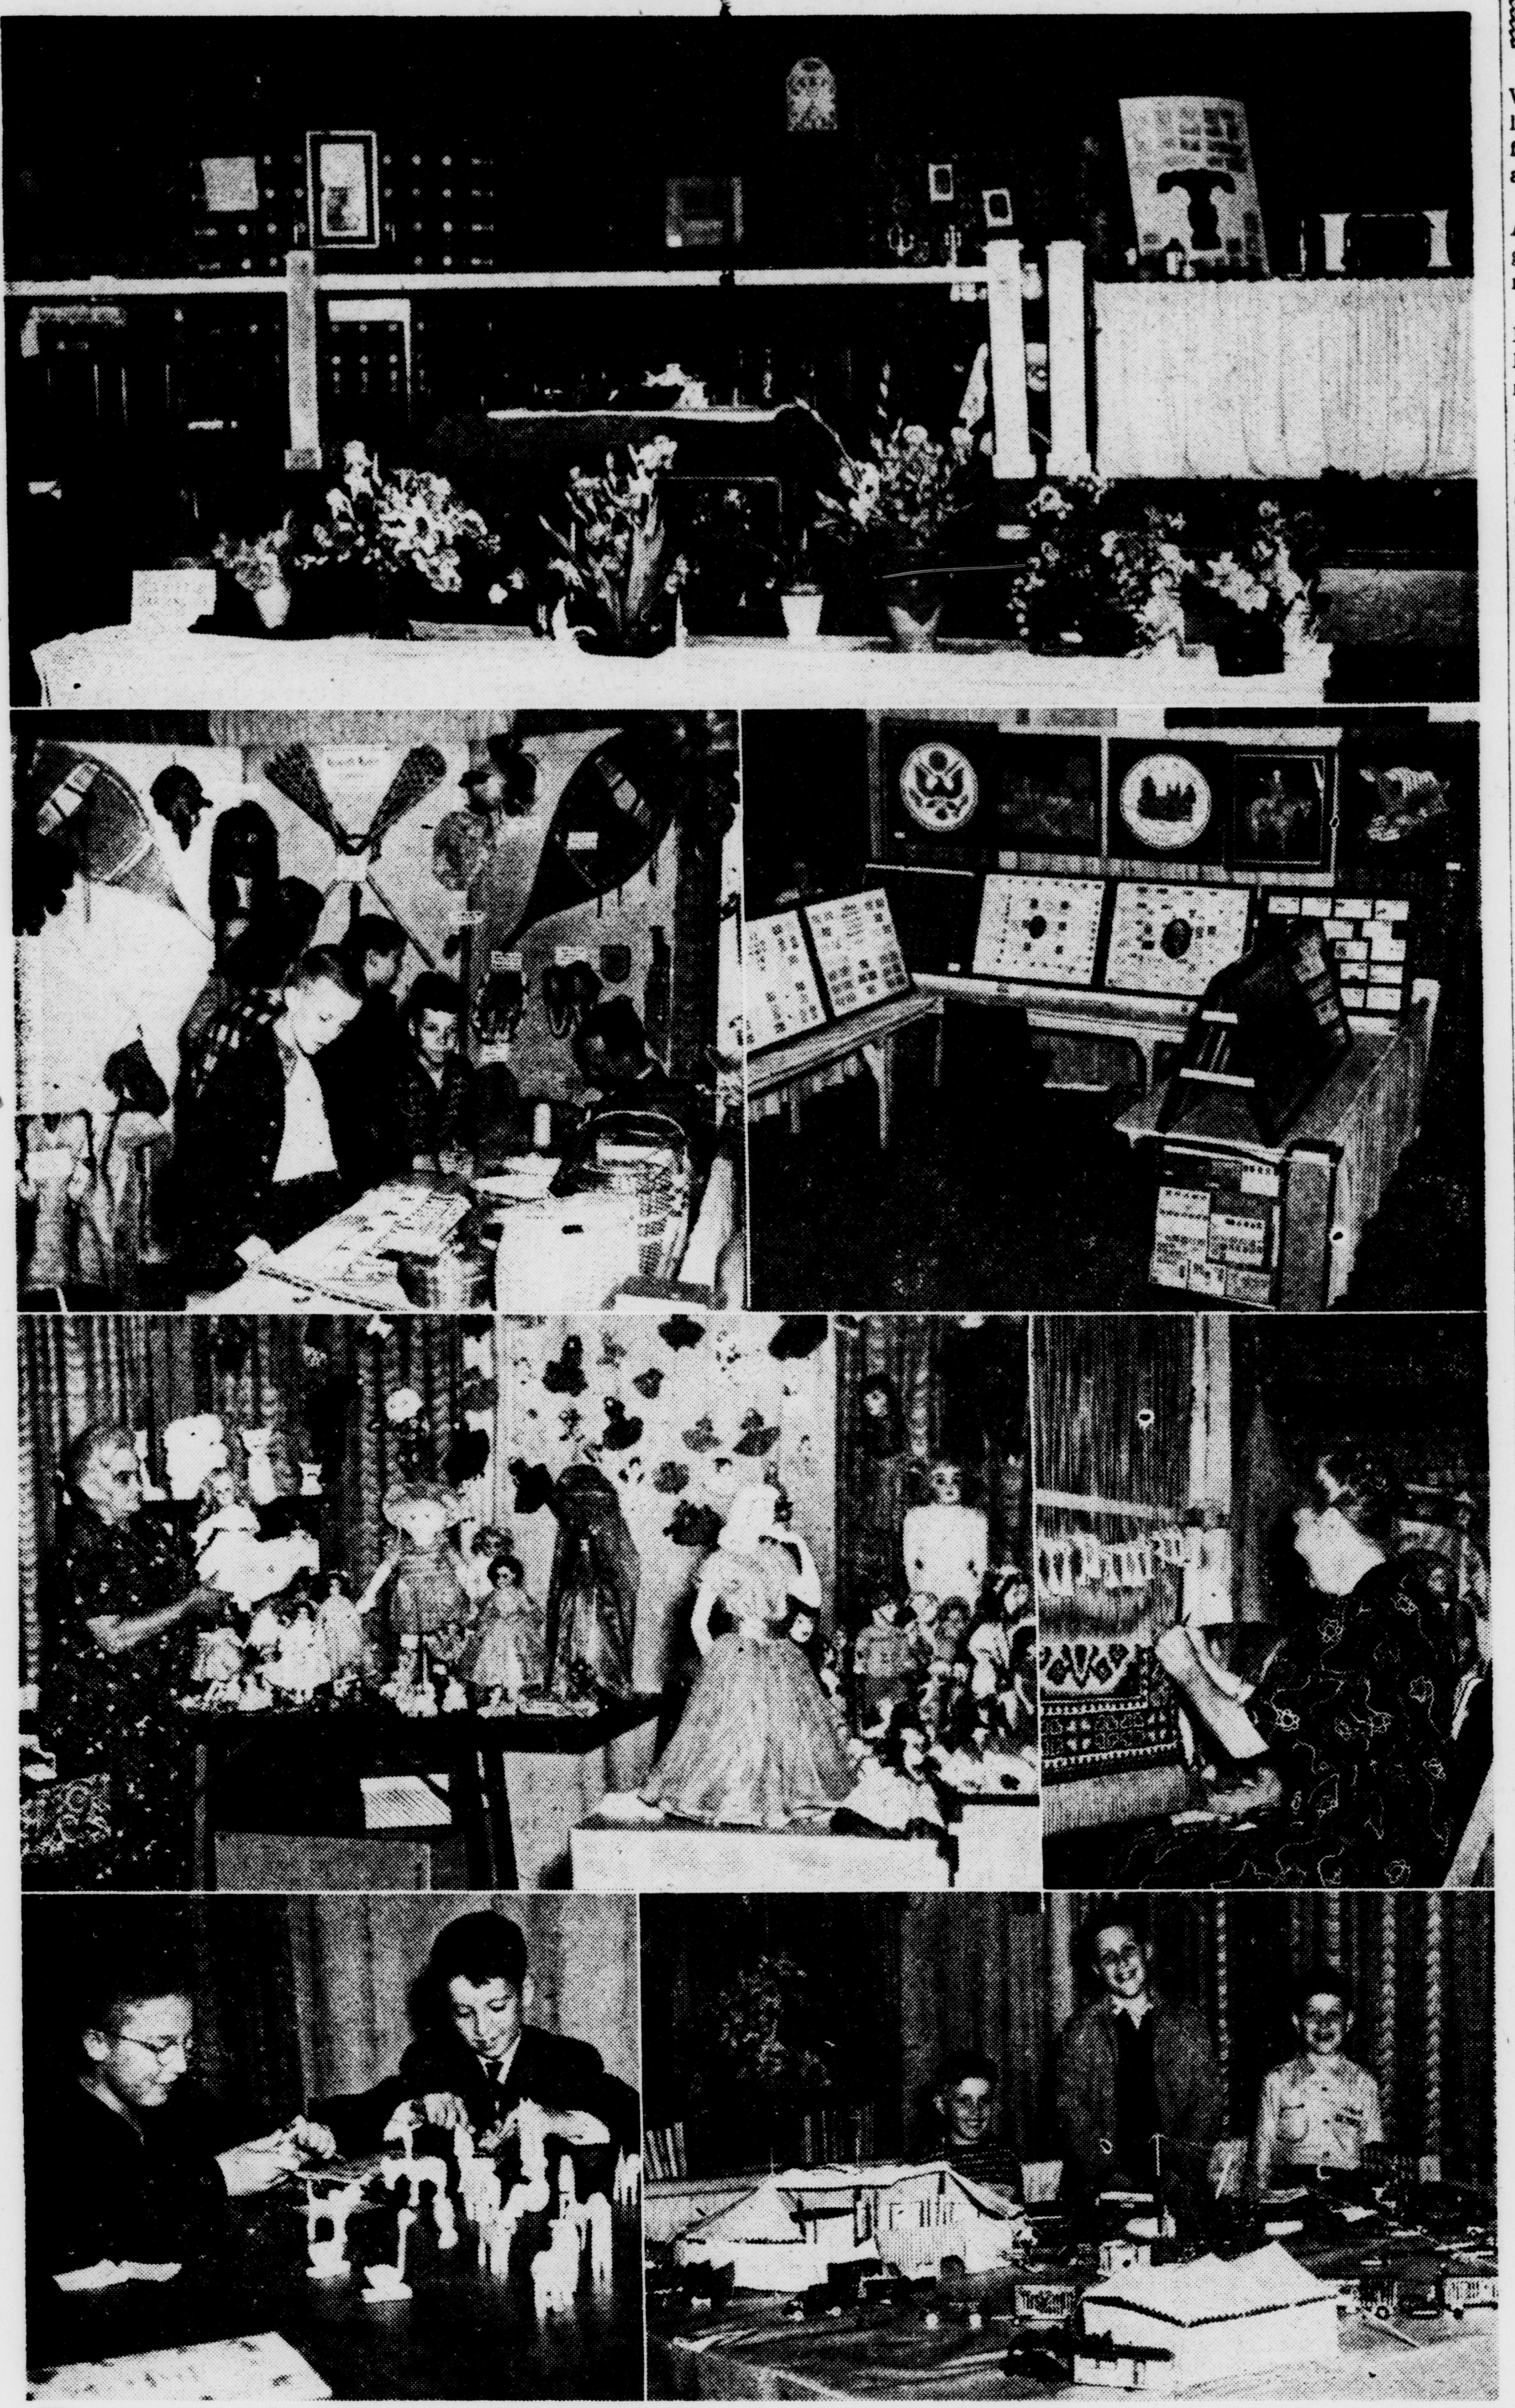
Lehman Hits MacArthur

New York, May 26 (AP) — The U. S. has "nothing to gain and everything to lose" in an all-out war with China, says Senator Herbert H. Lehman (D-Lib.-N.Y.). The proposals by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, adds Lehman, "plainly spell danger, disunity, and disaster" for the free world. The senator, in a speech last night before the Sidney Hillman Foundation, said that western Europe fears that the U. S. will "slip into" MacArthur's policies. Lehman, former New York governor, received the annual $1,000 Sidney Hillman Foundation award for meritorious public service.

Election in Italy

Rome, May 26 (AP)—Italy's arch political foes — the Christian Democrat Government party and the Communists—will have their first big showdown in three years tomorrow. The test will be local elections throughout a third of the nation. Following the bitterest campaign since 1948, some 10,000,000 voters are expected to turn out to pick councils in 2,743 towns and 28 provinces.

Hobbies on Parade



The cameraman catches a cross-section of typical scenes during the opening Thursday night in the municipal auditorium of the second annual Hudson Valley Hobby Show sponsored by the Kingston YWCA. Grouped on the stage (top) are examples of fine period furniture loaned to the show by Kingston residents, flanked on the right by the stenciling booth of Mrs. Francis Davenport, Stone Ridge. Below the stage is an attractive display by the Little Gardens Club. At the left, second row, is Claverack resident, Kenneth Mynter's Indian craft and lore display, and to the right the Colonial City Stamp Club's booth. Below Mr. Mynter's display Mrs. Harriet Dayton of New Paltz adjust the skirt of a valuable bisque headed doll. To the right Mrs. Joseph Kransee of Fish Creek works out the pattern for a Persian carpet. Meanwhile MJM woodcarvers George Acker and Stephen Thomas (bottom row) do some fancy whittling, as the Eighmey brothers, Douglas, 5, David, 11, and Philip, 8 proudly display their model circus. (Freeman Photos)

Ladder Act Booked At Sunset Theatre

Vaudeville makes its first appearance of the year at the Sunset Drive-In Theatre, Route 28, next week when Reenie and Jim, billed as a sensational ladder act, will appear in a special Memorial Day eve show, May 29.

The act, according to Robert W. Case, manager, is noted for its thrills and comedy and comes directly to Kingston from the circus "big tops."

Starting with next week's special holiday eve program, the Sunset will stage vaudeville once a week in the near future.

Efforts will be made to bring top-drawer stage personalities to the theatre upon the completion of the outdoor stage with an awning so that acts will be able to go on despite inclement weather conditions.

As another accommodation, the Sunset management has announced that bottle warming services for infants will be available so that all members of the family may attend the movies.

Additional stage acts were named today by Manager Case for the holiday eve show. They include the following:

Woodstock School Band, Miss Louise DePaola, accordonist; Marsha Dittus, guitar; and the following pupils from the Audrey Shultis School of Dancing: Edward Hollenback, tumbler; Sharon Horbot, acrobat; and Gary Lee Schmidt.

The stage show will start at 7:30 p. m.

Ladder Act Booked At Sunset Theatre

Vaudeville makes its first appearance of the year at the Sunset Drive-In Theatre, Route 28, next week when Reenie and Jim, billed as a sensational ladder act, will appear in a special Memorial Day eve show, May 29.

The act, according to Robert W. Case, manager, is noted for its thrills and comedy and comes directly to Kingston from the circus "big tops."

Starting with next week's special holiday eve program, the Sunset will stage vaudeville once a week in the near future.

Efforts will be made to bring top-drawer stage personalities to the theatre upon the completion of the outdoor stage with an awning so that acts will be able to go on despite inclement weather conditions.

As another accommodation, the Sunset management has announced that bottle warming services for infants will be available so that all members of the family may attend the movies.

Additional stage acts were named today by Manager Case for the holiday eve show. They include the following:

Woodstock School Band, Miss Louise DePaola, accordonist; Marsha Dittus, guitar; and the following pupils from the Audrey Shultis School of Dancing: Edward Hollenback, tumbler; Sharon Horbot, acrobat; and Gary Lee Schmidt.

The stage show will start at 7:30 p. m.

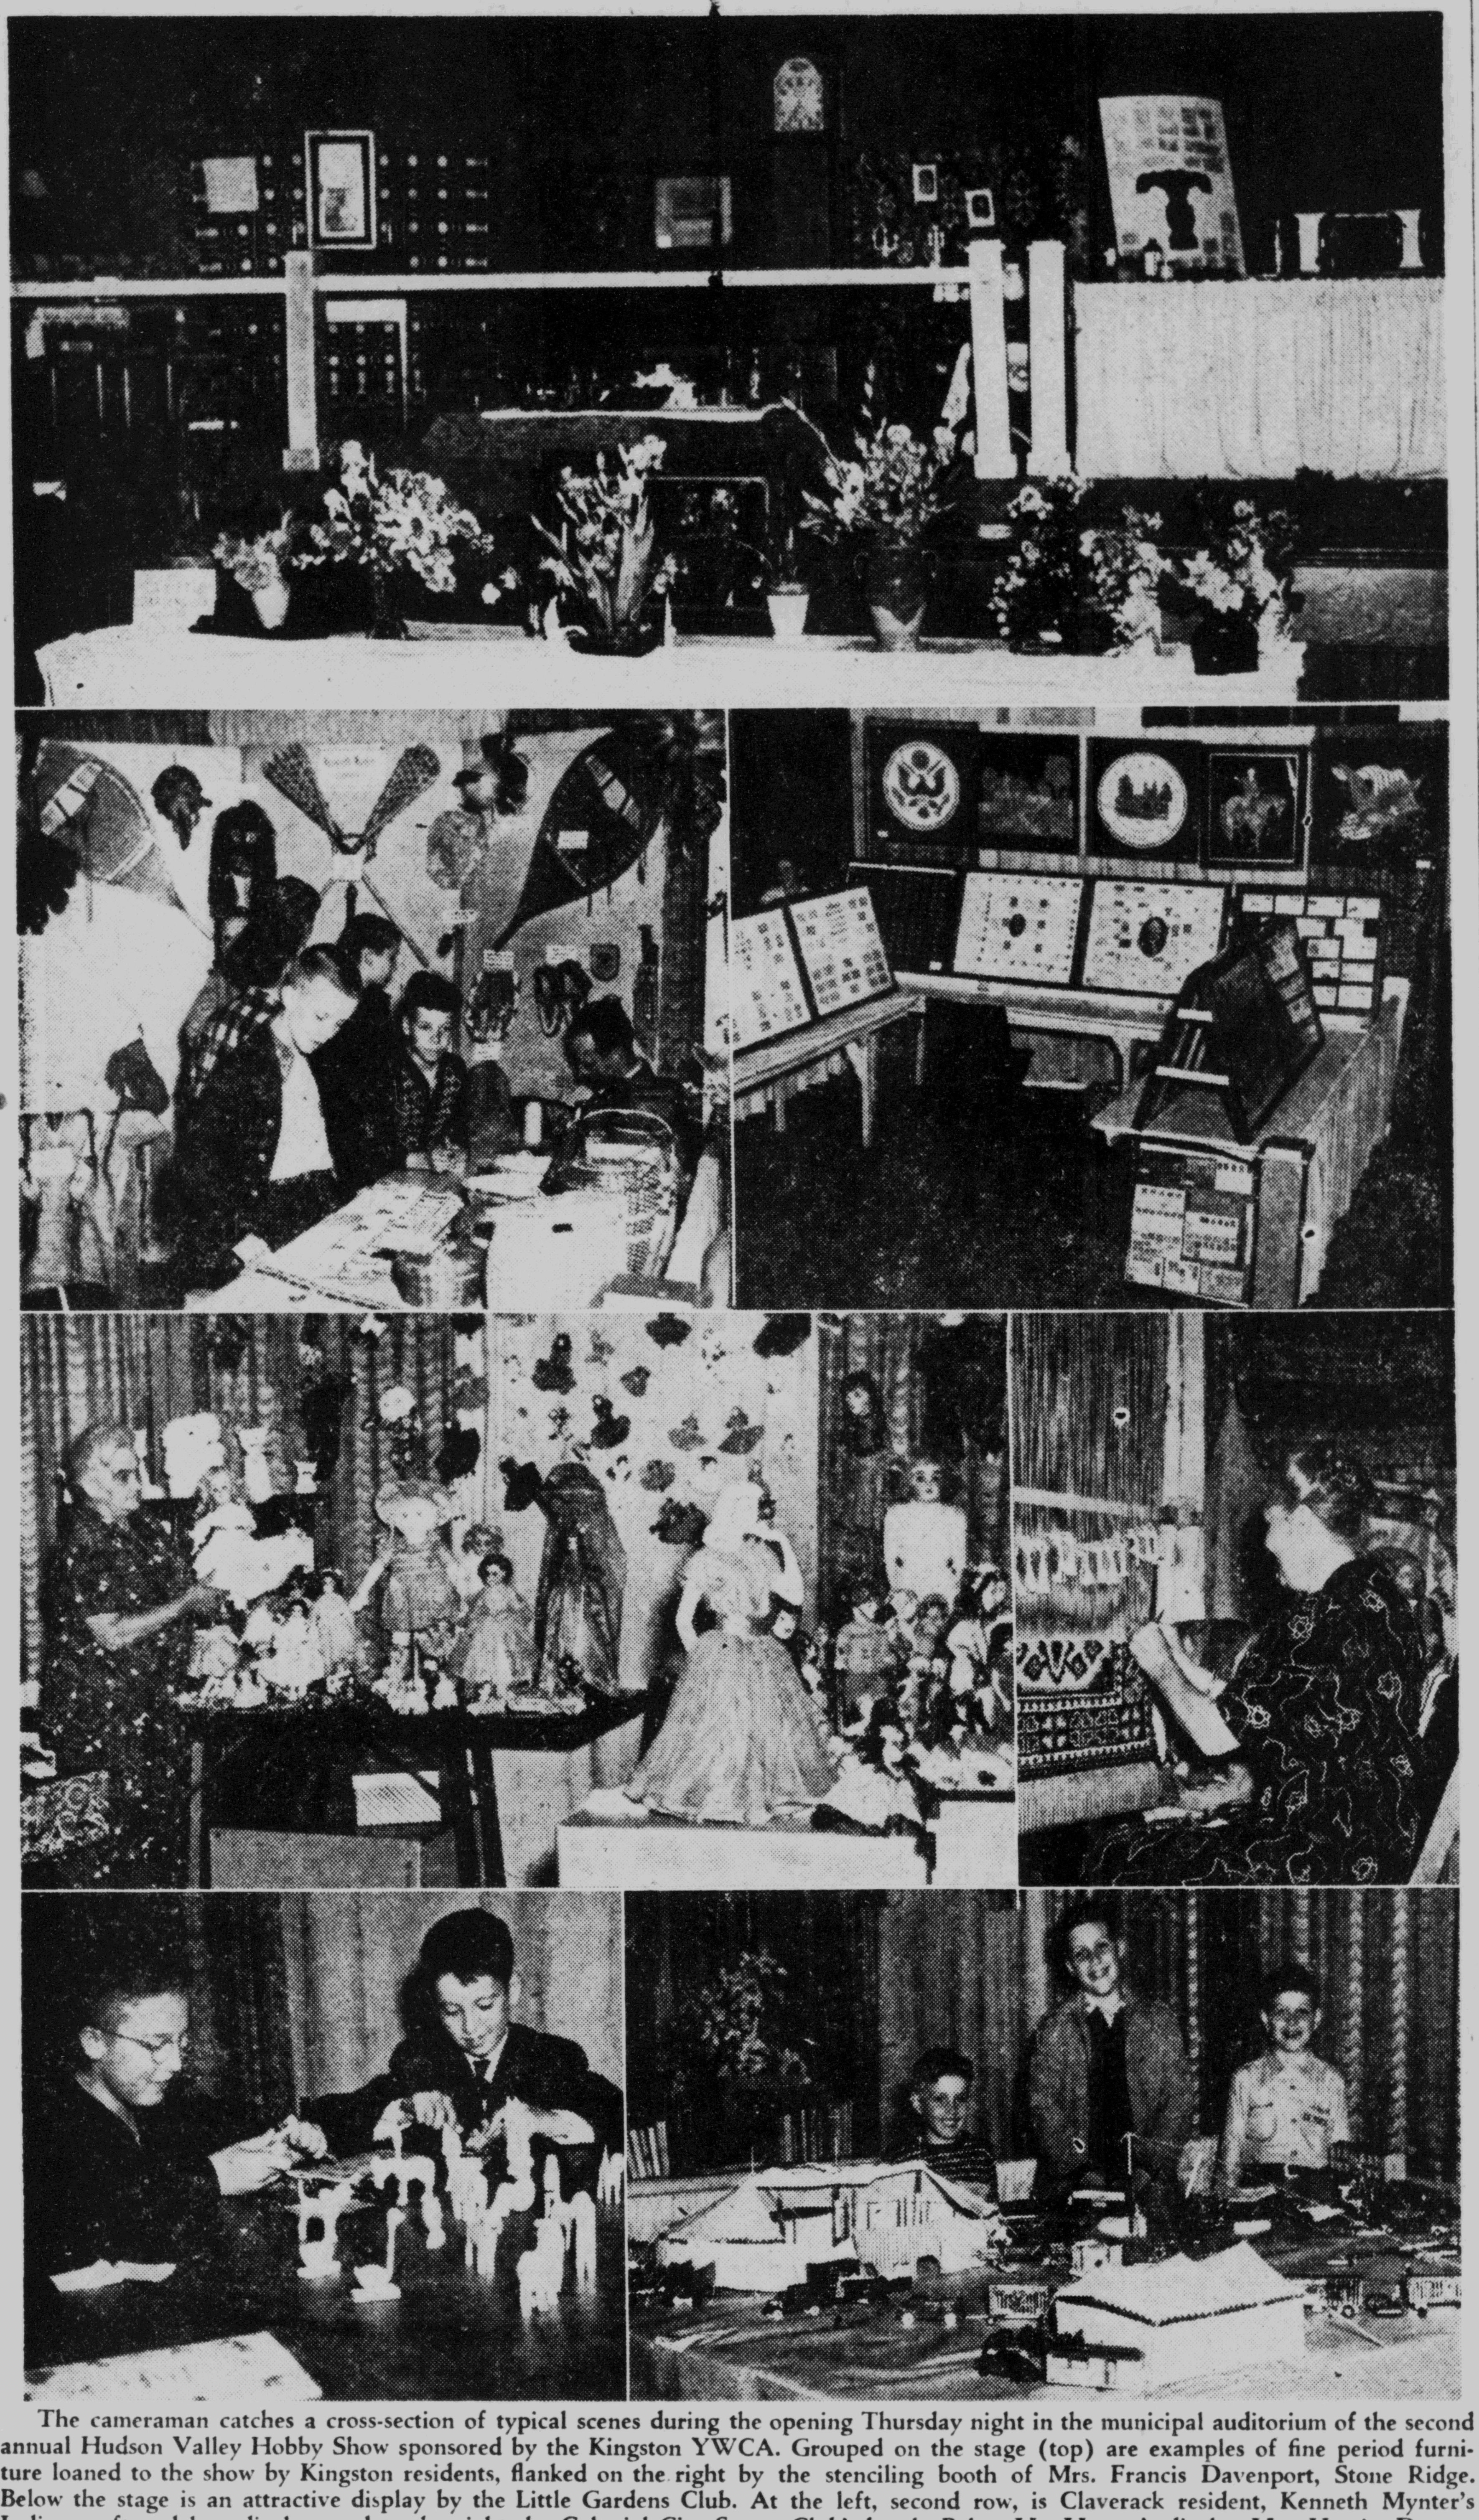
Hobbies on Parade



The cameraman catches a cross-section of typical scenes during the opening Thursday night in the municipal auditorium of the second annual Hudson Valley Hobby Show sponsored by the Kingston YWCA. Grouped on the stage (top) are examples of fine period furniture loaned to the show by Kingston residents, flanked on the right by the stenciling booth of Mrs. Francis Davenport, Stone Ridge. Below the stage is an attractive display by the Little Gardens Club. At the left, second row, is Claverack resident, Kenneth Mynter's Indian craft and lore display, and to the right the Colonial City Stamp Club's booth. Below Mr. Mynter's display Mrs. Harriet Dayton of New Paltz adjust the skirt of a valuable bisque headed doll. To the right Mrs. Joseph Kransee of Fish Creek works out the pattern for a Persian carpet. Meanwhile MJM woodcarvers George Acker and Stephen Thomas (bottom row) do some fancy whittling, as the Eighmey brothers, Douglas, 5, David, 11, and Philip, 8 proudly display their model circus. (Freeman Photos)

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Legion Announces Memorial Program

Woodstock, May 25—The program for the special services and parade to be held on Memorial Day, has been announced by the Woodstock American Legion Post 1026, under whose auspices exercises are held each year.

Memorial services commemorating America's war dead will be held at the Town Hall starting at 10 a. m., and the parade is scheduled to start at 11 o'clock from the hall.

The procession will march from the Town Hall up Tinker street, to the Rock City Road leading to the cemetery, where services will also be held.

In the line will be a state police car, leading; the Red Cross car and the veterans' car; Benjamin F. Buley, grand marshal and officer of the day; aides, post chaplain, post adjutant; Woodstock School No. 2 band; color guard and firing squad under Sgt. Irwin Holumzer; American Legion; American Legion Auxiliary; Woodstock unit American Red Cross; Glasco Community Band; Odd Fellows; Woodstock Fire Company, No. 1; Boy Scout Troop No. 34 led by John Lowe and W. S. Van Wagenen, scoutmasters; Boy Scout Pack No. 34, led by Charles E. Rapp, scoutmaster; Girl Scout Fly-up Troop No. 74, led by Mrs. Theodore Lee; Brownie Troop No. 27, led by Edna Lapo and Dorothy Shultis; state police car, rear guard.

For the service in the Town Hall, prior to the parade, the Rev. Olney E. Cook and Joseph E. Wagner, post commander of Woodstock, will be speakers. The Rev. James L. Riordan is to give the invocation. The Woodstock school children will offer vocal selections under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Quick. Members of Woodstock Unit 1026 will also sing accompanied by Mrs. Harry A. Kutzschbach. The Rev. Dennis W. Osgood will read the Scripture. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd will pronounce the benediction.

The program scheduled for services at the cemetery is as follows: Addresses by Chaplain Clifford Carnright of the Odd Fellows and by Chaplain Harvey I. Todd, of the Woodstock Fire Company; also "Flanders Field" by Mrs. William Klippel; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Louis Boulter, Woodstock School; Memorial Day prayer, Post Chaplain Richard E. Thibaut, Jr.; vocal selection, Legionnaire Reinald W. Matheson; Boy Scout wreath ceremony; benediction, the Most Rev. William H. Francis; taps by post buglers, William H. MacReady and George Aplustill.

The parade will return to the Town Hall where it will disband. Veterans will disband at the American Legion Memorial Building.

Simpkins Is Director

Winners Are Named In Cub Competition

Woodstock, May 25—During the Cub Pack 34 meeting on Thursday night at the Woodstock School gym, the second annual bird house competition took place, with an attendance of 20 boys. Judges for the event were the Rev. Harvey I. Todd and Walter S. Van Wagenen.

Cub Master Charles Rapp in describing the competition, said that it was divided into two parts, first the group of bird houses which were made by the boys themselves, and the second group of bird houses which were made by the boys with the aid of their parents. This cooperation between the boys and their parents contained the true meaning of boy scouting.

Robert Foster was awarded the prize for the first group, which consisted of a camping kit. In the second group, the first prize, a wrist compass, was won by Atlee Rapp. The winner of the second prize was Lewis Berryan, who was presented with an airplane kit.

Prior to the meeting a basketball practice was held followed by a singing session.

The final Cub Pack meeting of the year will be held about the middle of June, the date to be announced later. It will consist of a campfire meeting, and by popular request of the cubs, David Carlson will give a story hour.

War Memorial Meeting

Woodstock, May 25 — Directly following the Memorial Day exercises in the Woodstock Cemetery on Wednesday, May 30, there will be a meeting of the Woodstock War Memorial Association for all representatives of other organizations. The group will meet at the Town Hall.

Woodstock Post Had Busy Session

Woodstock, May 25 — At a meeting of Woodstock Post 1026, Wednesday night it was announced that the American Legion will not have a baseball team this season owing to a lack of personnel. The amount of $65 left over from last season's baseball games was returned to the treasury.

Discussion also took place concerning the fireworks display to be held early in July. It was reported that the field on the Bearsville road owned by George Neher which was used last year and may only be used for parking facilities. The fireworks will be set up on the field directly across the road.

The Legion card party which was held last Monday night for the purpose of raising funds to send one boy from Woodstock to the Empire Boys State at Colgate College in June, was a financial success. Gunther Polak was the boy chosen to represent Woodstock.

The post has donated $5 to the Cancer fund.

The Poppy drive which opened on May 22 will continue through the 29. Poppies are on sale in front of the postoffice.

It was agreed during the meeting that the Legion Hall will be available to St. Gregory's Mission, Episcopal Church, for services for an indefinite period.

The next county meeting of the American Legion will be held on May 31, at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

Club night will be held on the second Thursday of every month, instead of the second Friday.

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 25 — Mrs. George J. Braendly celebrated her birthday on Thursday.

Eugene Schleicher, owner of the Jack Horner shop, which formerly occupied the building which is now the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, will return to this village this week after an absence of two years. He will be associated with the Rotron Manufacturing Company.

Lehman Hits MacArthur

New York, May 26 (AP)—The U. S. has "nothing to gain and everything to lose" in an all-out war with China, says Senator Herbert H. Lehman (D-Lib.-N.Y.). The proposals by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, adds Lehman, "plainly spell danger, disunity, and disaster" for the free world. The senator, in a speech last night before the Sidney Hillman Foundation, said that western Europe fears that the U. S. will "slip into" MacArthur's policies. Lehman, former New York governor, received the annual $1,000 Sidney Hillman Foundation award for meritorious public service.

Election in Italy

Rome, May 26 (AP)—Italy's arch political foes — the Christian Democrat Government party and the Communists—will have their first big showdown in three years tomorrow. The test will be local elections throughout a third of the nation. Following the bitterest campaign since 1948, some 10,000,000 voters are expected to turn out to pick councils in 2,743 towns and 28 provinces.

Colonials Meet Oneonta Red Sox in Doubleheader at Stadium Sunday

High School Upsets NFA Nine in Extra-Innings; 2-1

Joe Turck Stars In Relief Role; Kuhn Starter

Bob Engle's Single Scores Winning Run

Relief pitcher Joe Turck was awarded the hero's mantle when Kingston High surprised Newburgh Free Academy, 2 to 1, in a nine-inning DUSO Baseball League thriller, Friday at municipal stadium.

Relieving starter Bert Kuhn, who had pitched magnificently for six innings, with men on second and third in the seventh and one out, Turck fanned the next two batters to end the frame at a 1-1 tie.

Kingston failed to move Bob Maher in the bottom of the seventh but went on to win with two down in the ninth. Turck kept Maroon hopes alive for a rally by working Maher for a walk. Jackson also drew a base on balls and Bob Engle broke up the contest with a single through the middle, scoring Turck.

Big Maher, who has been NFA's mainstay in a big DUSO season, restricted Coach Bill Burke's tossers to five hits and struck out 13. Two of the five walks he issued, however, were converted into runs by Kingston.

Take Early Lead

The Maroon went ahead 1-0 in the third when Engle walked and rode home on successive singles by Moll Leonard and Bob Lyons.

Kuhn yielded the tying run with one out in the seventh on Manning's double and Maher's single to left where Ferraro momentarily bobbled the ball. Turck came in and fanned McLaren.

Leonard collected two of the five Kingston safeties, while Bob Spreer and Maher each had two safeties for the Goldbacks.

Hinkley and Don Lyons rapped doubles for the winners. Torelli poked a triple for Newburgh.

The defeat was only the second of the season for NFA which was a surprise victim of Beacon High a few days ago.

Rookie Richards inherited a chronic second division team but he has the Sox humming on all cylinders today.

The Sox hopped on Bob Lemon for three runs in the second inning and were never headed.

Billy Pierce blanked the Indians until the sixth when Birdie Tebbetts belted a three-run pinch-hit double. The loss was Lemon's fourth straight.

The victory kept the Sox two games behind New York. The Yanks defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5.

8th for Lopat

Lefty Ed Lopat started for the Yanks and gained credit for his eighth victory without a defeat. Lopat was knocked out of the box for the first time this season when the A's rallied for three runs in the eighth inning.

Boston's up and coming Red Sox smeared the Washington Senators, 14-2. Chuck Stobbs coasted to his fifth victory allowing only six hits.

The Sox shelled Con Marrero and Alton Brown for 19 hits. Ted Williams paced the assault, driving in four runs and scoring three on a homer, two doubles and a single. The loss was Marrero's first in six decisions.

Home runs by Don Lenhardt and Johnny Bero led the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 triumph over the Tigers in a night game at Detroit. Bero, a former Tiger, won the game with a home run in the seventh inning. Vic Wertz clouted two home runs for the Tigers.

Al Widmar went all the way to post his third conquest. He permitted 11 hits. Hal Newhouser, gunning for his fifth straight victory, was the loser.

Roe Stops Braves

Preacher Roe, the Brooklyn "meal ticket," won his sixth straight, 4-3, over Boston. The Preacher singled home catcher Roy Campanella with the deciding run in the seventh.

The Brooks upped their lead to three games by winning while St. Louis lost to Cincinnati, 5-1.

Once again the home run was a big factor in the Dodger success. Campanella led the attack on Vern Bickford with his third homer of the year, a double and two singles.

Connie Ryan struck the decisive blow in an 11-inning struggle between Cincinnati and St. Louis with a grand slam homer off Red Munger in the 11th.

Giants Win

The New York Giants came from behind and downed the Phillies, 8-5. The Giants shoved over five runs in the eighth inning. Whitey Lockman's two-run double was the big blow of the uprising.

Willie Mays, highly regarded Giant recruit up from Minneapolis, didn't hit in five trips in his major league debut.

The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 10-1, in the only day game. George Metkovich spearheaded the Pirate assault by driving in five runs on a homer, double and two singles. Ralph Kiner also homered for the Pirates.

Tapering Off Charles, Maxim

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—Champion Ezzard Charles and Joey Maxim begin tapering off their workouts today for their heavyweight boxing title bout Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium.

The training schedule for the heavyweight champion calls for light sparring sessions this afternoon, Sunday and Monday, and no sparring Tuesday. That day will be taken up with skipping rope, shadow boxing, and punching the light and heavy bags.

Maxim, the light heavyweight titleholder and the underdog in betting at about 5-2, was getting some support from ring veterans who have watched his hard work in training.

Both fighters have been examined and pronounced in excellent physical condition. Charles weighed 182 yesterday, a pound or two under his expected weight for the fight Wednesday. Maxim expects to weigh in at 180.

The International Boxing Club, promoting the match, has announced that a $100,000 contract has been signed with a brewing company for radio and television sponsorship rights.

Plenty Woofing

Madison, N. J., May 26 (AP)—The biggest one-day outdoor dog show in the world starts today. Some 2,700 dogs will vie for honors at the Morris and Essex Kennel Club show. Among the entants is the champion fawn-colored boxer, Ch. Bangaway, winner of the 1951 Westminster Kennel Club title.

Oneonta Red Sox Have the Power, Batting .323 as a Team

Oneonta's Little Red Sox, the powerhouse club of the Canadian-American League, will show Kingston fans the best set of appleknockers in the loop in Sunday and Monday appearances at municipal stadium.

It will be the first appearance of the season for the Red Sox, who were rained out two days running on their first visit here.

Boasting a phenomenal .323 average as a team, the willow wielders from the Otsego hills are a typical Red Sox ball club. They score a lot of runs and get a lot of basehits but many times they are forced to pile up big scores to win. The trouble traces to a just so-so pitching staff.

But Manager Owen Scheetz has the hitters. Take Yogi Zizza, for instance. The idol of the Oneonta bobby sockers, Zizza has been pouncing the pill well over .400 since the season started, with a fair sprinkling of extra base hits. He stroked eight hits in two games against the Camellites in Oneonta.

Perhaps, the most solid swinger on the Red Sox roster is Johnny Minarcin, the centerfielder, who is sure to go up at the end of the season. At the end of a dozen games, Minarcin had three homers, 23 runs batted in and a .415 average. Second baseman Dick Karlo was hitting .405; Bob Guttilla, shortstop, had .345 and Bob Atwood, catcher, was clubbing at a .333 pace. Archie Getgen, another regular, was at .303.

That kind of power enabled the Red Sox to rack up 146 hits and 110 runs in 12 games. That's a shade better than nine runs a game and a dozen plus hits per contest. The team had 21 doubles, four triples and five homers.

The pitching staff is big and rangy, but inclined to the wild side. A corps of flingers dished out 18 walks to the Colonials in two games but weak batting stymied the locals.

High School Tennis Squad Defeats Ellenville, 4-1, in Tough Match

Coach Theron Culver's Kingston High School tennis squad overcame stubborn opposition to down Ellenville High, 4 to 1, in a DUSO League match this week.

The Maroons won two singles and both doubles but the victories were achieved in harder fashion than the scores would indicate.

George Carpouzis defeated Wicentowsky in the No. 1 singles in three sets, the deciding issue at 7-5, although he led at 5-2 at one stage. Jay Rider won his match in straight sets and then teamed with Carpouzis to knock off the No. 1 Ellenville tandem.

The results:

(Singles)

George Carpouzis, K, defeated Wicentowsky, E, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.
Jay Rider, K, defeated Draje, E, 6-1, 6-1.
Siegel, E, d Dan Fitzgerald, K, 6-3, 6-3.

(Doubles)

Rider and Carpouzis, K, d Wicentowsky and Hershon, E, 6-0, 1-6, 6-1.
Smith and Gauthier, K, d Drake and Feinsilver, E, 6-4, 5-7, 2-0. (Called by agreement).

18-5 Underdog Surprises Champ

New York, May 26 (AP)—Jimmy Carter, the mystery man of boxing, held the world lightweight championship today and defiantly declared he is ready to prove "I'm no cheese champ."

A comparative stranger even in his own home town, the 27-year-old Harlem Negro knocked the crown off Ike Williams' groggy head last night when he stopped the weight-weakened defending champion in 2:49 of the 14th round of a 15-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

The flat-nosed, ex-GI knocked down scowling Ike four times and was leading on the scoreboards of all three officials when Referee Pete Scalzo stopped the bout as Williams staggered to his feet after taking a six-count.

Told there is a possibility the NBA might not consider him as champion, Carter said "I'm going to give Williams a return bout and I'll knock him out quicker the next time. And after Ike, I'll take on anyone who deserves a chance and can bring in some money."

The NBA, irked at Williams for not defending his title often enough, said Carter, rated 12th in its rankings, was not considered a proper opponent. A high ranking NBA official, who asked not to be named, indicated however that Carter might be recognized if he agreed to meet certain challengers within a definite period.

Lost on Scales

The bitter, battered and glum ex-champion, who nursed lumps under both eyes, said "I lost because I took off too much weight too fast. It will be different the next time."

They will probably meet in the Garden within 60 to 90 days.

There were many skeptics who doubted whether Ike could ever make 135 pounds again. He had to make two trips to the scales at the weigh-in yesterday. He weighed 135¾ the first time and had to sweat for an hour and a half to get off the excess weight.

His power must have been sweated off, too. He hit Carter often with those same short left hooks and overhand rights that had flattened 56 foes but his punches had no zing.

Ike lost the first round but swept the second, third and fourth before he ran into trouble—a long right hand wallop to the temple that dropped him for five in the fifth. At the end of the fifth, he was felled again by two jarring rights to the head. The bell rang at eight to save him.

In the tenth Ike dropped for four and in the 14th he was rocked by a barrage and dropped for six. Scalzo then stopped it.

Only 3,594 paid $13,260—both record lows for a modern lightweight title clash—to see the 133-pound challenger stop the 2 to 1 favorite. The bout was broadcast and telecast by the networks.

Subway Grill, Beicherts, Hoppeys Share City Softball League Lead

Action in the City Softball League was limited to a single game Thursday, when Sickler's Delivery trounced the American Legion, 15 to 8, for its second victory in three starts.

All of the Legion action was crammed into the third inning when they scored eight times. The Deliverymen, racking up 16 hits off Moe Osterhoudt and George Magley, scored in six of the seven innings with their biggest production of five coming in the fifth.

Jack Kozlowski went all the way for Sickler's, yielding nine safeties.

Jake Smith pounded three hits, including a grand-slam homer, while Charley Farley smashed a single, double and homer. George Magley tripled for the losers. Sinsabaugh had a triple, while Hooker and Norton pounded doubles.

The score:

Chapman Leads Coe

Porthcawl, Wales, May 26 (AP)—Dick Chapman, smoking cigarettes chain fashion, built up a two-hole advantage to the morning 18-hole round over Charles Coe of Oklahoma City today in the final of the British Amateur golf championships.

A second 18-hole round is scheduled for this afternoon.

While Chapman, the 40-year-old socialite from Pinehurst, N. C., had some success soothing his nerves, Coe couldn't bring his iron play under control.

The two Americans made the turn all even with par equalling 36's mainly because Coe balanced his poor fairway shots by outdriving Chapman off the tee. When Chapman, making his third appearance in the British final, improved off the tee coming home he began building up a lead.

Chapman took only 34 strokes on the second nine for a two-below par 70. Coe, who left himself many long putts and once was laid a dead stymie, climbed to a 37 and finished with a 73.

Rain fell during the first three holes and the remainder of the morning round was played in dull, cold weather.

Gloversville Hands Locals 18th Straight Defeat

Ormiston, Seeley Sunday Flingers

Their 22nd setback in 23 Canadian-American League games written into the record books last night in Gloversville, the Colonials close out their four-day road trip tonight in the Glove City and then return to Kingston for a Sunday doubleheader against the powerful Oneonta Red Sox.

Game time for Sunday's opener is 2:05 p. m.

The Red Sox will stay over Monday to be followed by the Pittsfield Electrics on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Under normal circumstances the appearance of the powerful Little Red Sox of Oneonta would be a tremendous gate attraction. With the locals having suffered their 18th straight reverse last night, a large turnout is only problematical.

(There is a strong possibility that Manager Hank Camelli will make his first appearance in Kingston as a starting catcher for the Colonials.)

Shortstop Signed

Manager Camelli came up with a new shortstop last night. He is Ken Ducharm, who resides near Pittsfield. Ducharm was unable to overcome the jinx that hovers over the team and went "5 for 0" while committing two miscues."

Veteran Vince Canepa, who was brilliant in a relief role here earlier in the week, goes tonight in the Gloversville series finale.

Walt Bremer picked up two hits last night to keep his average moving toward the inevitable .300.

An old Kingston nemesis—Guy Coleman (remember him?) turned back the Colonials with six hits and struck out eight. He gave up six walks and was effective in the pinches.

The Colonials escaped the humiliation of a shutout in the eighth when Jack Allen hit a long fly with the bases loaded to score Lou Kramberg.

Survives First

Coleman, a standout flinger for several years in the Colonial League, had rough going in the first inning but got Joe Niro to jam into a DP to snuff a promising threat. Joe Kern led off with a walk. Ken Ducharm, the new shortstop, fanned, Bremer singled and Lou Kramberg beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Niro then bounced into a double play.

In other games, second place Pittsfield moved a game closer to pace-setting Amsterdam by defeating Rome, 9-6, while the Rugmakers were losing to Oneonta, 7 to 4. Pittsfield now trails Amsterdam by only two games.

Pittsfield scored eight runs in the seventh inning at Rome. Three Rome hurlers faced at total of 14 batters during the frame. They gave five hits and three walks, and two hit batsmen. An error also contributed to the scoring.

Scorers were kept busy at Oneonta. The host team gathered 17 hits off five Amsterdam pitchers. Despite the spree, Amsterdams' Bill Casanova went hitless after hitting safely in 17 games.

The Glovers whipped Kingston 13 to 1 last night, and embarrassed them by stealing seven bases in the process.

Bob Wenning pitched creditably for five innings and then the Colonial defense collapsed. Catcher Bernie Vogt unloaded a grand slam homer during a six-run Gloversville rally in the sixth.

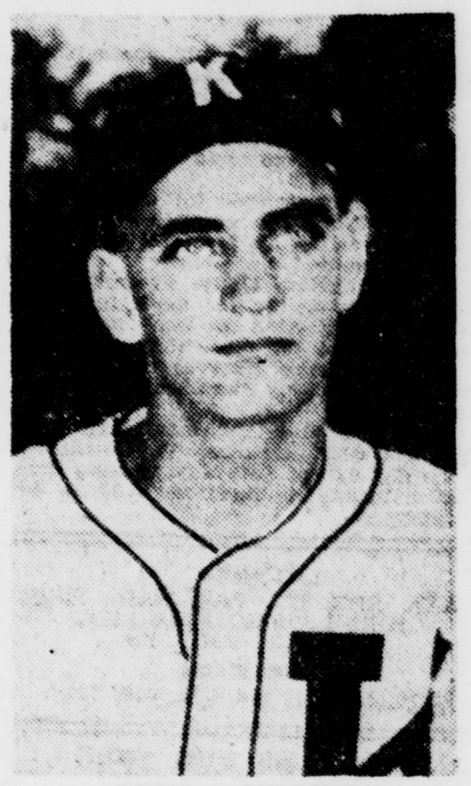
Centerfielder Red McLaren pounded a three-run homer in the eighth off Charlie Ayers. Third baseman Bob Carlson and Bill McMillan, right fielder, each accounted for three stolen bases.

McLaren hit safely on three of his four trips and drove in five runs.

Wiltwyck Winners

Mrs. Charles E. Burnett won the poker-golf tournament at Wiltwyck Golf Club this week with five of a kind. Other winners were Mrs. Jack Feye, Mrs. Ivan Whitmore, and Mrs. J. Haviland Barley. An invitation has been received from the Catskill Country Club for an inter-club match for Class A and B players.

Know Your Colonials......



DICK CONNORS

Richard "Dick" Connors, the newest pitching addition to the Colonial roster, is an 18-year-old native of New York city, who currently resides at Rockaway Beach.

Connors, a hard throwing southpaw, went directly from the independent ranks to the Albany Senators of the Class A Eastern League this spring.

After pitching 12 innings for the Senators, he was optioned to Kingston along with Walter Bremer, the hard-hitting left fielder. Connors pitched two years of high school ball before he went into the independent ranks.

In both starts to date, Connors has flashed good stuff and with better batting support promised for the future, he figures to be one of the better flingers in the Can-Am circuit.

High School Upsets NFA Nine in Extra-Innings; 2-1

Joe Turck Stars In Relief Role; Kuhn Starter

Bob Engle's Single Scores Winning Run

Relief pitcher Joe Turck was awarded the hero's mantle when Kingston High surprised Newburgh Free Academy, 2 to 1, in a nine-inning DUSO Baseball League thriller, Friday at municipal stadium.

Relieving starter Bert Kuhn, who had pitched magnificently for six innings, with men on second and third in the seventh and one out, Turck fanned the next two batters to end the frame at a 1-1 tie.

Kingston failed to move Bob Maher in the bottom of the seventh but went on to win with two down in the ninth. Turck kept Maroon hopes alive for a rally by working Maher for a walk. Jackson also drew a base on balls and Bob Engle broke up the contest with a single through the middle, scoring Turck.

Big Maher, who has been NFA's mainstay in a big DUSO season, restricted Coach Bill Burke's tossers to five hits and struck out 13. Two of the five walks he issued, however, were converted into runs by Kingston.

Take Early Lead

The Maroon went ahead 1-0 in the third when Engle walked and rode home on successive singles by Moll Leonard and Bob Lyons.

Kuhn yielded the tying run with one out in the seventh on Manning's double and Maher's single to left where Ferraro momentarily bobbled the ball. Turck came in and fanned McLaren.

Leonard collected two of the five Kingston safeties, while Bob Spreer and Maher each had two safeties for the Goldbacks.

Hinkley and Don Lyons rapped doubles for the winners. Torelli poked a triple for Newburgh.

The defeat was only the second of the season for NFA which was a surprise victim of Beacon High a few days ago.

Rookie Richards inherited a chronic second division team but he has the Sox humming on all cylinders today.

The Sox hopped on Bob Lemon for three runs in the second inning and were never headed.

Billy Pierce blanked the Indians until the sixth when Birdie Tebbetts belted a three-run pinch-hit double. The loss was Lemon's fourth straight.

The victory kept the Sox two games behind New York. The Yanks defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5.

8th for Lopat

Lefty Ed Lopat started for the Yanks and gained credit for his eighth victory without a defeat. Lopat was knocked out of the box for the first time this season when the A's rallied for three runs in the eighth inning.

Boston's up and coming Red Sox smeared the Washington Senators, 14-2. Chuck Stobbs coasted to his fifth victory allowing only six hits.

The Sox shelled Con Marrero and Alton Brown for 19 hits. Ted Williams paced the assault, driving in four runs and scoring three on a homer, two doubles and a single. The loss was Marrero's first in six decisions.

Home runs by Don Lenhardt and Johnny Bero led the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 triumph over the Tigers in a night game at Detroit. Bero, a former Tiger, won the game with a home run in the seventh inning. Vic Wertz clouted two home runs for the Tigers.

Al Widmar went all the way to post his third conquest. He permitted 11 hits. Hal Newhouser, gunning for his fifth straight victory, was the loser.

Roe Stops Braves

Preacher Roe, the Brooklyn "meal ticket," won his sixth straight, 4-3, over Boston. The Preacher singled home catcher Roy Campanella with the deciding run in the seventh.

The Brooks upped their lead to three games by winning while St. Louis lost to Cincinnati, 5-1.

Once again the home run was a big factor in the Dodger success. Campanella led the attack on Vern Bickford with his third homer of the year, a double and two singles.

Connie Ryan struck the decisive blow in an 11-inning struggle between Cincinnati and St. Louis with a grand slam homer off Red Munger in the 11th.

Giants Win

The New York Giants came from behind and downed the Phillies, 8-5. The Giants shoved over five runs in the eighth inning. Whitey Lockman's two-run double was the big blow of the uprising.

Willie Mays, highly regarded Giant recruit up from Minneapolis, didn't hit in five trips in his major league debut.

The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 10-1, in the only day game. George Metkovich spearheaded the Pirate assault by driving in five runs on a homer, double and two singles. Ralph Kiner also homered for the Pirates.

Tapering Off Charles, Maxim

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—Champion Ezzard Charles and Joey Maxim begin tapering off their workouts today for their heavyweight boxing title bout Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium.

The training schedule for the heavyweight champion calls for light sparring sessions this afternoon, Sunday and Monday, and no sparring Tuesday. That day will be taken up with skipping rope, shadow boxing, and punching the light and heavy bags.

Maxim, the light heavyweight titleholder and the underdog in betting at about 5-2, was getting some support from ring veterans who have watched his hard work in training.

Both fighters have been examined and pronounced in excellent physical condition. Charles weighed 182 yesterday, a pound or two under his expected weight for the fight Wednesday. Maxim expects to weigh in at 180.

The International Boxing Club, promoting the match, has announced that a $100,000 contract has been signed with a brewing company for radio and television sponsorship rights.

Plenty Woofing

Madison, N. J., May 26 (AP)—The biggest one-day outdoor dog show in the world starts today. Some 2,700 dogs will vie for honors at the Morris and Essex Kennel Club show. Among the entants is the champion fawn-colored boxer, Ch. Bangaway, winner of the 1951 Westminster Kennel Club title.

Oneonta Red Sox Have the Power, Batting .323 as a Team

Oneonta's Little Red Sox, the powerhouse club of the Canadian-American League, will show Kingston fans the best set of appleknockers in the loop in Sunday and Monday appearances at municipal stadium.

It will be the first appearance of the season for the Red Sox, who were rained out two days running on their first visit here.

Boasting a phenomenal .323 average as a team, the willow wielders from the Otsego hills are a typical Red Sox ball club. They score a lot of runs and get a lot of basehits but many times they are forced to pile up big scores to win. The trouble traces to a just so-so pitching staff.

But Manager Owen Scheetz has the hitters. Take Yogi Zizza, for instance. The idol of the Oneonta bobby sockers, Zizza has been pouncing the pill well over .400 since the season started, with a fair sprinkling of extra base hits. He stroked eight hits in two games against the Camellites in Oneonta.

Perhaps, the most solid swinger on the Red Sox roster is Johnny Minarcin, the centerfielder, who is sure to go up at the end of the season. At the end of a dozen games, Minarcin had three homers, 23 runs batted in and a .415 average. Second baseman Dick Karlo was hitting .405; Bob Guttilla, shortstop, had .345 and Bob Atwood, catcher, was clubbing at a .333 pace. Archie Getgen, another regular, was at .303.

That kind of power enabled the Red Sox to rack up 146 hits and 110 runs in 12 games. That's a shade better than nine runs a game and a dozen plus hits per contest. The team had 21 doubles, four triples and five homers.

The pitching staff is big and rangy, but inclined to the wild side. A corps of flingers dished out 18 walks to the Colonials in two games but weak batting stymied the locals.

High School Tennis Squad Defeats Ellenville, 4-1, in Tough Match

Coach Theron Culver's Kingston High School tennis squad overcame stubborn opposition to down Ellenville High, 4 to 1, in a DUSO League match this week.

The Maroons won two singles and both doubles but the victories were achieved in harder fashion than the scores would indicate.

George Carpouzis defeated Wicentowsky in the No. 1 singles in three sets, the deciding issue at 7-5, although he led at 5-2 at one stage. Jay Rider won his match in straight sets and then teamed with Carpouzis to knock off the No. 1 Ellenville tandem.

The results:

(Singles)

George Carpouzis, K, defeated Wicentowsky, E, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.
Jay Rider, K, defeated Draje, E, 6-1, 6-1.
Siegel, E, d Dan Fitzgerald, K, 6-3, 6-3.

(Doubles)

Rider and Carpouzis, K, d Wicentowsky and Hershon, E, 6-0, 1-6, 6-1.
Smith and Gauthier, K, d Drake and Feinsilver, E, 6-4, 5-7, 2-0. (Called by agreement).

18-5 Underdog Surprises Champ

New York, May 26 (AP)—Jimmy Carter, the mystery man of boxing, held the world lightweight championship today and defiantly declared he is ready to prove "I'm no cheese champ."

A comparative stranger even in his own home town, the 27-year-old Harlem Negro knocked the crown off Ike Williams' groggy head last night when he stopped the weight-weakened defending champion in 2:49 of the 14th round of a 15-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

The flat-nosed, ex-GI knocked down scowling Ike four times and was leading on the scoreboards of all three officials when Referee Pete Scalzo stopped the bout as Williams staggered to his feet after taking a six-count.

Told there is a possibility the NBA might not consider him as champion, Carter said "I'm going to give Williams a return bout and I'll knock him out quicker the next time. And after Ike, I'll take on anyone who deserves a chance and can bring in some money."

The NBA, irked at Williams for not defending his title often enough, said Carter, rated 12th in its rankings, was not considered a proper opponent. A high ranking NBA official, who asked not to be named, indicated however that Carter might be recognized if he agreed to meet certain challengers within a definite period.

Lost on Scales

The bitter, battered and glum ex-champion, who nursed lumps under both eyes, said "I lost because I took off too much weight too fast. It will be different the next time."

They will probably meet in the Garden within 60 to 90 days.

There were many skeptics who doubted whether Ike could ever make 135 pounds again. He had to make two trips to the scales at the weigh-in yesterday. He weighed 135¾ the first time and had to sweat for an hour and a half to get off the excess weight.

His power must have been sweated off, too. He hit Carter often with those same short left hooks and overhand rights that had flattened 56 foes but his punches had no zing.

Ike lost the first round but swept the second, third and fourth before he ran into trouble—a long right hand wallop to the temple that dropped him for five in the fifth. At the end of the fifth, he was felled again by two jarring rights to the head. The bell rang at eight to save him.

In the tenth Ike dropped for four and in the 14th he was rocked by a barrage and dropped for six. Scalzo then stopped it.

Only 3,594 paid $13,260—both record lows for a modern lightweight title clash—to see the 133-pound challenger stop the 2 to 1 favorite. The bout was broadcast and telecast by the networks.

Subway Grill, Beicherts, Hoppeys Share City Softball League Lead

Action in the City Softball League was limited to a single game Thursday, when Sickler's Delivery trounced the American Legion, 15 to 8, for its second victory in three starts.

All of the Legion action was crammed into the third inning when they scored eight times. The Deliverymen, racking up 16 hits off Moe Osterhoudt and George Magley, scored in six of the seven innings with their biggest production of five coming in the fifth.

Jack Kozlowski went all the way for Sickler's, yielding nine safeties.

Jake Smith pounded three hits, including a grand-slam homer, while Charley Farley smashed a single, double and homer. George Magley tripled for the losers. Sinsabaugh had a triple, while Hooker and Norton pounded doubles.

The score:

Chapman Leads Coe

Porthcawl, Wales, May 26 (AP)—Dick Chapman, smoking cigarettes chain fashion, built up a two-hole advantage to the morning 18-hole round over Charles Coe of Oklahoma City today in the final of the British Amateur golf championships.

A second 18-hole round is scheduled for this afternoon.

While Chapman, the 40-year-old socialite from Pinehurst, N. C., had some success soothing his nerves, Coe couldn't bring his iron play under control.

The two Americans made the turn all even with par equalling 36's mainly because Coe balanced his poor fairway shots by outdriving Chapman off the tee. When Chapman, making his third appearance in the British final, improved off the tee coming home he began building up a lead.

Chapman took only 34 strokes on the second nine for a two-below par 70. Coe, who left himself many long putts and once was laid a dead stymie, climbed to a 37 and finished with a 73.

Rain fell during the first three holes and the remainder of the morning round was played in dull, cold weather.

Gloversville Hands Locals 18th Straight Defeat

Ormiston, Seeley Sunday Flingers

Their 22nd setback in 23 Canadian-American League games written into the record books last night in Gloversville, the Colonials close out their four-day road trip tonight in the Glove City and then return to Kingston for a Sunday doubleheader against the powerful Oneonta Red Sox.

Game time for Sunday's opener is 2:05 p. m.

The Red Sox will stay over Monday to be followed by the Pittsfield Electrics on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Under normal circumstances the appearance of the powerful Little Red Sox of Oneonta would be a tremendous gate attraction. With the locals having suffered their 18th straight reverse last night, a large turnout is only problematical.

(There is a strong possibility that Manager Hank Camelli will make his first appearance in Kingston as a starting catcher for the Colonials.)

Shortstop Signed

Manager Camelli came up with a new shortstop last night. He is Ken Ducharm, who resides near Pittsfield. Ducharm was unable to overcome the jinx that hovers over the team and went "5 for 0" while committing two miscues."

Veteran Vince Canepa, who was brilliant in a relief role here earlier in the week, goes tonight in the Gloversville series finale.

Walt Bremer picked up two hits last night to keep his average moving toward the inevitable .300.

An old Kingston nemesis—Guy Coleman (remember him?) turned back the Colonials with six hits and struck out eight. He gave up six walks and was effective in the pinches.

The Colonials escaped the humiliation of a shutout in the eighth when Jack Allen hit a long fly with the bases loaded to score Lou Kramberg.

Survives First

Coleman, a standout flinger for several years in the Colonial League, had rough going in the first inning but got Joe Niro to jam into a DP to snuff a promising threat. Joe Kern led off with a walk. Ken Ducharm, the new shortstop, fanned, Bremer singled and Lou Kramberg beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Niro then bounced into a double play.

In other games, second place Pittsfield moved a game closer to pace-setting Amsterdam by defeating Rome, 9-6, while the Rugmakers were losing to Oneonta, 7 to 4. Pittsfield now trails Amsterdam by only two games.

Pittsfield scored eight runs in the seventh inning at Rome. Three Rome hurlers faced at total of 14 batters during the frame. They gave five hits and three walks, and two hit batsmen. An error also contributed to the scoring.

Scorers were kept busy at Oneonta. The host team gathered 17 hits off five Amsterdam pitchers. Despite the spree, Amsterdams' Bill Casanova went hitless after hitting safely in 17 games.

The Glovers whipped Kingston 13 to 1 last night, and embarrassed them by stealing seven bases in the process.

Bob Wenning pitched creditably for five innings and then the Colonial defense collapsed. Catcher Bernie Vogt unloaded a grand slam homer during a six-run Gloversville rally in the sixth.

Centerfielder Red McLaren pounded a three-run homer in the eighth off Charlie Ayers. Third baseman Bob Carlson and Bill McMillan, right fielder, each accounted for three stolen bases.

McLaren hit safely on three of his four trips and drove in five runs.

Wiltwyck Winners

Mrs. Charles E. Burnett won the poker-golf tournament at Wiltwyck Golf Club this week with five of a kind. Other winners were Mrs. Jack Feye, Mrs. Ivan Whitmore, and Mrs. J. Haviland Barley. An invitation has been received from the Catskill Country Club for an inter-club match for Class A and B players.

Know Your Colonials......

DICK CONNORS

Richard "Dick" Connors, the newest pitching addition to the Colonial roster, is an 18-year-old native of New York city, who currently resides at Rockaway Beach.

Connors, a hard throwing southpaw, went directly from the independent ranks to the Albany Senators of the Class A Eastern League this spring.

After pitching 12 innings for the Senators, he was optioned to Kingston along with Walter Bremer, the hard-hitting left fielder. Connors pitched two years of high school ball before he went into the independent ranks.

In both starts to date, Connors has flashed good stuff and with better batting support promised for the future, he figures to be one of the better flingers in the Can-Am circuit.

High School Upsets NFA Nine in Extra-Innings; 2-1

Joe Turck Stars In Relief Role; Kuhn Starter

Bob Engle's Single Scores Winning Run

Relief pitcher Joe Turck was awarded the hero's mantle when Kingston High surprised Newburgh Free Academy, 2 to 1, in a nine-inning DUSO Baseball League thriller, Friday at municipal stadium.

Relieving starter Bert Kuhn, who had pitched magnificently for six innings, with men on second and third in the seventh and one out, Turck fanned the next two batters to end the frame at a 1-1 tie.

Kingston failed to move Bob Maher in the bottom of the seventh but went on to win with two down in the ninth. Turck kept Maroon hopes alive for a rally by working Maher for a walk. Jackson also drew a base on balls and Bob Engle broke up the contest with a single through the middle, scoring Turck.

Big Maher, who has been NFA's mainstay in a big DUSO season, restricted Coach Bill Burke's tossers to five hits and struck out 13. Two of the five walks he issued, however, were converted into runs by Kingston.

Take Early Lead

The Maroon went ahead 1-0 in the third when Engle walked and rode home on successive singles by Moll Leonard and Bob Lyons.

Kuhn yielded the tying run with one out in the seventh on Manning's double and Maher's single to left where Ferraro momentarily bobbled the ball. Turck came in and fanned McLaren.

Leonard collected two of the five Kingston safeties, while Bob Spreer and Maher each had two safeties for the Goldbacks.

Hinkley and Don Lyons rapped doubles for the winners. Torelli poked a triple for Newburgh.

The defeat was only the second of the season for NFA which was a surprise victim of Beacon High a few days ago.

Rookie Richards inherited a chronic second division team but he has the Sox humming on all cylinders today.

The Sox hopped on Bob Lemon for three runs in the second inning and were never headed.

Billy Pierce blanked the Indians until the sixth when Birdie Tebbetts belted a three-run pinch-hit double. The loss was Lemon's fourth straight.

The victory kept the Sox two games behind New York. The Yanks defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5.

8th for Lopat

Lefty Ed Lopat started for the Yanks and gained credit for his eighth victory without a defeat. Lopat was knocked out of the box for the first time this season when the A's rallied for three runs in the eighth inning.

Boston's up and coming Red Sox smeared the Washington Senators, 14-2. Chuck Stobbs coasted to his fifth victory allowing only six hits.

The Sox shelled Con Marrero and Alton Brown for 19 hits. Ted Williams paced the assault, driving in four runs and scoring three on a homer, two doubles and a single. The loss was Marrero's first in six decisions.

Home runs by Don Lenhardt and Johnny Bero led the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 triumph over the Tigers in a night game at Detroit. Bero, a former Tiger, won the game with a home run in the seventh inning. Vic Wertz clouted two home runs for the Tigers.

Al Widmar went all the way to post his third conquest. He permitted 11 hits. Hal Newhouser, gunning for his fifth straight victory, was the loser.

Roe Stops Braves

Preacher Roe, the Brooklyn "meal ticket," won his sixth straight, 4-3, over Boston. The Preacher singled home catcher Roy Campanella with the deciding run in the seventh.

The Brooks upped their lead to three games by winning while St. Louis lost to Cincinnati, 5-1.

Once again the home run was a big factor in the Dodger success. Campanella led the attack on Vern Bickford with his third homer of the year, a double and two singles.

Connie Ryan struck the decisive blow in an 11-inning struggle between Cincinnati and St. Louis with a grand slam homer off Red Munger in the 11th.

Giants Win

The New York Giants came from behind and downed the Phillies, 8-5. The Giants shoved over five runs in the eighth inning. Whitey Lockman's two-run double was the big blow of the uprising.

Willie Mays, highly regarded Giant recruit up from Minneapolis, didn't hit in five trips in his major league debut.

The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 10-1, in the only day game. George Metkovich spearheaded the Pirate assault by driving in five runs on a homer, double and two singles. Ralph Kiner also homered for the Pirates.

Tapering Off Charles, Maxim

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—Champion Ezzard Charles and Joey Maxim begin tapering off their workouts today for their heavyweight boxing title bout Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium.

The training schedule for the heavyweight champion calls for light sparring sessions this afternoon, Sunday and Monday, and no sparring Tuesday. That day will be taken up with skipping rope, shadow boxing, and punching the light and heavy bags.

Maxim, the light heavyweight titleholder and the underdog in betting at about 5-2, was getting some support from ring veterans who have watched his hard work in training.

Both fighters have been examined and pronounced in excellent physical condition. Charles weighed 182 yesterday, a pound or two under his expected weight for the fight Wednesday. Maxim expects to weigh in at 180.

The International Boxing Club, promoting the match, has announced that a $100,000 contract has been signed with a brewing company for radio and television sponsorship rights.

Plenty Woofing

Madison, N. J., May 26 (AP)—The biggest one-day outdoor dog show in the world starts today. Some 2,700 dogs will vie for honors at the Morris and Essex Kennel Club show. Among the entants is the champion fawn-colored boxer, Ch. Bangaway, winner of the 1951 Westminster Kennel Club title.

Oneonta Red Sox Have the Power, Batting .323 as a Team

Oneonta's Little Red Sox, the powerhouse club of the Canadian-American League, will show Kingston fans the best set of appleknockers in the loop in Sunday and Monday appearances at municipal stadium.

It will be the first appearance of the season for the Red Sox, who were rained out two days running on their first visit here.

Boasting a phenomenal .323 average as a team, the willow wielders from the Otsego hills are a typical Red Sox ball club. They score a lot of runs and get a lot of basehits but many times they are forced to pile up big scores to win. The trouble traces to a just so-so pitching staff.

But Manager Owen Scheetz has the hitters. Take Yogi Zizza, for instance. The idol of the Oneonta bobby sockers, Zizza has been pouncing the pill well over .400 since the season started, with a fair sprinkling of extra base hits. He stroked eight hits in two games against the Camellites in Oneonta.

Perhaps, the most solid swinger on the Red Sox roster is Johnny Minarcin, the centerfielder, who is sure to go up at the end of the season. At the end of a dozen games, Minarcin had three homers, 23 runs batted in and a .415 average. Second baseman Dick Karlo was hitting .405; Bob Guttilla, shortstop, had .345 and Bob Atwood, catcher, was clubbing at a .333 pace. Archie Getgen, another regular, was at .303.

That kind of power enabled the Red Sox to rack up 146 hits and 110 runs in 12 games. That's a shade better than nine runs a game and a dozen plus hits per contest. The team had 21 doubles, four triples and five homers.

The pitching staff is big and rangy, but inclined to the wild side. A corps of flingers dished out 18 walks to the Colonials in two games but weak batting stymied the locals.

High School Tennis Squad Defeats Ellenville, 4-1, in Tough Match

Coach Theron Culver's Kingston High School tennis squad overcame stubborn opposition to down Ellenville High, 4 to 1, in a DUSO League match this week.

The Maroons won two singles and both doubles but the victories were achieved in harder fashion than the scores would indicate.

George Carpouzis defeated Wicentowsky in the No. 1 singles in three sets, the deciding issue at 7-5, although he led at 5-2 at one stage. Jay Rider won his match in straight sets and then teamed with Carpouzis to knock off the No. 1 Ellenville tandem.

The results:

(Singles)

George Carpouzis, K, defeated Wicentowsky, E, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

Jay Rider, K, defeated Draje, E, 6-1, 6-1.

(Doubles)

Rider and Carpouzis, K, d Wicentowsky and Hershon, E, 6-0, 1-6, 6-1.

Smith and Gauthier, K, d Drake and Feinsilver, E, 6-4, 5-7, 2-0. (Called by agreement).

18-5 Underdog Surprises Champ

A comparative stranger even in his own home town, the 27-year-old Harlem Negro knocked the crown off Ike Williams' groggy head last night when he stopped the weight-weakened defending champion in 2:49 of the 14th round of a 15-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

The flat-nosed, ex-GI knocked down scowling Ike four times and was leading on the scoreboards of all three officials when Referee Pete Scalzo stopped the bout as Williams staggered to his feet after taking a six-count.

Told there is a possibility the NBA might not consider him as champion, Carter said "I'm going to give Williams a return bout and I'll knock him out quicker the next time. And after Ike, I'll take on anyone who deserves a chance and can bring in some money."

The NBA, irked at Williams for not defending his title often enough, said Carter, rated 12th in its rankings, was not considered a proper opponent. A high ranking NBA official, who asked not to be named, indicated however that Carter might be recognized if he agreed to meet certain challengers within a definite period.

Lost on Scales

The bitter, battered and glum ex-champion, who nursed lumps under both eyes, said "I lost because I took off too much weight too fast. It will be different the next time."

They will probably meet in the Garden within 60 to 90 days.

There were many skeptics who doubted whether Ike could ever make 135 pounds again. He had to make two trips to the scales at the weigh-in yesterday. He weighed 135¾ the first time and had to sweat for an hour and a half to get off the excess weight.

His power must have been sweated off, too. He hit Carter often with those same short left hooks and overhand rights that had flattened 56 foes but his punches had no zing.

Ike lost the first round but swept the second, third and fourth before he ran into trouble—a long right hand wallop to the temple that dropped him for five in the fifth. At the end of the fifth, he was felled again by two jarring rights to the head. The bell rang at eight to save him.

In the tenth Ike dropped for four and in the 14th he was rocked by a barrage and dropped for six. Scalzo then stopped it.

Only 3,594 paid $13,260—both record lows for a modern lightweight title clash—to see the 133-pound challenger stop the 2 to 1 favorite. The bout was broadcast and telecast by the networks.

Subway Grill, Beicherts, Hoppeys Share City Softball League Lead

Action in the City Softball League was limited to a single game Thursday, when Sickler's Delivery trounced the American Legion, 15 to 8, for its second victory in three starts.

All of the Legion action was crammed into the third inning when they scored eight times. The Deliverymen, racking up 16 hits off Moe Osterhoudt and George Magley, scored in six of the seven innings with their biggest production of five coming in the fifth.

Jake Smith pounded three hits, including a grand-slam homer, while Charley Farley smashed a single, double and homer. George Magley tripled for the losers. Sinsabaugh had a triple, while Hooker and Norton pounded doubles.

The score:

Chapman Leads Coe

Porthcawl, Wales, May 26 (AP)—Dick Chapman, smoking cigarettes chain fashion, built up a two-hole advantage to the morning 18-hole round over Charles Coe of Oklahoma City today in the final of the British Amateur golf championships.

A second 18-hole round is scheduled for this afternoon.

The two Americans made the turn all even with par equalling 36's mainly because Coe balanced his poor fairway shots by outdriving Chapman off the tee. When Chapman, making his third appearance in the British final, improved off the tee coming home he began building up a lead.

Chapman took only 34 strokes on the second nine for a two-below par 70. Coe, who left himself many long putts and once was laid a dead stymie, climbed to a 37 and finished with a 73.

Ormiston, Seeley Sunday Flingers

Their 22nd setback in 23 Canadian-American League games written into the record books last night in Gloversville, the Colonials close out their four-day road trip tonight in the Glove City and then return to Kingston for a Sunday doubleheader against the powerful Oneonta Red Sox.

Game time for Sunday's opener is 2:05 p. m.

The Red Sox will stay over Monday to be followed by the Pittsfield Electrics on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Under normal circumstances the appearance of the powerful Little Red Sox of Oneonta would be a tremendous gate attraction. With the locals having suffered their 18th straight reverse last night, a large turnout is only problematical.

(There is a strong possibility that Manager Hank Camelli will make his first appearance in Kingston as a starting catcher for the Colonials.)

Shortstop Signed

Manager Camelli came up with a new shortstop last night. He is Ken Ducharm, who resides near Pittsfield. Ducharm was unable to overcome the jinx that hovers over the team and went "5 for 0" while committing two miscues."

Veteran Vince Canepa, who was brilliant in a relief role here earlier in the week, goes tonight in the Gloversville series finale.

An old Kingston nemesis—Guy Coleman (remember him?) turned back the Colonials with six hits and struck out eight. He gave up six walks and was effective in the pinches.

The Colonials escaped the humiliation of a shutout in the eighth when Jack Allen hit a long fly with the bases loaded to score Lou Kramberg.

Survives First

Coleman, a standout flinger for several years in the Colonial League, had rough going in the first inning but got Joe Niro to jam into a DP to snuff a promising threat. Joe Kern led off with a walk. Ken Ducharm, the new shortstop, fanned, Bremer singled and Lou Kramberg beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Niro then bounced into a double play.

In other games, second place Pittsfield moved a game closer to pace-setting Amsterdam by defeating Rome, 9-6, while the Rugmakers were losing to Oneonta, 7 to 4. Pittsfield now trails Amsterdam by only two games.

Pittsfield scored eight runs in the seventh inning at Rome. Three Rome hurlers faced at total of 14 batters during the frame. They gave five hits and three walks, and two hit batsmen. An error also contributed to the scoring.

Scorers were kept busy at Oneonta. The host team gathered 17 hits off five Amsterdam pitchers. Despite the spree, Amsterdams' Bill Casanova went hitless after hitting safely in 17 games.

The Glovers whipped Kingston 13 to 1 last night, and embarrassed them by stealing seven bases in the process.

Bob Wenning pitched creditably for five innings and then the Colonial defense collapsed. Catcher Bernie Vogt unloaded a grand slam homer during a six-run Gloversville rally in the sixth.

Centerfielder Red McLaren pounded a three-run homer in the eighth off Charlie Ayers. Third baseman Bob Carlson and Bill McMillan, right fielder, each accounted for three stolen bases.

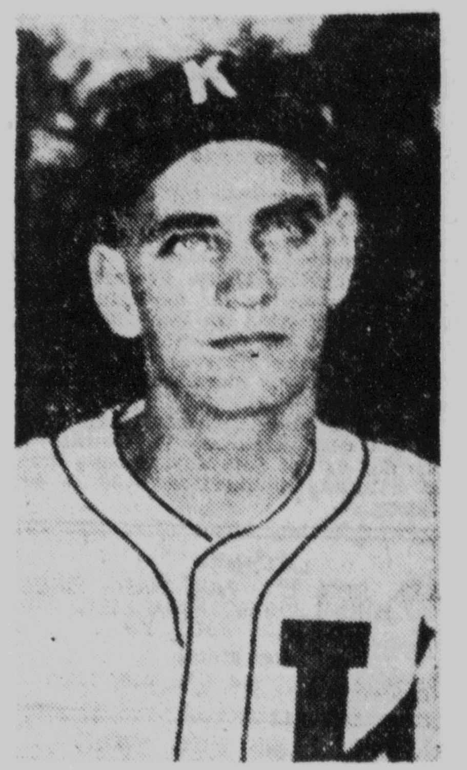
Wiltwyck Winners

Mrs. Charles E. Burnett won the poker-golf tournament at Wiltwyck Golf Club this week with five of a kind. Other winners were Mrs. Jack Feye, Mrs. Ivan Whitmore, and Mrs. J. Haviland Barley. An invitation has been received from the Catskill Country Club for an inter-club match for Class A and B players.

Know Your Colonials......



DICK CONNORS

Richard "Dick" Connors, the newest pitching addition to the Colonial roster, is an 18-year-old native of New York city, who currently resides at Rockaway Beach.

Connors, a hard throwing southpaw, went directly from the independent ranks to the Albany Senators of the Class A Eastern League this spring.

After pitching 12 innings for the Senators, he was optioned to Kingston along with Walter Bremer, the hard-hitting left fielder. Connors pitched two years of high school ball before he went into the independent ranks.

In both starts to date, Connors has flashed good stuff and with better batting support promised for the future, he figures to be one of the better flingers in the Can-Am circuit.

SALE TO START AT 10 A. M. SHARP, D. S. T.

Due to the fact that "Tony" is unable to secure help, he is quitting the farming business. We have been commissioned to sell his entire herd and personal property.

51 - HEAD OF CATTLE - 51

This dairy consists of 34 cows; 13 are fresh, 11 due from now to August 10, are bred for September, October and November. There are 12 colored cows, everything else is Holstein. There are 5 first calf Holstein heifers bred for fall, 4 yearlings, 6 calves and 2 bulls, one is 19 months old, the other is a 3-year-old weighing about 1700 or 1800 lbs.

This is a very nice dairy of cows. They have plenty of size (most of them will weigh from 1200 to 1400 lbs.), plenty of condition and producers. This herd is mostly all young and clean in every way. Everything is Calf Vaccinated and T.B. Accredited.

If you are looking for some real cows PLAN TO ATTEND THIS SALE. We are sure you will be well pleased with what you see. You can only tell by seeing for yourself.

Jacoby on Canasta

ANTICIPATE THE EXPERT'S PLAY

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

We have been watching a good Canasta player in earlier articles this week, and now we're going to climb inside his brain to read his thoughts. He knows more than most players realize.

Joker-K-K-K, 8-8-2.

We have also noticed that the left-hand oponent has previously discarded two eights. What do we know about the hand of the right-hand opponent? Decide for yourself what you know about that hand, and then we'll read the expert's mind to see what he knows.

To begin with, the melder has some sort of good play for a fast out. Otherwise he would play on without melding. His meld is a signal that he cannot fight for the pack much longer but that he can expect to meld out quickly if he gets the right kind of help.

Does the melder have any additional kings or eights? He certainly has no kings, for he would have been happy to meld a base of four natural kings if he could have done so. He may conceivably have a third eight, but the odds are against it.

He does not have a pair of eights still in his hand, for he would have melded four eights to reach the count of 120 points. That would have allowed him to keep the deuce in his hand for further flexibility.

Do the melder have a pair of aces? No. He would have been delighted to meld joker-ace-ace and the three kings to reach the count. Remember that he is not happy to put down the two eights and a deuce after his partner has discarded two eights.

Does the melder have a pair of queens, jacks, tens, or nines? Very unlikely. He would have melded any such pair with his deuce instead of the eights. He would try for a possible match instead of melding an obvious mismatch.

With all these pairs ruled out, what sort of good play for out can the melder have? He certainly cannot hold four unmatched miscellaneous cards, for that would not look like a good play for out to any experienced player.

He must hold a pair or a trio of low cards (counting 5 points each). He did not meld them because they were insufficient for the count. He probably has another wild card in his hand.

In short, he is ready (or nearly ready) to go out if his partner can complete a canasta. However he does not hold any high pair in his hand.

Everybody's talking about Canasta these days. You'd like to get into the conversations and more important, you'd like to know what you're talking about. It's easy to learn with the lively, easy-to-read 1951 INTERNATIONAL LAWS OF CANASTA. Copies are going fast so send 15 cents in coin to Oswald Jacoby, Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 438, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

A son, Roland James, Jr., was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Roland James Brown, Sr., at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Kleeck and Jess Haines spent Sunday in New Kingston, Delaware county.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Secor and daughters spent the week-end in Pearl River, N. J.

Mrs. Peter Sampson of Yonkers is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles Sherman.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town of Marbletown American Legion Auxiliary was held Thursday in the Reformed Church Stone Ridge, with a good attendance. Mrs. Frank Pavlik, president, presided. Mrs. Frank Altieri, poppy chairman, announced the following winners of the poppy poster contest: Class 1, first, David Schriner; second, William Pratt, and third, William Lambertson. Class 2, first, Ann Scherrieble, second, Elsie Nilsen, third, Robert Van Wagenen. The auxiliary is selling poppies this week. This sale is to raise money to carry on the work in the veterans hospitals. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Frank Altiere, president; Mrs. Mark Bryant, first vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, second vice-president; Mrs. George Kornstone, secretary; Mrs. Robert Sutton, treasurer; Mrs. Amos Stokes, Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. Frank Esper, executive committee. A special meeting will be held in Lomontville early in June for the installation of the Legion and auxiliary officers. Short memorial services will be held at the honor rolls in Stone Ridge and High Falls on Memorial Day. The next county meeting will be held in the Lake Katrine Grange Hall Thursday, May 31. Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed by the Legion and auxiliary following the meeting.

Opening lead—♥ Q

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Two and two make four," said my friend Alfred Sheinwold, "so two and three should make—how many?"

"Right," he told me, displaying the hand shown today. "Declarer must lose two triump tricks and three diamond tricks. Two plus three equals three, so South makes his contract. Right?"

The arithmetic may be a bit sketchy, but the bridge is certainly accurate enough. Sheinwold knew what he was talking about, since he played the hand and made four spades without any trouble at all.

He won the opening lead in his own hand with the ace of hearts and laid down the ace and king of spades. When West failed to follow on the second trump, Sheinwold gulped and went after the clubs.

Dummy took two top clubs, and Sheinwold ruffed a club in his own hand. He got back to dummy with the king of hearts to ruff another club. Then he ruffed his last heart in dummy, crossing his fingers as he did so.

Now he gave up the three diamonds and the two trumps tricks—but they all got crammed together into only three tricks. East had to waste his good trumps on two of his partner's high diamonds.

We sank with the flood — but we're gradually coming to the surface!

Jacoby on Canasta

ANTICIPATE THE EXPERT'S PLAY

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

We have been watching a good Canasta player in earlier articles this week, and now we're going to climb inside his brain to read his thoughts. He knows more than most players realize.

As you may remember, both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. The pack becomes fairly large, and our hero's right-hand opponent finally makes the following meld from his hand:

Joker-K-K-K, 8-8-2.

We have also noticed that the left-hand oponent has previously discarded two eights. What do we know about the hand of the right-hand opponent? Decide for yourself what you know about that hand, and then we'll read the expert's mind to see what he knows.

To begin with, the melder has some sort of good play for a fast out. Otherwise he would play on without melding. His meld is a signal that he cannot fight for the pack much longer but that he can expect to meld out quickly if he gets the right kind of help.

Does the melder have any additional kings or eights? He certainly has no kings, for he would have been happy to meld a base of four natural kings if he could have done so. He may conceivably have a third eight, but the odds are against it.

He does not have a pair of eights still in his hand, for he would have melded four eights to reach the count of 120 points. That would have allowed him to keep the deuce in his hand for further flexibility.

Do the melder have a pair of aces? No. He would have been delighted to meld joker-ace-ace and the three kings to reach the count. Remember that he is not happy to put down the two eights and a deuce after his partner has discarded two eights.

Does the melder have a pair of queens, jacks, tens, or nines? Very unlikely. He would have melded any such pair with his deuce instead of the eights. He would try for a possible match instead of melding an obvious mismatch.

With all these pairs ruled out, what sort of good play for out can the melder have? He certainly cannot hold four unmatched miscellaneous cards, for that would not look like a good play for out to any experienced player.

He must hold a pair or a trio of low cards (counting 5 points each). He did not meld them because they were insufficient for the count. He probably has another wild card in his hand.

In short, he is ready (or nearly ready) to go out if his partner can complete a canasta. However he does not hold any high pair in his hand.

Everybody's talking about Canasta these days. You'd like to get into the conversations and more important, you'd like to know what you're talking about. It's easy to learn with the lively, easy-to-read 1951 INTERNATIONAL LAWS OF CANASTA. Copies are going fast so send 15 cents in coin to Oswald Jacoby, Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 438, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

Mrs. Peter Sampson of Yonkers is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles Sherman.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town of Marbletown American Legion Auxiliary was held Thursday in the Reformed Church Stone Ridge, with a good attendance. Mrs. Frank Pavlik, president, presided. Mrs. Frank Altieri, poppy chairman, announced the following winners of the poppy poster contest: Class 1, first, David Schriner; second, William Pratt, and third, William Lambertson. Class 2, first, Ann Scherrieble, second, Elsie Nilsen, third, Robert Van Wagenen. The auxiliary is selling poppies this week. This sale is to raise money to carry on the work in the veterans hospitals. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Frank Altiere, president; Mrs. Mark Bryant, first vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, second vice-president; Mrs. George Kornstone, secretary; Mrs. Robert Sutton, treasurer; Mrs. Amos Stokes, Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. Frank Esper, executive committee. A special meeting will be held in Lomontville early in June for the installation of the Legion and auxiliary officers. Short memorial services will be held at the honor rolls in Stone Ridge and High Falls on Memorial Day. The next county meeting will be held in the Lake Katrine Grange Hall Thursday, May 31. Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed by the Legion and auxiliary following the meeting.

"Two and two make four," said my friend Alfred Sheinwold, "so two and three should make—how many?"

"Three," I answered, wondering what the catch was.

"Right," he told me, displaying the hand shown today. "Declarer must lose two triump tricks and three diamond tricks. Two plus three equals three, so South makes his contract. Right?"

The arithmetic may be a bit sketchy, but the bridge is certainly accurate enough. Sheinwold knew what he was talking about, since he played the hand and made four spades without any trouble at all.

He won the opening lead in his own hand with the ace of hearts and laid down the ace and king of spades. When West failed to follow on the second trump, Sheinwold gulped and went after the clubs.

Dummy took two top clubs, and Sheinwold ruffed a club in his own hand. He got back to dummy with the king of hearts to ruff another club. Then he ruffed his last heart in dummy, crossing his fingers as he did so.

When East had to follow suit, the contract was home. Declarer merely returned dummy's last club and ruffed for the tenth trick.

Now he gave up the three diamonds and the two trumps tricks—but they all got crammed together into only three tricks. East had to waste his good trumps on two of his partner's high diamonds.

Jacoby on Canasta

ANTICIPATE THE EXPERT'S PLAY

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

We have been watching a good Canasta player in earlier articles this week, and now we're going to climb inside his brain to read his thoughts. He knows more than most players realize.

As you may remember, both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. The pack becomes fairly large, and our hero's right-hand opponent finally makes the following meld from his hand:

Joker-K-K-K, 8-8-2.

We have also noticed that the left-hand oponent has previously discarded two eights. What do we know about the hand of the right-hand opponent? Decide for yourself what you know about that hand, and then we'll read the expert's mind to see what he knows.

To begin with, the melder has some sort of good play for a fast out. Otherwise he would play on without melding. His meld is a signal that he cannot fight for the pack much longer but that he can expect to meld out quickly if he gets the right kind of help.

Does the melder have any additional kings or eights? He certainly has no kings, for he would have been happy to meld a base of four natural kings if he could have done so. He may conceivably have a third eight, but the odds are against it.

He does not have a pair of eights still in his hand, for he would have melded four eights to reach the count of 120 points. That would have allowed him to keep the deuce in his hand for further flexibility.

Do the melder have a pair of aces? No. He would have been delighted to meld joker-ace-ace and the three kings to reach the count. Remember that he is not happy to put down the two eights and a deuce after his partner has discarded two eights.

Does the melder have a pair of queens, jacks, tens, or nines? Very unlikely. He would have melded any such pair with his deuce instead of the eights. He would try for a possible match instead of melding an obvious mismatch.

With all these pairs ruled out, what sort of good play for out can the melder have? He certainly cannot hold four unmatched miscellaneous cards, for that would not look like a good play for out to any experienced player.

He must hold a pair or a trio of low cards (counting 5 points each). He did not meld them because they were insufficient for the count. He probably has another wild card in his hand.

In short, he is ready (or nearly ready) to go out if his partner can complete a canasta. However he does not hold any high pair in his hand.

Everybody's talking about Canasta these days. You'd like to get into the conversations and more important, you'd like to know what you're talking about. It's easy to learn with the lively, easy-to-read 1951 INTERNATIONAL LAWS OF CANASTA. Copies are going fast so send 15 cents in coin to Oswald Jacoby, Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 438, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

Court for Teachers

New York, May 26 (AP)—School teachers will go to court Monday in their fight against a board of education edict that they take part in extra-curricular activities. A. Mark Levien, counsel for the AFL New York Teachers Guild, announced yesterday he would ask the State Supreme Court for a temporary injunction restraining the board from enforcing the new after-class work rule. Thursday the board, acting under a recent state ruling, ordered the teachers to resume after school duties under penalty of possible dismissal. At the same time it granted salary boosts of $250 to $400.

Say Bookies Handled Million in Staten Island

New York, May 26 (AP)—Four persons were arrested in a raid on an inconspicious Staten Island gambling place that took 100 bets an hour for an average play of $1,000,000 a year, police reported today.

The police said the second floor apartment of Francis Cavano, 38, of 140 Newdorp Lane, in a house behind a diner four doors from the Newdorp railroad station, was the scene of the raid.

The raiders reported that in less than an hour after they entered the place on an anonymous tip late yesterday the telephone rang 19 times with the callers "placing 100 bets.

District Attorney Herman Methfessel said the place did a business of from $3,000 to $3,500 on Thursday, which he described as average.

Arrested with Cavano was his wife, Christine, 29; John J. Kinsella, Jr., 34, a clerk and Carlo Coscia, 36, a bartender, police said. They were charged with bookmaking and conspiracy to violate bookmaking laws.

Esopus Post Plans Big Fireworks Show

Elaborate plans are already underway for the big fireworks display scheduled Saturday night, June 30, under the sponsorship of the Town of Esopus, Post 1298, American Legion.

According to Charles Atkins and Reupen Gullian, co-chairman, a gala show is arranged for the Aero Lake Airport grounds, Route 9W, in the Town of Esopus.

Further details will be announced.

New Yorkers Injured

Julius Fox and Dr. Esther Fox, of 315 North 76th street, New York, were taken to Kingston Hospital this noon with injuries suffered when their automobile "careened" over the bank while passing another automobile on the Mt. Tremper curve on the Onteora Trail, Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police reported. Cpl. Dunn said Dr. Fox was reported to have suffered a broken leg, and Mr. Fox, contusions. The car they were passing was driven by John P. Watts, Montvale, N. J., who was not reported injured, Cpl. Dunn said. The accident occurred at 11:20 a. m. today.

Lewis M. Sharp . . .

title. The fight ended about 11:15 p. m. in the fourteenth round, and Sharp was struck and killed at 11:20 p. m. as he was crossing from the Lincoln Park Inn to Guyton street, where he lived with his son, Leslie V. Sharp, authorities reported.

At City Hall this morning, officials and employes were visibly saddened by news of the death of the former custodian, who served with Melvin Wolff on the maintenance staff during the administrations of Harry B. Walker, Conrad J. Heiselman, William F. Edelmuth and the incumbent, Oscar V. Newkirk.

Retired in 1948

Many remembered the date of October 1, 1948, when city officials and employes gathered in the mayor's office to bid farewell to Sharp and to present him with a table model radio.

Sharp at that time said that he had formed many friendships with other employes which he was hesitant to break, "but there comes a time when a man must leave his joy and enjoy a little rest."

Sharp served with the city for 14 years and nine months prior to his retirement. Before that, he worked as shirt ironer at the Fuller Shirt Company, Inc., for more than 26 years.

Lived in City 47 Years

He was born in Middletown, and came to Kingston 47 years ago. His wife, Lena Schwartz Sharp, died in 1946, and since that time he made his home with his son, Leslie.

At the time of Lewis Sharp's retirement, they were living at 197 Downs street. Following retirement, Sharp, then 76, and his son built the house on Guyton street.

Sharp was a member of Ulster Hose Company No. 5, town of Ulster, and Olympia Council No. 14, Daughters of America, of Middletown.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street. Burial will be in Mt. Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday and Monday between 2 and 9 p. m. It was reported from the mayor's office this morning that the flag at the City Hall will be flown at half-staff on Monday and Tuesday out of respect for Sharp.

Evidence has been found that sheep were domesticated in the stone ages.

SHOKAN

Shokan, May 24—The Gideons Society, sponsor of the Bible in hotels and other public places, will bring a message to all three churches of the Ashokan M.E. charge on Sunday, May 27.

The Olive Bridge and Brown's Station units of the Onteora central school district were scheduled to take a trip to Cooperstown on Wednesday, May 23.

Hans Gastrich, present owner of the former E. France property at Oliverea, came up from the city to look over the flood damage there and found that his house was on an island as a result of the mountain stream above Big Indian having changed its course during the freshet.

Mrs. Frank Mouer, the former Ann Didier, is living at Pleasanton, Calif., where her husband is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Mouer, who has many friends in Shokan, has two children, Ross E. and Jo Ann.

Having a birthday Saturday, May 26, is Mrs. James Carpenter who has been coming to Shokan each summer for the past 15 years. The former Anna Louise Loos was born at Inwood, L. I. She attended Lawrence High School and now makes her home in Richmond Hill. She has four children.

Wednesday's rain was noticably beneficial to the grass crop in this section where the May dry spell had begun to assume drouth proportions.

Sherman Lennox, aged Glenford resident who died in Kingston Sunday, had served as a justice of the peace in Hurley for many years in addition to his other public services mentioned in the Freeman. He helped found the Lennox Cemetery at Ashokan and also played a part in the development of Glenford village. Relatives of Mr. Lennox in this section include two nieces, Mrs. Burr Elmendorf, Ashokan, and Mrs. Millard Bell of Brown's.

Work is in progress on the foundations for the new summer home of Stanley Downing of Yonkers who last year bought the old stone schoolhouse lot just south of the village. Downing, who is a cousin of young John Leacock of Shokan, plans to preserve the fireplace and other ruins of the one-room school building which served as a font of learning to barefoot youngsters for miles around, a century and a half ago.

Reds Continue . . .

Twenty-four hours of rain failed to slow allied troops on the western front. They moved their main line almost to 38 and sent a tank patrol beyond it.

Many Kill Selves

B-29s struck supply centers near Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Barn Is to Reopen

length of the room facing the stage is an example of the use of salvable material. Close examination will disclose that the bench is assembled from the seats of the old booths in the dining room, completely refinished and painted. The tables in the room are also from the main dining room, and are also refinished.

Employes of The Barn were kept on the job as much as possible during the time the place was closed to business, Teetsel said, and they assisted in the work.

Would Take $30,000

For the opening night, Teetsel has engaged Clifford Conrad with his "songs in the modern manner."

Water from the flood of March 31 undermined the dining room and inundated the entire building well over the window level. To restore the building to its condition of before the flood would require an estimated $30,000 or more, according to Teetsel.

Bard College Announces Increase in Faculty Pay

Annandale-on-Hudson, May 25—The Board of Trustees of Bard College has approved a series of faculty salary schedule increases ranging from five per cent to eleven per cent, President James H. Case, Jr., announced today. The new schedule will go into effect on July 1, the beginning of the next academic year.

The adjustment, President Case stated, was made in recognition of the continued increase in cost of living and of the necessity to provide more adequate compensation if the quality of the faculty were to be maintained. The new schedule marks the third adjustment upward since the end of World War 2.

Sees U. S. Ready in 1953

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—The United States will be able to meet all the demands of global warfare by the end of 1953, says Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson. "Our readiness will be such as to be intensely discouraging to any aggressor," Wilson said in a prepared speech yesterday. "While we will be fully ready by 1953, that does not constitute an invitation for anyone to monkey with a buzz saw between now and then. Right now we are strong enough to deal out the most punishing blows and our strength grows week by week and month by month."

$165,000 in Bonds

It will provide for express, trucking and other bills and will become a revolving fund annually.

Firemen Ask for Radio

A request was made by the Volunteer Firemen's Association of the county for a study to ascertain the cost and advisability of installing a two way radio service at fire stations in the county and on fire apparatus. This radio service, the request stated would be of invaluable assistance in an emergency. The request was signed by Chief Joseph L. Murphy, chairman of the association committee, Winfield Snyder and Edward F. Mains.

Chairman Roy Denniston appointed on the committee to investigate and report back, Supervisors Charles Relyea, Hurley; Lawrence D. Craft of Wawarsing and Louis Kolano of the Fourth Ward.

A change in the tenure of the budget officer and assistant budget officer was made by the board. Originally the two were appointed for a year. Under the new set up they are appointed to serve at the pleasure of the board. Budget officer is Robert A. Snyder, clerk, and William W. Taylor is the assistant. The salaries are $1,000 and $900 respectively.

On motion of Supervisor Craft of Wawarsing the Home National Bank of Ellenville was added to the list of depositories in which county funds may be deposited. The limit is $100,000.

At the time the cost of living bonus was granted county employes there was a question whether the Supreme Court librarian was a county employe or a judicial employe. It has been determined he is a county employe and therefore was granted a $240 cost of living bonus. An appropriation to that amount was voted.

The board voted $3,000 to black top the parking lot and driveway at the rear of the court house which is used by county employes. The work will be done under the supervision of the county superintendent of highways.

$168,000 for Roads

A list of county roads to be constructed or reconstructed during 1951 was approved and the sum of $168,000 was made available for the work, together with $10,000 for preliminary engineering and surveys.

Supervisor Hulsair offered a resolution that the Sawkill-Ruby road in the town of Kingston be constructed for a distance of 1.8 miles as a town road, the town to pay 5 per cent of the cost and the county 95 per cent. The county's share will be $2,000 and the town $100. Carried.

By a vote of the board it will no longer be necessary to have county bills sworn to before a notary. A verification or certification by the person submitting the bill will be required, stating that the bill is correct.

The board adopted a resolution fixing the amount of fox and bobcat bounties. The bobcat bounty is $5, gray fox $3 and red fox $2 as in the past. The manner of payment of the bounty, however, is changed. In the past the supervisor certified to the bounty and the county treasurer paid the bounty. Under the new setup the town clerk will examine the animal to which the jaw must be attached as in the past and he will punch the ears, certify to the eligibility of the hunter to have the bounty paid and the county treasurer will pay on the certificate. In the city the city clerk will certify as to the eligibility.

Propose Safety Light

Supervisor James Martin of the twelfth ward offered a resolution to the effect that the board petition the state to erect a light on he Higginsville bridge across the Esopus creek where he said there was a "blind" curve which had been responsible for several serious accidents. Concurring with him was Supervisor Boice of the town of Ulster.

Supervisor Williams of the Sixth Ward said he knew of the condition and believed a light would be of great value in preventing accidents and he suggested the city and town erect a light in view of the small cost.

Supervisor Williams of Saugerties said he had written to the state about a light on a bridge near the Thruway junction and had had no results.

Supervisor McHugh of Shawangunk suggested the communication go to the State Traffic Commission. He said an engineer would make an investigation and he said he had had good results from that agency. This was concurred in by Supevisor Wilson of Woodstock who said an immediate survey would be made of the situation by the commission and recommendations would be made immediately and if they thought a light was needed it would be placed. The matter of lights on a state route was not under the jurisdiction of local authorities.

Supervisor Kolano asked for a report from the county attorney on the status of the action of the county against the City of New York in the water damage action. County Attorney Stang stated a preliminary hearing had been held with the city comptroller and the New York corporation counsel. Figures had been submitted and the city asked for detailed figures on damage and cost of repairs to roads and bridges. These figures were being prepared and when submitted the city of New York would then determine whether to honor the claim or whether it would proceed with the legal action and try out the issues.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

The following year, he set up temporary location in the former McSpirit sales and service garage on North Front street, where he remained while the present building on the former Brigham property was being completed.

Stresses Service

The grand opening on June 1 and 2 will be marked with a public inspection of the quarters, during which gifts will be presented to women accompanying their husbands.

Pleased with the new building, Anderson said that its opening marks the first time in his two years here that his organization has had adequate facilities for complete and proper service of automobiles. That is important, he indicated, because in order to keep customers coming back for new cars, it is necessary to provide top service.

Remer Gets Jail Term

Verden, Germany, May 26 (AP)—A German court sentenced Otto Ernst Remer, one of Hitler's generals and now king pin in the Nazi-style Socialist Reich party, to four months in jail yesterday for slandering West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Adenauer requested that the charge be filed against Remer who admitted having said in recent campaign speeches that German cabinet ministers had reserved quarters in London for flight in case West Germany was invaded.

RVA Plans Vital Session on May 31

There will be an important meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post, Regular Veterans Association, Thursday, May 31, at 8 p. m. at the home of Commander George W. Nichols, Bloomington. Every officer and member requested to be present, to elect delegates to the Department of New York RVA convention to be held in Kingston, July 13 and 14.

Nichols, as convention chairman, will appoint the necessary committees as every member will be on some committee.

Plans also will be made to procure quarters in Kingston during the two-day session as it is expected that at least 100 delegates will be present. Word also has been received that National Commander Frank E. McClernan of Washington, D. C., and his executive assistant, Jack Kyle, PNC, will be present as well as Mrs. Rose Spallone, national auxiliary president and staff, as well as many other officials from other departments and posts outside New York state. Many local and state public officials also plan to attend.

At this session the new department officers will be elected and selection made for 1952 convention city. The post hopes that after seeing Kingston's ability to cooperate on this one that they can bring not only the Department convention back for 1952, but also to interest the National officials to consider Kingston for 1952 National RVA convention.

Plans are being made by Chairman Nichols to procure two outstanding speakers on the vital subjects of the Middle East and its lessons to be learned in view of the Soviet danger involved in that area and also on subject of Communistic infiltration technique.

Say Bookies Handled Million in Staten Island

New York, May 26 (AP)—Four persons were arrested in a raid on an inconspicious Staten Island gambling place that took 100 bets an hour for an average play of $1,000,000 a year, police reported today.

The police said the second floor apartment of Francis Cavano, 38, of 140 Newdorp Lane, in a house behind a diner four doors from the Newdorp railroad station, was the scene of the raid.

The raiders reported that in less than an hour after they entered the place on an anonymous tip late yesterday the telephone rang 19 times with the callers "placing 100 bets.

District Attorney Herman Methfessel said the place did a business of from $3,000 to $3,500 on Thursday, which he described as average.

Arrested with Cavano was his wife, Christine, 29; John J. Kinsella, Jr., 34, a clerk and Carlo Coscia, 36, a bartender, police said. They were charged with bookmaking and conspiracy to violate bookmaking laws.

Lewis M. Sharp . . .

title. The fight ended about 11:15 p. m. in the fourteenth round, and Sharp was struck and killed at 11:20 p. m. as he was crossing from the Lincoln Park Inn to Guyton street, where he lived with his son, Leslie V. Sharp, authorities reported.

At City Hall this morning, officials and employes were visibly saddened by news of the death of the former custodian, who served with Melvin Wolff on the maintenance staff during the administrations of Harry B. Walker, Conrad J. Heiselman, William F. Edelmuth and the incumbent, Oscar V. Newkirk.

Retired in 1948

Many remembered the date of October 1, 1948, when city officials and employes gathered in the mayor's office to bid farewell to Sharp and to present him with a table model radio.

Sharp at that time said that he had formed many friendships with other employes which he was hesitant to break, "but there comes a time when a man must leave his joy and enjoy a little rest."

Sharp served with the city for 14 years and nine months prior to his retirement. Before that, he worked as shirt ironer at the Fuller Shirt Company, Inc., for more than 26 years.

Lived in City 47 Years

He was born in Middletown, and came to Kingston 47 years ago. His wife, Lena Schwartz Sharp, died in 1946, and since that time he made his home with his son, Leslie.

At the time of Lewis Sharp's retirement, they were living at 197 Downs street. Following retirement, Sharp, then 76, and his son built the house on Guyton street.

Sharp was a member of Ulster Hose Company No. 5, town of Ulster, and Olympia Council No. 14, Daughters of America, of Middletown.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street. Burial will be in Mt. Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday and Monday between 2 and 9 p. m. It was reported from the mayor's office this morning that the flag at the City Hall will be flown at half-staff on Monday and Tuesday out of respect for Sharp.

Evidence has been found that sheep were domesticated in the stone ages.

SHOKAN

Shokan, May 24—The Gideons Society, sponsor of the Bible in hotels and other public places, will bring a message to all three churches of the Ashokan M.E. charge on Sunday, May 27.

The Olive Bridge and Brown's Station units of the Onteora central school district were scheduled to take a trip to Cooperstown on Wednesday, May 23.

The project of laying up a retaining wall along the steep shale slopes on the north side of the trail at Stony Hollow is now in progress.

Hans Gastrich, present owner of the former E. France property at Oliverea, came up from the city to look over the flood damage there and found that his house was on an island as a result of the mountain stream above Big Indian having changed its course during the freshet.

Mrs. Frank Mouer, the former Ann Didier, is living at Pleasanton, Calif., where her husband is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Mouer, who has many friends in Shokan, has two children, Ross E. and Jo Ann.

Having a birthday Saturday, May 26, is Mrs. James Carpenter who has been coming to Shokan each summer for the past 15 years. The former Anna Louise Loos was born at Inwood, L. I. She attended Lawrence High School and now makes her home in Richmond Hill. She has four children.

Wednesday's rain was noticably beneficial to the grass crop in this section where the May dry spell had begun to assume drouth proportions.

Sherman Lennox, aged Glenford resident who died in Kingston Sunday, had served as a justice of the peace in Hurley for many years in addition to his other public services mentioned in the Freeman. He helped found the Lennox Cemetery at Ashokan and also played a part in the development of Glenford village. Relatives of Mr. Lennox in this section include two nieces, Mrs. Burr Elmendorf, Ashokan, and Mrs. Millard Bell of Brown's.

Work is in progress on the foundations for the new summer home of Stanley Downing of Yonkers who last year bought the old stone schoolhouse lot just south of the village. Downing, who is a cousin of young John Leacock of Shokan, plans to preserve the fireplace and other ruins of the one-room school building which served as a font of learning to barefoot youngsters for miles around, a century and a half ago.

Reds Continue . . .

Twenty-four hours of rain failed to slow allied troops on the western front. They moved their main line almost to 38 and sent a tank patrol beyond it.

Many Kill Selves

Allied fighter bombers mounted 88 sorties in rain and ground-hugging clouds Saturday against Communist targets just north of the front. It was the lowest number of flights since 48 flown April 22.

B-29s struck supply centers near Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Barn Is to Reopen

length of the room facing the stage is an example of the use of salvable material. Close examination will disclose that the bench is assembled from the seats of the old booths in the dining room, completely refinished and painted. The tables in the room are also from the main dining room, and are also refinished.

Employes of The Barn were kept on the job as much as possible during the time the place was closed to business, Teetsel said, and they assisted in the work.

Would Take $30,000

For the opening night, Teetsel has engaged Clifford Conrad with his "songs in the modern manner."

Water from the flood of March 31 undermined the dining room and inundated the entire building well over the window level. To restore the building to its condition of before the flood would require an estimated $30,000 or more, according to Teetsel.

Bard College Announces Increase in Faculty Pay

Annandale-on-Hudson, May 25—The Board of Trustees of Bard College has approved a series of faculty salary schedule increases ranging from five per cent to eleven per cent, President James H. Case, Jr., announced today. The new schedule will go into effect on July 1, the beginning of the next academic year.

The adjustment, President Case stated, was made in recognition of the continued increase in cost of living and of the necessity to provide more adequate compensation if the quality of the faculty were to be maintained. The new schedule marks the third adjustment upward since the end of World War 2.

Sees U. S. Ready in 1953

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—The United States will be able to meet all the demands of global warfare by the end of 1953, says Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson. "Our readiness will be such as to be intensely discouraging to any aggressor," Wilson said in a prepared speech yesterday. "While we will be fully ready by 1953, that does not constitute an invitation for anyone to monkey with a buzz saw between now and then. Right now we are strong enough to deal out the most punishing blows and our strength grows week by week and month by month."

$165,000 in Bonds

It will provide for express, trucking and other bills and will become a revolving fund annually.

Firemen Ask for Radio

A request was made by the Volunteer Firemen's Association of the county for a study to ascertain the cost and advisability of installing a two way radio service at fire stations in the county and on fire apparatus. This radio service, the request stated would be of invaluable assistance in an emergency. The request was signed by Chief Joseph L. Murphy, chairman of the association committee, Winfield Snyder and Edward F. Mains.

Chairman Roy Denniston appointed on the committee to investigate and report back, Supervisors Charles Relyea, Hurley; Lawrence D. Craft of Wawarsing and Louis Kolano of the Fourth Ward.

A change in the tenure of the budget officer and assistant budget officer was made by the board. Originally the two were appointed for a year. Under the new set up they are appointed to serve at the pleasure of the board. Budget officer is Robert A. Snyder, clerk, and William W. Taylor is the assistant. The salaries are $1,000 and $900 respectively.

On motion of Supervisor Craft of Wawarsing the Home National Bank of Ellenville was added to the list of depositories in which county funds may be deposited. The limit is $100,000.

At the time the cost of living bonus was granted county employes there was a question whether the Supreme Court librarian was a county employe or a judicial employe. It has been determined he is a county employe and therefore was granted a $240 cost of living bonus. An appropriation to that amount was voted.

The board voted $3,000 to black top the parking lot and driveway at the rear of the court house which is used by county employes. The work will be done under the supervision of the county superintendent of highways.

$168,000 for Roads

A list of county roads to be constructed or reconstructed during 1951 was approved and the sum of $168,000 was made available for the work, together with $10,000 for preliminary engineering and surveys.

Supervisor Hulsair offered a resolution that the Sawkill-Ruby road in the town of Kingston be constructed for a distance of 1.8 miles as a town road, the town to pay 5 per cent of the cost and the county 95 per cent. The county's share will be $2,000 and the town $100. Carried.

By a vote of the board it will no longer be necessary to have county bills sworn to before a notary. A verification or certification by the person submitting the bill will be required, stating that the bill is correct.

The board adopted a resolution fixing the amount of fox and bobcat bounties. The bobcat bounty is $5, gray fox $3 and red fox $2 as in the past. The manner of payment of the bounty, however, is changed. In the past the supervisor certified to the bounty and the county treasurer paid the bounty. Under the new setup the town clerk will examine the animal to which the jaw must be attached as in the past and he will punch the ears, certify to the eligibility of the hunter to have the bounty paid and the county treasurer will pay on the certificate. In the city the city clerk will certify as to the eligibility.

Propose Safety Light

Supervisor James Martin of the twelfth ward offered a resolution to the effect that the board petition the state to erect a light on he Higginsville bridge across the Esopus creek where he said there was a "blind" curve which had been responsible for several serious accidents. Concurring with him was Supervisor Boice of the town of Ulster.

Supervisor Williams of the Sixth Ward said he knew of the condition and believed a light would be of great value in preventing accidents and he suggested the city and town erect a light in view of the small cost.

Supervisor Williams of Saugerties said he had written to the state about a light on a bridge near the Thruway junction and had had no results.

Supervisor McHugh of Shawangunk suggested the communication go to the State Traffic Commission. He said an engineer would make an investigation and he said he had had good results from that agency. This was concurred in by Supevisor Wilson of Woodstock who said an immediate survey would be made of the situation by the commission and recommendations would be made immediately and if they thought a light was needed it would be placed. The matter of lights on a state route was not under the jurisdiction of local authorities.

Supervisor Kolano asked for a report from the county attorney on the status of the action of the county against the City of New York in the water damage action. County Attorney Stang stated a preliminary hearing had been held with the city comptroller and the New York corporation counsel. Figures had been submitted and the city asked for detailed figures on damage and cost of repairs to roads and bridges. These figures were being prepared and when submitted the city of New York would then determine whether to honor the claim or whether it would proceed with the legal action and try out the issues.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Remer Gets Jail Term

Verden, Germany, May 26 (AP)—A German court sentenced Otto Ernst Remer, one of Hitler's generals and now king pin in the Nazi-style Socialist Reich party, to four months in jail yesterday for slandering West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Adenauer requested that the charge be filed against Remer who admitted having said in recent campaign speeches that German cabinet ministers had reserved quarters in London for flight in case West Germany was invaded.

RVA Plans Vital Session on May 31

There will be an important meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post, Regular Veterans Association, Thursday, May 31, at 8 p. m. at the home of Commander George W. Nichols, Bloomington. Every officer and member requested to be present, to elect delegates to the Department of New York RVA convention to be held in Kingston, July 13 and 14.

Nichols, as convention chairman, will appoint the necessary committees as every member will be on some committee.

Plans also will be made to procure quarters in Kingston during the two-day session as it is expected that at least 100 delegates will be present. Word also has been received that National Commander Frank E. McClernan of Washington, D. C., and his executive assistant, Jack Kyle, PNC, will be present as well as Mrs. Rose Spallone, national auxiliary president and staff, as well as many other officials from other departments and posts outside New York state. Many local and state public officials also plan to attend.

At this session the new department officers will be elected and selection made for 1952 convention city. The post hopes that after seeing Kingston's ability to cooperate on this one that they can bring not only the Department convention back for 1952, but also to interest the National officials to consider Kingston for 1952 National RVA convention.

Plans are being made by Chairman Nichols to procure two outstanding speakers on the vital subjects of the Middle East and its lessons to be learned in view of the Soviet danger involved in that area and also on subject of Communistic infiltration technique.

Say Bookies Handled Million in Staten Island

New York, May 26 (AP)—Four persons were arrested in a raid on an inconspicious Staten Island gambling place that took 100 bets an hour for an average play of $1,000,000 a year, police reported today.

The police said the second floor apartment of Francis Cavano, 38, of 140 Newdorp Lane, in a house behind a diner four doors from the Newdorp railroad station, was the scene of the raid.

The raiders reported that in less than an hour after they entered the place on an anonymous tip late yesterday the telephone rang 19 times with the callers "placing 100 bets.

District Attorney Herman Methfessel said the place did a business of from $3,000 to $3,500 on Thursday, which he described as average.

Arrested with Cavano was his wife, Christine, 29; John J. Kinsella, Jr., 34, a clerk and Carlo Coscia, 36, a bartender, police said. They were charged with bookmaking and conspiracy to violate bookmaking laws.

Lewis M. Sharp . . .

title. The fight ended about 11:15 p. m. in the fourteenth round, and Sharp was struck and killed at 11:20 p. m. as he was crossing from the Lincoln Park Inn to Guyton street, where he lived with his son, Leslie V. Sharp, authorities reported.

At City Hall this morning, officials and employes were visibly saddened by news of the death of the former custodian, who served with Melvin Wolff on the maintenance staff during the administrations of Harry B. Walker, Conrad J. Heiselman, William F. Edelmuth and the incumbent, Oscar V. Newkirk.

Retired in 1948

Many remembered the date of October 1, 1948, when city officials and employes gathered in the mayor's office to bid farewell to Sharp and to present him with a table model radio.

Sharp at that time said that he had formed many friendships with other employes which he was hesitant to break, "but there comes a time when a man must leave his joy and enjoy a little rest."

Sharp served with the city for 14 years and nine months prior to his retirement. Before that, he worked as shirt ironer at the Fuller Shirt Company, Inc., for more than 26 years.

Lived in City 47 Years

He was born in Middletown, and came to Kingston 47 years ago. His wife, Lena Schwartz Sharp, died in 1946, and since that time he made his home with his son, Leslie.

At the time of Lewis Sharp's retirement, they were living at 197 Downs street. Following retirement, Sharp, then 76, and his son built the house on Guyton street.

Sharp was a member of Ulster Hose Company No. 5, town of Ulster, and Olympia Council No. 14, Daughters of America, of Middletown.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street. Burial will be in Mt. Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday and Monday between 2 and 9 p. m. It was reported from the mayor's office this morning that the flag at the City Hall will be flown at half-staff on Monday and Tuesday out of respect for Sharp.

Evidence has been found that sheep were domesticated in the stone ages.

SHOKAN

Shokan, May 24—The Gideons Society, sponsor of the Bible in hotels and other public places, will bring a message to all three churches of the Ashokan M.E. charge on Sunday, May 27.

The Olive Bridge and Brown's Station units of the Onteora central school district were scheduled to take a trip to Cooperstown on Wednesday, May 23.

The project of laying up a retaining wall along the steep shale slopes on the north side of the trail at Stony Hollow is now in progress.

Hans Gastrich, present owner of the former E. France property at Oliverea, came up from the city to look over the flood damage there and found that his house was on an island as a result of the mountain stream above Big Indian having changed its course during the freshet.

Mrs. Frank Mouer, the former Ann Didier, is living at Pleasanton, Calif., where her husband is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Mouer, who has many friends in Shokan, has two children, Ross E. and Jo Ann.

Having a birthday Saturday, May 26, is Mrs. James Carpenter who has been coming to Shokan each summer for the past 15 years. The former Anna Louise Loos was born at Inwood, L. I. She attended Lawrence High School and now makes her home in Richmond Hill. She has four children.

Wednesday's rain was noticably beneficial to the grass crop in this section where the May dry spell had begun to assume drouth proportions.

Sherman Lennox, aged Glenford resident who died in Kingston Sunday, had served as a justice of the peace in Hurley for many years in addition to his other public services mentioned in the Freeman. He helped found the Lennox Cemetery at Ashokan and also played a part in the development of Glenford village. Relatives of Mr. Lennox in this section include two nieces, Mrs. Burr Elmendorf, Ashokan, and Mrs. Millard Bell of Brown's.

Work is in progress on the foundations for the new summer home of Stanley Downing of Yonkers who last year bought the old stone schoolhouse lot just south of the village. Downing, who is a cousin of young John Leacock of Shokan, plans to preserve the fireplace and other ruins of the one-room school building which served as a font of learning to barefoot youngsters for miles around, a century and a half ago.

Twenty-four hours of rain failed to slow allied troops on the western front. They moved their main line almost to 38 and sent a tank patrol beyond it.

Many Kill Selves

Allied fighter bombers mounted 88 sorties in rain and ground-hugging clouds Saturday against Communist targets just north of the front. It was the lowest number of flights since 48 flown April 22.

B-29s struck supply centers near Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Barn Is to Reopen

length of the room facing the stage is an example of the use of salvable material. Close examination will disclose that the bench is assembled from the seats of the old booths in the dining room, completely refinished and painted. The tables in the room are also from the main dining room, and are also refinished.

Employes of The Barn were kept on the job as much as possible during the time the place was closed to business, Teetsel said, and they assisted in the work.

Would Take $30,000

For the opening night, Teetsel has engaged Clifford Conrad with his "songs in the modern manner."

Water from the flood of March 31 undermined the dining room and inundated the entire building well over the window level. To restore the building to its condition of before the flood would require an estimated $30,000 or more, according to Teetsel.

Bard College Announces Increase in Faculty Pay

Annandale-on-Hudson, May 25—The Board of Trustees of Bard College has approved a series of faculty salary schedule increases ranging from five per cent to eleven per cent, President James H. Case, Jr., announced today. The new schedule will go into effect on July 1, the beginning of the next academic year.

The adjustment, President Case stated, was made in recognition of the continued increase in cost of living and of the necessity to provide more adequate compensation if the quality of the faculty were to be maintained. The new schedule marks the third adjustment upward since the end of World War 2.

Sees U. S. Ready in 1953

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—The United States will be able to meet all the demands of global warfare by the end of 1953, says Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson. "Our readiness will be such as to be intensely discouraging to any aggressor," Wilson said in a prepared speech yesterday. "While we will be fully ready by 1953, that does not constitute an invitation for anyone to monkey with a buzz saw between now and then. Right now we are strong enough to deal out the most punishing blows and our strength grows week by week and month by month."

$165,000 in Bonds

Firemen Ask for Radio

A request was made by the Volunteer Firemen's Association of the county for a study to ascertain the cost and advisability of installing a two way radio service at fire stations in the county and on fire apparatus. This radio service, the request stated would be of invaluable assistance in an emergency. The request was signed by Chief Joseph L. Murphy, chairman of the association committee, Winfield Snyder and Edward F. Mains.

Chairman Roy Denniston appointed on the committee to investigate and report back, Supervisors Charles Relyea, Hurley; Lawrence D. Craft of Wawarsing and Louis Kolano of the Fourth Ward.

A change in the tenure of the budget officer and assistant budget officer was made by the board. Originally the two were appointed for a year. Under the new set up they are appointed to serve at the pleasure of the board. Budget officer is Robert A. Snyder, clerk, and William W. Taylor is the assistant. The salaries are $1,000 and $900 respectively.

On motion of Supervisor Craft of Wawarsing the Home National Bank of Ellenville was added to the list of depositories in which county funds may be deposited. The limit is $100,000.

At the time the cost of living bonus was granted county employes there was a question whether the Supreme Court librarian was a county employe or a judicial employe. It has been determined he is a county employe and therefore was granted a $240 cost of living bonus. An appropriation to that amount was voted.

The board voted $3,000 to black top the parking lot and driveway at the rear of the court house which is used by county employes. The work will be done under the supervision of the county superintendent of highways.

$168,000 for Roads

A list of county roads to be constructed or reconstructed during 1951 was approved and the sum of $168,000 was made available for the work, together with $10,000 for preliminary engineering and surveys.

Supervisor Hulsair offered a resolution that the Sawkill-Ruby road in the town of Kingston be constructed for a distance of 1.8 miles as a town road, the town to pay 5 per cent of the cost and the county 95 per cent. The county's share will be $2,000 and the town $100. Carried.

By a vote of the board it will no longer be necessary to have county bills sworn to before a notary. A verification or certification by the person submitting the bill will be required, stating that the bill is correct.

The board adopted a resolution fixing the amount of fox and bobcat bounties. The bobcat bounty is $5, gray fox $3 and red fox $2 as in the past. The manner of payment of the bounty, however, is changed. In the past the supervisor certified to the bounty and the county treasurer paid the bounty. Under the new setup the town clerk will examine the animal to which the jaw must be attached as in the past and he will punch the ears, certify to the eligibility of the hunter to have the bounty paid and the county treasurer will pay on the certificate. In the city the city clerk will certify as to the eligibility.

Propose Safety Light

Supervisor James Martin of the twelfth ward offered a resolution to the effect that the board petition the state to erect a light on he Higginsville bridge across the Esopus creek where he said there was a "blind" curve which had been responsible for several serious accidents. Concurring with him was Supervisor Boice of the town of Ulster.

Supervisor Williams of the Sixth Ward said he knew of the condition and believed a light would be of great value in preventing accidents and he suggested the city and town erect a light in view of the small cost.

Supervisor Williams of Saugerties said he had written to the state about a light on a bridge near the Thruway junction and had had no results.

Supervisor McHugh of Shawangunk suggested the communication go to the State Traffic Commission. He said an engineer would make an investigation and he said he had had good results from that agency. This was concurred in by Supevisor Wilson of Woodstock who said an immediate survey would be made of the situation by the commission and recommendations would be made immediately and if they thought a light was needed it would be placed. The matter of lights on a state route was not under the jurisdiction of local authorities.

Supervisor Kolano asked for a report from the county attorney on the status of the action of the county against the City of New York in the water damage action. County Attorney Stang stated a preliminary hearing had been held with the city comptroller and the New York corporation counsel. Figures had been submitted and the city asked for detailed figures on damage and cost of repairs to roads and bridges. These figures were being prepared and when submitted the city of New York would then determine whether to honor the claim or whether it would proceed with the legal action and try out the issues.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Pleased with the new building, Anderson said that its opening marks the first time in his two years here that his organization has had adequate facilities for complete and proper service of automobiles. That is important, he indicated, because in order to keep customers coming back for new cars, it is necessary to provide top service.

Remer Gets Jail Term

Verden, Germany, May 26 (AP)—A German court sentenced Otto Ernst Remer, one of Hitler's generals and now king pin in the Nazi-style Socialist Reich party, to four months in jail yesterday for slandering West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Adenauer requested that the charge be filed against Remer who admitted having said in recent campaign speeches that German cabinet ministers had reserved quarters in London for flight in case West Germany was invaded.

RVA Plans Vital Session on May 31

There will be an important meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post, Regular Veterans Association, Thursday, May 31, at 8 p. m. at the home of Commander George W. Nichols, Bloomington. Every officer and member requested to be present, to elect delegates to the Department of New York RVA convention to be held in Kingston, July 13 and 14.

Nichols, as convention chairman, will appoint the necessary committees as every member will be on some committee.

Plans also will be made to procure quarters in Kingston during the two-day session as it is expected that at least 100 delegates will be present. Word also has been received that National Commander Frank E. McClernan of Washington, D. C., and his executive assistant, Jack Kyle, PNC, will be present as well as Mrs. Rose Spallone, national auxiliary president and staff, as well as many other officials from other departments and posts outside New York state. Many local and state public officials also plan to attend.

At this session the new department officers will be elected and selection made for 1952 convention city. The post hopes that after seeing Kingston's ability to cooperate on this one that they can bring not only the Department convention back for 1952, but also to interest the National officials to consider Kingston for 1952 National RVA convention.

Plans are being made by Chairman Nichols to procure two outstanding speakers on the vital subjects of the Middle East and its lessons to be learned in view of the Soviet danger involved in that area and also on subject of Communistic infiltration technique.

Bradley to Visit 'Ike'

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley is leaving soon for conferences with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Paris and with British and American military chiefs in England. The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff announced yesterday he will leave June 1 and expects to be back in Washington by June 11.

RADIATORS
CLEANED AND REPAIRED
Now is the time to let us overhaul your radiator so that it will be in "tip-top" condition for those rides in the country. Overheated or boiling radiators are dangerous and cause considerable wear and trouble to pistons, valves, etc. Come in today and let us save you some money before it is too late.
